The case has gone as follows:

A man from Tenessee brought a slave with him—perhaps a year or more since. The negro chose to think himself his own owner, and walked whither he listed. The master wishing to selurn, desired to take the boy, but mistrusting legal aid, he seized friends interposed, and old Habeas Corpus brought the case before Judge Morrison. This morning (April 1) the Judge gave his decision, liberating the buy, and hinting at the lishility incurred by the claimant as a kidnapper; whereupon measures were instantly taken to arrest the gentleman. This will prevent him from sailing in the steamer of to day, as he designed. The decision of Judge Morrison, and the subsequent proceedings, will do incalculable good in settling other cases, and putting a stop to all kidnapping.
