ARRIVAL OF THE CAMBRIA.

The Steamship Cambria, from Liverpool, with dates to the 1st inst., arrived at 8 o'clock this morning...

The English people were paying marked respect to Kosuth. He made a public visit to the city of London on the 20th ultimo, and was received with great honor and much enthusiasm...

He will leave Southampton, with his family and suite, on the 13th inst., in the steamer Washington, for the United States.

The grand banquet Kosuth, at Southampton, had passed off very brilliantly. The number of persons present was very large and the enthusiasm unbounded.

London Times continues its attacks on Kosuth, and has, to some extent, effected a public opinion among the more cautious classes, and those who are jealous of their reputation as affected by their associations.

English has made an urgent appeal to the Admiralty to send a frigate to the coast of the United States to explore the passage which Capt. Penny believes to exist, and which it is thought Sir John Franklin has taken. This appeal is strongly seconded by a number of the London Journals, and many persons of influence.

The Perfect has notified the citizens of Paris that he may need their services in the case of order, and has invited them to hold themselves in readiness at a moment's notice.

Mr. McClellan, in a charge upon the subject of the Cuban Expedition, says there never was an invasion among civilized nations less excusable: "A deep and abiding respect for the law has been before the eyes of our countrymen. In that contest our strength, those who are unacquainted with the principles of our Government seem natural foes."

Our institution can be maintained only on a moral basis. The Government, if it is to be maintained, must be maintained by physical power. And if our Government is to be maintained, it must be maintained by moral power.

Mr. Edwards said we must put the Baltimore Bank through next on the 16th of May we met in Baltimore Mr. Edwards and me to draw a check for $15,000, signed Koths, Cole & Co. he gave me the money to get the money for him. I refused to do it. He said he was afraid of me. I said I was afraid of nothing, but I will not take this check; by that, says Edwards, I will go in the bank and get some gold for some paper money; I then agreed to do and take the check; he told me to let him go and get some gold and when they are paying the gold you present the check; I did so. The cashier merely looked at the check and told me to take it; he gave me two thousand dollars in one hundred dollar notes and the rest in five hundred dollar notes; Edwards said there some time afterwards, in order to detect any suspicious persons, he went to the bank in Winchester, Ohio, and Cincinnati; we were in Cincinnati in January, 1811; remained there about four days; Edwards and myself forged a check on the Gas Light Company Bank, belonging to Hodge & Co. I signed Hodge, as President, and Edwards signed Willis; the cashier of the bank of the check, which had been done before the check would be good; Hunt signed the cashier's name; Hunt took the check and drew the money; the amount was $20,000; I got $5000; Edwards said he despised a check that was drawn for less than $20,000; he either wanted to draw a big note or none at all.

We then went to Louisville together; Hunt and Edwards forged a check on Hiram Goodrich for $30,000; Edwards presented it at an exchange office at a heavy discount for the money; the bank offered it did not have that amount in its office; I waited after banking hours until the reason for the delay at a discount; but would take the money; the cashier of the bank was drawn on; we went to the cashier; I presented it, he told me he would go to the President, we saw him; I presented it, and he ordered it paid; they would not give me any of that money; we quarrelled and separated; they went to New Orleans, and I in another direction.

The check on the New Orleans and Mobile banks; they returned to New York and forged a note there, which caused his conviction; I was not interested in the three last crimes; not having time, I am compelled to close my confession in relation to Edwards and Hunt.

On the scaffold this fellow made another confession, in which he said that he had been in California in his villainous life. His last confession we believe to be occasioned by spite, because these persons did not interfere to save him. In his last confession he said his name was Wm. Benjamin Heppard.

It appears that Robinson was found on the mountain side, on his way to Oregon, which seems rather strange, after years of successful villainy, making his thousands.

Death of the Elephant Columbus.—The Pittsburgh (Pa.) Star gives the following account of the death of the Elephant Columbus.

The Elephant Columbus, attached to the menagerie of Raymond & Co. and Herr Driebach, died at Lenoix, in this county, on Saturday.

Columbus is said to have been the largest and most valuable elephant in the United States. He is now reported to have been one hundred years old. His weight was five tons, and he was valued at $15,000. When crossing one of the streams in Adams, the bridge gave way, and the elephant was precipitated some fifteen feet into the water. The injury received in consequence of the accident is said to have caused his death, and it is rumored that the owners of the animal have prosecuted the town of Adams for damages.

Coffee in North Carolina.—The Million (N.C.) Chronicle says.—We were shown recently a parcel of Coffee, fully matured, that grew in the midst of the shrubbery that decorates Dr. John T. Garland's yard; about a mile from this town. It looked as natural as the imported article. The shrub that produced this coffee is but two years old and bears prolifically. The tree sprouted from a grain of coffee which was planted on the north side of the house.

A Meteor.—A very singular meteor was observed passing over the west part of the city of Schenectady, N.Y., on Sunday evening. It appeared to emit itself perpendicularly from a dark cloud, expanded and contracted, and was followed by a long and brilliant train. The color was an intense bluish white. A young gentleman directly beneath it, received a sharp electric shock. No report of an explosion was heard.

An Indian Avenger.—There is a recent number of the Minnesota Democrat, an able and interesting sketch entitled "The Rocky Mountain Lion," from the pen of the Chief of the Half-Breed Company of the Northwest. The author was last year a member of the Legislature of that territory, and is said to possess fine talents. He is within a sound and enlightened Democrat.

PENNSYLVANIA, SS.

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

BY WM. F. JOHNSTON, Governor of the said Commonwealth.

A PROCLAMATION. THE promise that "good time and harvest shall not cease" has again been fulfilled: A God of infinite goodness has watched over and cared for us as a People, during another year.

Deeply impressed with the propriety of the duty and its acceptance with yearning custom, I, William F. Johnston, Governor of the said Commonwealth, do hereby appoint and designate

THURSDAY, THE 27TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, NEXT as a day of general THANKSGIVING throughout the State; and I hereby recommend and earnestly invite all the good People of this Commonwealth to a serene and devout observance of the same.

IN PHILADELPHIA.—The Philadelphia papers of yesterday give accounts of two cases of shocking brutality.

In one case, two Irish women, named Matilda Hamilton and Jane Bradley, were charged with cruelly beating a boy named Charles Hamilton, only eight years of age, the son of the former.

The other parties were Germans. Andrew Weiss and his wife, living in Meredith street above Center, were charged with beating, in a most brutal manner, their daughter, a child of about ten years of age. In this case the poor victim bore the marks of the savage brutality of its unnatural parents, its body being covered with bruises, and amputated from starvation.

The Sierra Madre Revolution.—Gen. Carvajal, who leads the Sierra Madre Revolution, it is said, was educated at Lexington, Kentucky. The Matamoros correspondent of the Delta gives the following account of some Americans who were conspicuous among the insurgents:

Major J. S. McTee is the Adjutant General of the auxiliaries, and extra, with his energy, as much as he did the Cuban cause. Col. Ford was wounded in the head on the third of fourth day. He is the Richard O'Neil de Leon of this frontier. Capt. Walker is the guiding star of his little company, and has himself been occasionally a name in the Cent. Herald.

The following toast was given at a Printer's supper in Indiana:—"The Printer—Independent as a wood-sawyer, proud as Lucifer, poor as Job's servants, and the paragon of intelligence."

HEALTH OF EUROPE.—The Emperor of Austria, it is said, is so extremely weak, that it is impossible for him, just at present, to get up alone (a loan).

Marriages.

On Thursday last, by the same, Mr. John Sprinz to Miss Elizabeth, all of this county.

A MASS MEETING.

A MEETING of the citizens of the county of Cumberland, is hereby called on the 27th inst., to take into consideration the following subjects, viz:

1. The expediency of enforcing the existing laws of our State against the sale of intoxicating liquors as an ordinary beverage on the Sabbath.

2. The expediency of a law for the entire suppression of the sale of intoxicating liquors as an ordinary beverage, similar to that now in force in two States of the Union, the private possession of intoxicating liquors as an ordinary beverage.

In calling this meeting, the subscribers do not intend to imply that their views are already formed in favor of any particular mode of action. They only know that some action on these subjects is imperatively needed in this region.

The meeting will convene at 9 o'clock. Also, in the evening, at 7 o'clock. The Grand Jury and Judges of our county have just spoken decidedly in favor of the law respecting the sale on the Sabbath. We therefore invite all citizens of every age, sex and condition, whether friends of the proposed laws or of any previous organizations relating to temperance or not, to come to the proposed meeting, that every one may give his views as much light on these subjects as he can obtain.

No pledges will be solicited, but efforts will be previously made to procure documents and speakers who can give as much information as possible on the subjects under discussion.
