BY JOHN B. BRATTON. VOL. 38. Poetical. The following is from the French of M. De Lamartine.

INNES OF INNES. For a long period the family of Innes was one of the most noble in the county of Moray...

Miscellaneous. THE THREE BRIDES. A THRILLING STORY.

Do you see," said the sexton, "those three hillocks under yonder side? There sleep three brides whose history I am about to relate.

DOY MANUEL GODDY. The following curious sketch of part of a stranger's varied life, taken from the feuilleton of a Parisian journal of Oct. 14.

Years rolled away, and the old man died. He died when a sudden storm convulsed the face of nature...

"Yes, it was really he—that humble promoter of the Palais Royal. And after all, why wonder at his metamorphosis in this age of startling downfalls...

The City Boy-Man. Boys of the present age: you congratulate you on your extraordinary precocity!

A GOOD SCHOOLMASTER. The following excellent story is told of a New York Schoolmaster:

The Tiger and Dog. In Saigon, where dogs are dog-eaten, we used to give the tigress once every day...

Fastidious Taste. An amusing little incident occurred at the Wright House last evening.

The First Baby. In a novel, "The Glance," recently published, occurs the following striking picture of domestic felicity...
