

ODDS AND ENDS.

THE NEWSPAPER PRESS.—The Boston Commonwealth truly remarks that the Press is the vitality of Progress. The Party of Progress must and will support it. It is its duty to report, and it is its duty to be worthy of their support. The Party of Stagnation may well be excused from cultivating or caring about the press. Old news is just as good for them as new. We wonder at their having newspapers at all. Books bound in calf would be more appropriate.

When it was told to the Rev. Sydney Smith that it was intended to pay St. Paul's churchyard with blocks, his answer was, that he thought there would be so difficulty in the matter, if the Dean and the Chapter would put their heads together.

DEAN SWIFT says he never knew a man rise to eminence who lay in bed of a morning; and Dr. Franklin says, "who rises late may trot all day but never overtake his business."

Nothing else so gracefully upon children, and makes them so lovely, as habitual respect and dutiful deportment towards their parents and their superiors.

A YANKEE, who went over to the mother country some time ago, and who was asked, on coming back, how he liked Great Britain? "Well," he said, "it is a very nice country, exceeding fertile, well cultivated, very populous, and very wealthy, but, said the Yankee, 'I never liked to take a morning walk after breakfast, because the country is so small that I was always afraid of walking off the edge.'

As the world seldom judges charitably, and looks rather to our acts than our motives and intentions, St. Paul very wisely enjoins upon us to avoid even the appearance of evil.

The velvet moss will grow on a sterile rock, the mistletoe flourishes on the naked branches, the ivy clings to the mouldering ruins, the pine and cedar remain fresh and verdant amid the meditations of the receding year; and, like the mistletoe, the ivy, the pine and cedar are grateful to the soul, will, in the darkest hour of fate, still twine its tendrils around the crumbling pillars and broken arches of the desolate temples of the human heart!

The proverb that cures, like young chickens, come home to roost, is exemplified in South Africa, where the Hottentots are said to be constructing the British troops with bloodhounds!

After a careful consideration of all the arguments for and against capital punishment, we have come to the conclusion that the "doubt of nature" should not be paid if it cannot be paid without an execution.

A wit is not easily silenced. M. Sadrin, the Viennese humorist, demanded, on his trial, whether it was reasonable to repeat the Lord's Prayer, for the words "deliver us from evil" should be construed into a prayer to get rid of the government!

A QUESTION OF PROPERTY.—A Western editor asks, "If a sheep is harnessed to a plow, is it not a plow, is his harnessed to a plow?" Not only so, but also.

"Where do you get your skeletons?" was the inquiry made of a doctor. "We raise them," was the reply.

Since Time, says Goethe, is not a person whom we can overtake when he is past, let us honor him with mirth and cheerfulness while he is passing.

LITTLE THINGS.—You have stolen my heart, divine one! exclaimed Mr. Slickly to his adored. "Paradise is reserved for the latter," I am not in the habit of picking up little things."

A BLUE BEARD.—The Cincinnati Commercial says there is a man in that city who has buried three wives and two children, all within the brief space of three months. And it has reason to know, too, that he will be married again before Christmas!

An old maid was heard to exclaim, while sitting at her toilet the other day, "I can bear adversity, I can encounter hardship, I can withstand the changes of a fickle fortune, but O, to live and drop and wilt and die like a single pink, I can't endure it, and what's more, I won't!"

SQUARE ACRES.—To lay out an acre square, 206 feet on each side is the nearest amount that will make an acre, being less than an inch square over the exact distance, 44,000 superficial feet, or 508.95 feet on each side constitute an acre of ground.

ANIEL.—In using the expression "anien," which habit has rendered trivial, few persons recollect its real origin and meaning, and that in pronouncing it, they recommend their friend to Dieu, to the protection of God.

A WARNING.—A Western paper relates a story of one of its subscribers, who refused to pay his newspaper bill, dying under suspicious circumstances, and upon a coroner's inquest being held, it was ascertained that his death was caused by being beaten by his wife with a broomstick.—Mark the fate of the man who cheats the Printer!

The promise of a shilling fiddle will keep a school boy happy for a year. The fun connected with his possession will not last an hour. Next day the fiddle of school boys is equally true of men. All they differ in is the price of their fiddles.

A PLAIN, honest fellow applied to an attorney for legal advice. After detailing the circumstances of the case, he was asked if he had stated the facts exactly as they occurred. "Yes, sir," said he, "you can put the lie in you!"

When your wife begins to scold, let her take it out. Put your feet up coolly over the fireplace—roll back in your chair—light one of your best cigars—smoke the storm rage on. Say nothing—make no answer to anything.

Dr. I. C. Loomis,
