The, Small Note Law. The House of Representatives, on Monday last, during the presentation of petitions, Mr. James of Warren, handed the Chair a presentment of the Grand Jury of Warren county, of the law prohibiting the circulation of small notes, as a nui-sance, which, on his call was read. Mr. BROOMALL moved that it be laid on the ta-lo. Mr. James hoped it would not be thus disposed of. It came from a respectable body of his con-stituents, whe were entitled to at least respection treatment which, cold only be awarded by refer-ring their communication to the committee on Mr. BROOMALL did not make his metter to the standard of the standard by refer-ring their communication to the committee on Mr. BROOMALL did not make his metter to the standard of the Oanks. Mr. BRoostatt did not make his motion because he was opposed to the object of the paper in ques. iton, but because he did not conceive that a Grand Jury had a right to present as a nuisance any law

 The Parts excision data and the second part of the spin of the second data and the second dat Mr. B. read the sinal note law, and showcognat it was imperative on grand juries to make present-ment of its infractions, and that by pursuing the opposite course of approving the violations by pre-senting the law, as had been done by this Warren jury, they were acting in utter disregard of their duty, and of their oaths. As to the law itself, so far as Mr. B. had noticed its constriction it had had the effect designed by those its operation, it had had the effect designed by those Its operation, it had had the extert designed by those who enacted it, of keeping small notes out of cir-culation, and of filling their place with specie, a safer and better currency. Its influence, he belle-ved, was generally salutary, except perhaps in some of the border countion whose business inter-course was with other States where these notes cir-culate the archiver of species. And even in course was with other States where these notes cir-culate to the exclusion of specie. And even in these counties it would be much botter were our people to exert a little firmness and resist the in-troduction of small notes, which were almost infi-nite in their variety, origin and values—some wild cat bills, some red backs; some very good, others very bad; some genuine, others not; and with the masses of circulators no means of distinguishing and avoiding frauds, losses and impositions. Mr: B, concluded by again referring to the unwarrant-ble and illegal course of the Warren grand jury and recommended the laying of the presentment on the table. On Monday morning last, Mr. JOHN M. January 22, 1852. Bronkville Democrat. She took with her a young child and started to a neighbor's. After being out a while, he started a little girl, of six years after the mother. The child was thinly clad, and start-ed on her errand. Reaching a small stream, she couldn't get over it and turned towards home.— The Democrat says she had almost reached home in safety, but in attempting to climb the fonce around the house, a rail slipped from its place throwing her to the starth and falling across her neck. In this position she was found by her fa-ther the next morning, dead, and cold as the snow drifts around her. Without lifting the rail or.re-moving the corpse into his house, the brute started for an officer to hold an inquest over the body.
