Mr. Gentry, of Tennessee, who is acknowledged to be the ablest whig. in Georgrass, and one of the strongest stump speakers in the South, thus speaks of Geni-Boott and the prospects of his election. The Scott intibulism is certainly working:

"Now, although it is due to Gen. Scott to say—as I do believe to be 'froe—that his milltary career had been more brilliant than that of either of these distinguished georgies, or that his milltary career had been more brilliant than that of either of these distinguished georgies, or that his milltary career had been more brilliant than that of either of these distinguished georgies, or that his free that been more washington's day; yet it is a fact that been to be described by the same of availability, that somehow or else somehow—I will not undertake to explain and absided the his not, in his personal character those attributes and qualities which make the people love him sayinary leved Itaksee, Histone and Taylor—Tayly admire him sar a millisary here, but that is the beginning and the end of it. The idea of his availability will ture out to be the greatest possible mistake. He will prove to be the weakest man ever run for the Presidency. He will be more everwhelmingly defeated, in my opinion, than any man who has ever been placed in that position by any considerable political organization. Why is it that the Whig party cannot nationalize itself by running him for the Presidency I. Because of the auspices under which he has been made a candidate, and the course he has thought proper to pursue."

"My present impression is, that I shall deem it more consistent with my pride of character to stand aloof from the contest. But if I thought one man's vote, or one man's influence were necessary to east the vote of Tennessee for Pierce and King, my voice and vote should be given to them unhestualingly.—And any gentleman who dreams that any Southern State will cast its vote for Gen. Scott in the next Presidential election, dreams, in my opinion, a dream that will never be resisted."

Never Thought Of.

The whigs say that Gen. Pierce was never though of before his nomination as a candidate for the Presi dency. To show the error of this as well as the opinion entertained of Gen. Pierce at home, we copy the following from the Manchester (N. II.) American, (whig.) of last May:

"GEN. PIERCE FOR PRESIDENT.—Matters have now arrived at that stage that this gentleman may fairly be reckoned as likely to be a candidate for the Presidency. We should consider it a misfortune to the whigs of this State, were his nomination to take place; but after all not an irreparable calamity were he to be elected. He is without doubt one of the ablest men in the Democratic party.—Some months ago, at Washington, we heard an eminent Whig member of Congress remark, that he thought there was a very strong probability that Gen. Pierce would be the man upon whom the Democratic party would at last settle. There are few men who in their general demonor, and intercourse among men, exert a stronger personal influence than he." The above Drill is not liable to get out of repair, is exceedingly himple in its construction, will sow point rows in all irregular shaped fields, and possesses superior advintages to all others in the case and quickness with which it can be regulated to sow any desired quantity of grain care, while the draft upon the horses is twenty-five per cent, lighter, and consequently, with the same labor, can seed one fourth more ground per day than most other machines now in use. The objection so common to Drilling Machines of becoming Choked if the seed is not perfectly cleaned, is enfirely obviated in the simple and peculiar construction of this Drill, as white caps and short straw will not interfere in the least with the regular distribution of the seed. It is warranted to distribute the seed evenly; to sow any quantity per acre commonly sown broadcast; to not cut or break the grains; to be well made of good materials and durable with proper care.
