DEMOCRATIC COUNTY MEETING. The Democratic County Meeting at the Court House, on Monday evening, was larger and more enthusiastic than any we have had for several years, and those in attendance seemed to be actuated by an earnest desire for the union and welfare of the party.

MR. McLANAHAN'S SPEECH. On the first page of to-day's Volunteer will be found the able speech of our member of Congress, Mr. McLANAHAN, on the subject of the expenses of the judiciary and regulating the fees of clerks, marshals, and attorneys of the circuit and district courts, and of the United States. The speech is a most able one, and fully sustains the high reputation Mr. M'L. has so long and so justly earned.

On last Friday Mr. William Collinslaw, whose death is noticed in another column of our paper, was buried with the funeral ceremonies and honors of the Masonic fraternity. The deceased was one of our most esteemed young citizens, regarded by all who knew him as an ornament to the society to which he belonged.

YORK COUNTY. We learn that on Monday the democracy of this county nominated the following gentlemen. The remainder of the ticket we have not received: Congress—W. H. Kurtz. Senate—J. S. Holden. Assembly—James M. Anderson, Ezekiel Herbert, David F. Williams.

DEATH OF JUDGE CLENDEN. We are pained to announce the death of Hon. JOHN CLENDEN, formerly one of the Associate Judges of this county. He died at his residence in Hightstown, on Monday evening, after an illness of only a few minutes. It is supposed his disease was of the heart. In the death of this most estimable man, his family has met with an irreparable loss, and society of a most valuable and useful citizen. Peace to his ashes.

Let it be remembered that the following ticket figured conspicuously at the head of the National papers in 1844: For President, GEN. WINFIELD SCOTT. For Vice President, HON. JOHN McLEAN. This was when Scott proclaimed himself to be fixed with indignation.

THE WHIG HARVEST HOME MEETING.

A Total and Magnificent Failure!

The Whig Harvest Home Meeting which was to have taken place in Carlisle on Monday, was a complete and total failure. From the extraordinary efforts made to get up a "demonstration," we were prepared to see at least a respectable number of Whigs assemble here on that day.

Early in the morning the drum and fife were heard on the streets, beating for recruits. After drumming round town for several hours, without success, three additional drummers were added to the recruiting party, and the "rappings" were continued with increased vigor, much to the annoyance of the court, then in session, and our citizens generally.

After belaboring the drums most lustily for several hours, the recruiting party was called in, and a few bold individuals, unknown to our citizens, attempted to organize a meeting in a corner of the market house. Accordingly, Ex-Governor Ritter, commander-in-chief of the Federal forces in the ever memorable Buckshot war, was called to the chair.

The people of the United States will remember the almost innumerable quarrels that Gen. Scott has had with brother officers of the army and others. Even in the commencement of his military life, the officers captain, he quarreled with nearly all the officers in his regiment whom he associated with, and in his suspension from the army for one year, for defaming a superior officer, and applying to his own use the proceeds of two months pay of his company, for some fourteen months. When he was reinstated in the army he quarrelled with Gen. Wilkinson, and wrote several most rancorous assaults on that excellent officer. Subsequently he quarrelled with Gen. Jackson, and when the old hero castigated him, Gen. Scott declined a meeting on conscientious grounds.

About a month afterwards, he wrote an abusive article against Gov. Clinton, of New York. The Governor published the card, and Gen. Scott challenged him to fight a duel, although he knew the constitution of the State of which Clinton was then Governor, prohibited him from fighting. Clinton retorted upon him by reminding him that he had a claim to call him out until he had accepted the challenge of Gen. Jackson, then in his drawer.

Gen. Scott next quarrelled with Gen. Macomb and Gen. Gaines, and also with President Adams, although Mr. Adams was his political friend, and so outraged did his conduct towards Mr. Adams become, that he, while President of the United States, ordered his name to be expunged from the roll of the command.

DEPARTMENT OF WAR, Nov. 26th, 1852. Sir:—It is not the purpose of the President to take any final order in relation to your late very reprehensible conduct, until a sufficient time shall have elapsed for the receipt of your deliberate answer to the 15th instant. In the meantime, you are to remain in the command of the western department of the army, until his further pleasure shall be made known to you.

Every township was represented, and the utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed among the Delegates of the Convention. The ticket selected is truly a strong one, composed, as it is, of good men and true, they are all reliable, and intelligent Democrats, and are therefore entitled to the undivided support of every friend of the Democratic party.

DAUPHIN COUNTY.—The Democratic of Dauphin county met in convention, at Hainsburg, on the 18th inst., and placed in nomination the following strong ticket: CONGRESS—Gen. C. Seiler. PROTECTOR—J. S. Waterbury, Jas. Horning. REVISOR—Valentine Hummel. COMMISSIONER—Henry Lauman.

ANOTHER BOLTER FROM SCOTT!

We are glad to see that Judge Murray, of Middletown, heretofore one of the most active and intelligent Whigs of Dauphin county, has come out flat-footed for Pierce and King.

The Hon. Wm. F. Murray, our neighbor, who was elected Associate Judge upon the Whig ticket of our county last fall, has within a few days, raised the flag of Pierce and King upon his large Saw-mill in Portsmouth, and declared his intention to support the Democratic ticket next fall, and hereafter. We are not surprised at this, for we know that Judge Murray, though a gentleman of wealth and influence, has all his sympathies with the masses of the people.

LETTERS FROM DISTINGUISHED DEMOCRATS.

The following letters, in answer to invitations by the Committee, to attend the Democratic Harvest Home Celebration, should have appeared in our paper last week, but were crowded out by other matter:

FROM HON. JAMES BUCHANAN. WREKTLAND, (near Lancaster,) 31st July, 1852. GENTLEMEN:—On my return home last night, after a few days absence, I received your kind invitation to be present at the Harvest Home celebration of the Democracy of "old mother Cumberland," on the 14th August. As I have never enjoyed the privilege of meeting your assembled Democracy, to whom I feel myself under so many and such deep obligations, I should be glad to embrace the occasion thus presented, if this was in my power. I regret, however, to say that previous engagements will require me to leave home at the beginning of the next week; and I shall not be able to return until after the time appointed for your meeting.

The approaching Presidential election will be one of vast importance to the country; and it is possible I should gladly meet you all and unite with you to "push on the column of our glorious candidates, Pierce and King." With sentiments of high respect, I remain, Your friend, JAMES BUCHANAN.

TO JOHN B. BRATTON, JOHN M. GARGAS, and WILLIAM GOULD, Esquires, Com. of Invitation. By the Committee—Hon. JAMES BUCHANAN. A pure patriot and statesman. Had he received the nomination for President, it would have added nothing to his fame, which is as wide as the globe. The firm support he gives to Pierce and King, is but another evidence of his devotion to the men and measures of the Democratic party.—Such a man the Democracy of Pennsylvania and the whole country may well feel proud of.

FROM HON. JAMES X. McLANAHAN. WASHINGTON, H. R. C., 5th August, 1852. GENTLEMEN:—I had the pleasure of receiving your cordial invitation of the 27th ult., to attend the "Democratic Harvest Home Celebration" at Carlisle, on the 14th of this month. The business of the Committee of which I have the honor to be chairman, will occupy the attention of the House of Representatives at that time, and it will therefore be out of my power to be with you on the occasion. I wish with all my heart it were otherwise. But I regret it less because you have the prospect before you of listening to the words of counsel from one of the veterans of Jackson Democracy—one whose voice has long and often been heard advocating the great cardinal truths of his party—one who has successfully contended with the giants of Federalism on the arena of national politics—and one who has done as much to defend the rights and preserve the integrity of the Union as any living man. I mean General SAM. HOUSTON.

I called upon General Houston yesterday, and he informed me that, Providence permitting, he would be at your "Harvest Home" on the 14th inst. He said he had mingled before among the ranks of the "old Democratic" party, and was so well pleased that he could not resist the temptation to return and once more bid "God speed." I feel confident that the hearty cooperation of your return will lead forth to meet the noble old General and give him a reception worthy the occasion, and worthy the man.

The approaching Presidential contest is one of eminent importance. The great Constitutional questions involved in the "Compromise Measures" are at issue, and the right decision of these questions depend upon the triumph of Democracy.—The party united in "old Cumberland" is invincible—and being now bound together by the common interests and interests of the Republic, brotherhood, it will not be sufficient that your county gives its usual majority, but to adopt the pithy language of an astute Whig on another occasion—"Cumberland" must do better.

I will soon close my term of services in Congress. I will not be a candidate for re-election to the new and extraordinary district in which my lot is cast. I cannot, however, omit to avail myself of this occasion to express, through you, my warmest thanks to the Democracy of Cumberland for the high honor which has been conferred upon me when I was before them as a candidate. I have endeavored to serve my constituents faithfully and honestly—and although I sincerely resign the honors of their representation, I shall never fail to cherish for them the most grateful recollections.

It seems to accept for your personal regard, and assurance of my personal and political regard, and believe me to remain, very respectfully, Your obedient servant, JAS. X. McLANAHAN.

TO JOHN B. BRATTON, JOHN M. GARGAS, and WILLIAM GOULD, Esquires, Com. of Invitation. By the Committee—Hon. JAMES X. McLANAHAN—our able and distinguished member of Congress—firm in his purpose and unyielding in his faith, he has represented this Congressional district with honor to himself and his constituents. As our representative we feel proud of him, and the Democracy of Cumberland, with one voice, will say with us, "we'll do you good and faithful servant."

WASHINGTON CITY, Aug. 12, 1852. GENTLEMEN:—To join my Democratic fellow-citizens of your county in their "Harvest Home Celebration," would afford me great pleasure, but I have engagements which prevent my being present. I feel confident, however, that you are prominent to wit—that the means adopted to elect Gen. HANCOCK or TAYLOR, and if they should be successful I venture to predict that the "victory" will result in no more than the election of either of the Whig party, than the election of either of the last named gentlemen. I desire to see that our Whig friends ought to be satisfied with their experience in elevating "military heroes," at an advanced period of their lives, to the Presidency.—If they are not, I confess that I believe the people generally are, and that they will so decide in November next.

With my congratulations upon the auspicious result of our Baltimore Convention, and the well founded hope of success which now every where (even in North Carolina) animates the Democratic party, I subscribe myself, Truly your friend, RICHARD BROADHEAD.

TO JOHN B. BRATTON, JOHN M. GARGAS, and WILLIAM GOULD, Esquires, Com. of Invitation. By the Committee—Hon. RICHARD BROADHEAD, our distinguished United States Senator. A true disciple of the Jefferson and Jackson school. His course in the United States Senate has been such as to meet the approbation of his constituents, and to raise him still higher in their estimation.

FROM REAH FRAZER, Esq. LANCASTER, Aug. 15, 1852. GENTLEMEN:—It did not suit me to leave home this morning. Some important matters have detained me. I could have started at 12 o'clock, but please excuse me, and say to the Democracy of Cumberland, I will endeavor to respond to their kindness before the election, and address them with all the fervor and zeal in my power. I have no confidence in our success, both in the state and nation.

Give my warmest respects to General SAM. HOUSTON, the very patriot who brought the Compromise measures to a successful issue, by acceding to the boundaries of Texas, as every "free man," hero, patriot and statesman, of the broad national cast and character. All honor and renown to the victor of "San Jacinto." Your friend, most truly, REAH FRAZER.

TO JOHN B. BRATTON, JOHN M. GARGAS, and WILLIAM GOULD, Esquires, Com. of Invitation. By the Committee—Col. REAH FRAZER. We regret his absence this day, but know him as with us in feeling and in spirit. His powerful exertions in our glorious cause, commend him to the Democracy of the country.

FROM WILSON REILLY, Esq. CHAMBERSBURG, Aug. 12, 1852. GENTLEMEN:—I did think, until to-day, that I would be with you on Saturday next, and participate in your "Harvest Home Celebration." Sick-ness of myself and family will prevent me enjoying the anticipated pleasure. I shall be with you in earnest, though not in person. Excuse my seemingly neglect in not answering your kind letter at an earlier day. I am, truly yours, WILSON REILLY.

TO JOHN B. BRATTON, JOHN M. GARGAS, and WILLIAM GOULD, Esquires, Com. of Invitation. By the Committee—WILSON REILLY, Esq. An ardent advocate of the people's rights, his absence to-day is much regretted by his many friends in old mother Cumberland.
