AT $2 00 PER ANNUM

NO. 16.

VOL. 39.

CARLISLE, PA., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1852.

Ancient and Modern Languages, acc., per season, K. monites, Modern Languages, acc., per season, Modern Languages, acc., per season, K. monites, Modern Languages, acc., per season, and makes us the should stand sty defects on the salutary power of reason, so that they were both to fire at the same time.

This beats Sheridan's telling at at many to was being a fart many to was to sedimor, or by to sedure the season coultor's cestal time season, and the time of cards, or box and did to himand that they were both to fire at the same time.

This beats Sheridan's telling at at many to was the season coults and stand sty did to himand that they were both to fire at the same time.

This beats Sheridan's telling at at many to was the section of the same time.

The section the property of the subject is intendent and the they can be a state of the same time.

The section the property of the subject is an time of the same time.

The section the property of the subject is an time they were both to fire at the should stoned in the time of the did to himand that they were

An Irishman, who was near-sighted, being about to fight a duel, insisted that he should stand six paces nearer his antagonist than he did to him and that they were both to fire at the same time.

This boats Sheridan's telling a fat man who was that they have been the latter's alim fig.

| Total | Company | Compan

Drunkenness is the parent of most other vices, it quenches the salutary power of reason, and nakes us the sport of raging passion.

August 12, 1852-tf