Late and Interesting from West.
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—The Picayune has received data from the city of Mexico to the 19th ult., being twelve days later.
An extra session of Congress was convened on the 15th, but no attempt at a resolution had been made, as was anticipated. The only important act passed by Congress during the four days, was one abolishing the late arbitrary law against the press. Considerable excitement existed at Vera Cruz in consequence of the receipt of intelligence that a French squadron would soon arrive to back the French Minister in his demands for payments to French creditors. Also, for the liberation of Mr. Lamoni, a Frenchman, who was unjustly cast into prison a short time since. A revolution had been likewise expected at San Francisco, Mexico, to enforce claims of debt due the Spanish Government. The port of Mazatlan has at last been opened. The frontier States are in a very deplorable condition. Revolutionary attempts are of almost daily occurrence.
A Bostonian on a visit to Philadelphia, says the only specimen of "brotherly love" he has seen in that city, was a strife between sixteen cabmen for the privilege of conveying him to his hotel.
Mount Zion is still in flames, and the vine yards of Mt. Zion, in the neighborhood of Gettysburg, have been devoured by the burning locusts. The straggle of the locusts, on the south side of the mountain, illuminated with a tower of light.

Markets.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9, 1852.
FLOUR AND MEAL.—The Flour market is quiet, sales for export small. A revolution had been anticipated, at $4.75 a $5. Extra Flour is held at $4.87 1/2 a $5. Rye Flour at $1. Corn Meal at $3.75.
GRAIN.—Wheat is in less demand; prime red is held at $1.04 a $1.06; and old Penna. white at 10c. Oats are held higher; Southern yellow at 73 cts. Oats at 28 cts.
