Poetical.

I CANNA LEAVE MY MINKIE.

Take back the ring, dear Jamie,
For I'm no longer in love,
And all the time ye were a-goin' on,
I've been thinkin' on ye.

Miscellaneous.

ONE THING AT A TIME.

One thing at a time, my dear fellow—one at a time. If you attempt to lift both the tins and your wife over the stream at once, you will probably drop the doll of the little one, and the bonnet of the other, and men of extraordinary strength and intellect, who can do more than one thing at a time, are very few.

THE RAIN.

It rains,—how it rains!
A pleasant rain in this,
For 't is with my love,
And fast shower and kiss.

A SHORT SERMON.

Genius, has the power of condensing mighty truths into a small compass, as is illustrated by the quotation which heads this article.

THE LITTLE HINDERING THING.

It is not often given to read a piece so appreciating, and yet written so poetical, as the following touching beautiful lines. They were written by an English lawyer, whose child was suddenly killed by the falling of a beam. Its premature death suggested the melancholy parody.

THE GREAT WONDER OF THE DAY.

The greatest wonder of the day is the fact that the stock market is so quiet. There is a great deal of speculation, but no real business.
