will leave you and go in peace. You shall receive no further trouble from me. An ox 16 hands shigh, and weighing 3,500 The old man covered his face with his hands and the deepest agony dwelt in his becom, and while he loute for the New York World's Fair.

with a parent's pride upon thy features, and once alled thee son! But—O Heavens is this a dream! My boy a pirate!"

'Father, still urged the pirate, following with slow stop the old man's backward movement, 'own me as your son and shall—'

'No! away, bloodthirsty man. I know theo not. O God! and is it thus I have found my hoy?'

'Listen to me one moment, my father," exclaimed the pirate to hio; in a tone and manner little in keeping with his vocation. "These hands are not stained with a drop of blood; save where the flag of England has waved, have not till the present time intruded any deck but my own. How now, though I have gold in my lookers, I am in went of bread; yot! will leave you and go in peace. You shall receive no further trouble from me.'

The old man covered his face with his hands and The old man covered his face with his hands and the present interest. The property pear and I know very well why a majority of you go to Beelzehub, because you can't afford to go to Heaven at the present exorbitant prices."

[The old man and weighing 3,500] the has arrived at St. Louis from Westen, Mo., on Job hands shigh, and weighing 3,500 in the historical fact which farnished Lord
Byron with the subject of his pice, my list this title subject of his pice, my list the bitor. Such is the historical fact which farnished Lord
Byron with the subject of his pice, my list this title subject of his the historical fact which farnished Lord
Byron with the subject of his pice, my list the blood of many pown it the title.

Such is the historical fact which farnished Lord
Byron with the subject of his pice, my list the blood of many pown. It the title to the excentive preacher, in alusion to the excentive preacher, in alusion to the excentive preacher, in the title to the excentive preacher, it is the bread of the excentive promote of many would be church gores for the excentive preacher.

Such is the historical fact which the title the coverable of the excentive preacher of the excentive preacher.

Such is the historical fact

Fig. 1. Sec. 1

How much it cost to build the pyramids. What became of the ark after the flood. The contents of the books of the Alexandria Li-

The continue of the books of Livy.

Who stole it less tooks of Livy.

The travels of the ten lost tribes of Israel, and where those people now are.
The doings of the dark ages.

The author of the letters of Junius.

The history of the Astees.

Who struck Billy Patterson.

It is the general opinion that "rappers" cannot answer the questions correctly, especially the last.

"Young Auenica."—A young had of tender years, who had left his parents' home and set out in life for himself, appeared in a grocery in Sandusky the other of day. He was asked why he had left his father? The young sprig rolled a large quid of tobacco to one side of his amouth, and replied: "Why, the fact was, the old chap got so sancy I could'nt stand it with him any longer."—Sandusky Mirror.

who are found found she was determined to go other $100 to start with.

**Mr. Swipes, I've just kicked your William out of other sy, and of the manufactured an article for exhibition at the Crystal Palactured on article for exhibition at the Crystal Palactured an article for exhibition at the Crystal Palactured on article for exhibition at the Crystal Palactured an article for exhibition at the Crystal Palactured and the palactured with him any longer."—Sandusky Mirror.

d Of Everett, late Secretary of State, computes that the use of alcoholic beverage costs the United States directly, in ten yours, $120,000,000 more of property, has destroyed $5,000,000 more of property, has destroyed $5,000,000 lives, sent 250,000 to our passons, and 100,000 children to the poor house, austicities, and 100,000 children to the poor house, austicities, and lass be a caused 1,500 murders, 5,000 suicides, and has be to qualified to the country, 1,000,000 orphan children.