Senator Simmons and Spiritualism. The Hon. J. F. Simmons, who was formerly istinguished Senator of the United States from Rhode Island, is about as thorough a convert to the new Spiritualism as any man that has been heard of. He exercises his faith with the truth-like simplicity hf a child. The following is one of his letters :

bf a child. The following is one of his letters : WABILNATON, March 12. "Since I wrote to you last, I have had some of the frost extraordinary physicial manifestations from my bld friend Calhoun, that I have yet heard of, ending with a short communication in writing, which Gon. Hamilton, Gon, Thompson, Gen. Campbell, (all his most infimate friends), as well as one of Calhoun's some, to whom I have submitted it, pronounce a per-fect jor simils of his hand writing. "I have also had communications from Webster, through a writing medium, of the most extraordinary charadier. A gentleman of the highest order of in-tellect, present at the time, said he had read all the old philosophers from Plato down to Bacon, and he had seen nothing equal to these communications from Webster."

An Ugly Editor. An Ugly Editor. A recent number of the Democratic Review con-tained a likeness of Bonnet, of the New York Hernid, which Prentice thus hits off: "Bennet's portrait is terrific. Such a thing bught nover to be painted or daguerreotyped. It ought to be considered a penal offence to make anything so revolting to our ideas of propriety. No man has a right to monopolize so much ugli-ness. If Bennet's ugliness could be distributed over his awful frontispiece. No wonder that so many of the New York children dieo foronruliong since Bennet is permitted to walk abroad with yncovered face. We once heard of a man's face that was so ugly that it was placed on andirons for the purpose of frightening children from the fire, with much effect. No child where the set of the s on difficult view of the second secon ral ugly persons, but all has would be compelled to do would be to get Bennet's face, and the en-terprise would be accomplished."

Loshy, the notorious "reformed Monk of Lu Trap po," who has been on trial for some days p.st, in Columbia County, Wis, for the murder of Manley, has been convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for life. Leahy shot Manly in open court, killing him instantly. Joslousy was the cause of the deed
