TRUE PHILANTHROPY .- A case of office-seeking philanthropy, the more interesting because of it novelty, has come to our knowledge. A gentle man from Virgions, a prominent Democrat, wa an applicant for office in one of the Department an applicant for office in one or the orpanism of the Government. His papers, as the plaras goes, "were made out," and the letter of appoint ment given him by the Secretary, who informe that is a certain room, at a certain desk, h him that in a certain room, at a certain desk, he would find the individual whose place he was to take, and that he must show his letter to the innake, and that he must show his letter to the in-cumbent. Woll, he found the room, and in due manner presented the letter. The gentleman at the desk, after perusing the document, observed, "Well, sir, this is your desk, and I am ready to clear the premises," suiting the action to the word, and, starting to get off the stool upon which he was perched, the newly appointed officeholder ob-serving that the person whose place he was to fill was lame, and walked with difficulty, immediate-ly said, "Sir, you can keep your place; I am not the man to deprive you of it." He returned to the Scoretary and informed him that sconor than deprive a lame man of office he would return home! The Secretary applauded the sentiment, and promised that he should have some office at Surely the world is not so said a some office at
