New Daguerrean Room.

NEXT DOOR TO THE NEW PRISON. JOHN S. MAIN, would announce to the public that he has lately fitted up a Daguerreotype Gallery in good style, and intends making it a permanent room of the first class. He has given his attention to the art for some time past, and is acquainted with all the late improvements and will be a constant receipt of all that is new in the Heliographic art, having made arrangements by which he will receive all such information as soon as adopted by the first class operators of it in relation. His instruction has not been of the ordinary kind, but he has been initiated into the mystery of the art as well as the mechanical parts of his profession, and it now only requires continuation of the patronage he has so liberally received to establish in Carlisle such a gallery as can only be found in the large cities. All who have paid attention to art, know that the beauty of a Daguerreotype depends upon chira optics, and it cannot be expected that those who know nothing of its laws should be able to produce fine artistic likenesses, unless by mere chance. For perfection, in this respect, J. S. MAIN has produced pictures that he is not ashamed to place beside the best that have yet been produced. Call at his room, Sign of the Gilded Banner, where he is always ready to take pictures at the likeliest of inform or deceased persons when not called on. January 19, 1854—31
