"TAKE ME HOME TO DIE."

This land is very bright, mother...

Let my father's hand rest tender...

Dear mother I am weeping...

There's a swelling at the thought of home...

But I am getting faint, mother...

Oh, let me feel your lips, mother...

There's a dimness on my sight, mother...

I cannot keep my breath...

Oh, tell me I am not dead here...

One kiss more from my own mother...

And give farewell to my own mother...

THE BRIDAL AND THE DUNAL.

BY JAMES MONTGOMERY.

Blessed is the bride who smokes on...

Blessed is the corpse which the rain rains on...

Upon thy wedding day...

The church-bells ring...

The winter is past, the rains are gone...

Blessed is the bride who smokes on...

Blessed is the corpse which the rain rains on...

THE IDLE ARE ALWAYS UNHAPPY.

"Oh dear me!" sighed little Robert Blake...

What if you should try working a little?

Oh, I don't want to go to work in vacation...

Well, I don't care, I know it is pleasanter...

So it is for a little while; but you see...

It is a very beautiful summer day—and...

Robert looked round he saw the little...

Next he saw Susan Brown, the daughter...

"Oh, no, I don't mind it when the weather...
