Carlisle, Sept., 7, 18544

137 The following named gentlemen compose the Standing Committee for the present year: Wm. M. Mateer, Lower Allen; Wm. L. Cocklin, Upper Allen; John Cramer, E. W., Carlisle, Wills Foulk, W. W. Carlisle; Wm. Harper, Dickinson; David Eyster, East Pennsborough; Peter Minich, Frankford; Robt. G. Young, Hamden; David Hoover, Hopewell; Robt. C. McCulloch, Millin; Samuel Eckles, Sr., Mchanicsburg; Benjamin Krider, Monroo; Wm. Kliuk, Newville; Christopher Mellinger, Newn, 150. G. Miller, New Cumberland; Wm. Cornman, North Middleton; Snyder Ruply, South Middleton; Benjamin Duke, Shippensburg Bo.; T. P. Blair, Shippensburg Tp.; Daniel S. Groft, Southampton; Dr. James McCulloch, Silver Spring; John Elliot, West Pennsborough.

Governor Bigler and J. Ellis Bonham Esq., will address the Democrats of York Coun ty on Wednesday evening the 20th inst., at the Court House in the borough of York.

From the present time until after th election, our paper will be mainly occupied with political matter, to the exclusion of our usual literary variety. After the election, we will pay more particular attention to the liter ary department of the Volunteer, and endeavor to make its colums contain substanial matter suited to the taste of every class of readers.

A High Figure. In our market, oil Satur cents per pound! 25 cents was about the average price paid for butter on that morning, and some hloders were unreasonable enough to demand 371 cents per pound. Poultry, eggs, potato, escabbage, and indeed every description of vegetables, now sell at prices alarmingly high, and from present indications tustend of a fall there will be a rise in the price of these articles. While the producers are now reaping a profitable harvest, the coming winter promises to be one of unusual severity upon consumers, and the only way to meet the crisis is by the practice of the strictest economy.

DEPERTURE OF TROOPS .- On Tuesday evening last, a detachment of United States troops, embracing Companies F and K, belonging to the 2d Regiment of United States Infantry, left the Carlisle Barracks for the far West. They numbered about 90 men, and were under the command of Major PATTEN and Capt. Sully. The ultimate destination of these troops are Company F to Fort Ridgely and Company K to Fort Ripley, both in the Minnesota territory. They were as fine a body of men as ever march ed from Carlisle Barracks, and they appeared willing and and anxious to start for their new lation. One Company of Infantry yet re mains at this post.

MELANGHOLY ACCIDENT .- On Saturday mor ing last, a distressing accident occurred on the purpose of placing his son in Dickinson Col-Walnut Bottom Road, about four miles west of lege. The position Mr. K. occupies in the Post-Carlisle, which resulted in the almost instanta-Office Department is a very laborious and re-Darman, son of Mr. Henry Bushman, who re-Bushman, son of Mr. Henry Bushman, who re-BUSHMAN, son of Mr. Henry Bushman, who resides in that neighborhood. Know-Nothing Hypocricy.

The Know-Nothing party is based upon th logmas of hostility to Catholics and foreigners.

Ind yet see how the present Mayor of Philadelonrad made a speech which was much culoized by the Whigs at the time, and which gized by the Whigs at the time, and which contains this remarkable passage:

"Equal in sacredness to that liberty—superior to all else—is Religious Freedom—the right to worship God without kneeling in fetters. Franklin Pierce is the leader of the party in New Hampshire which denies that freedom to a portion of the people—no matter what portion—denies it by Constitutional canciment. That party contested the question; Franklin Pierce controlled that party; but he insither exerted that power, nor when occasion offered, opened this lips, in or out of the convention, to utter a word, one poor word, for the most accred of himour gifts trampled down at; aye, under his very feet. He is therefore unfit; and to reward him would be to share his crimo."

How his heart yearned for the poor Catholics nd the exercise of "the most sacred of human rights." Benevolent individual!

NONSENSE -- ABSURD.

The Perry County Freeman, of a week or two ince, made the following silly remark, among nany other silly things, now contained weekly n that paper:

"Is there no Anti-Nebraska Democrat, who has American sympathies—who scorns the base truckling to the Pope of Rome's behests—in this Congressional District? If there is, it is the duty of Whigs to support him, as a matter of necessity in opposition to Archbishop Hughes' fugleman, Mr. Bonham."

And LEMUEL TODD, we are informed, is to be he "anti-Nebraska Democrat" that is to oppose Mr. BONHAM in this Congressional district. Ve accept the issue.

Mr. Topp has for a long time been dissatis fied with the Democratic party, as they have ever trusted him and never had confiden him. He has repeatedly tried his hand at obaining a nomination for different offices in our ounty conventions, but always was repulsed with a firmness which should be the fate of all isorganizers. The Democracy of this county ave always known Mr. Topp, better than h new himself, and they appreciated him at his roper worth. He never could receive more than seven or eight votes in our County Conentions. He has, for a number of years, bolted he Democratic ticket, and his present course ogether with his manœuvres last fall, should amn him in the estimation of every Democrat

Saturday next, (in compliance with a call published in another column to-day,) the cratic Standing Committee will meet in this borough for the purpose of organizing and transacting such business as may be deemed necessary. We hope there may be a full at-tendance of the Committee. As the organ of the party the Committee can do much toward effecting an organization. Heretofore the County Committee have performed no duties what ever, and if this is to be the case hereafter we can see no propriety in appointing a Committee at all. We are glad, therefore, to see the A Hear Floure.—In our market, oil Satur-day morning last, butter sold as high as 311 cause of the people. We know not what busi-peal with safety to the people of the Unite ness the Committee has in view on Saturday, but we presume the issuing of a short address appointing of meetings in various portions of the county, &c., is about the work before them at this time.

In a late speech made by Gen. Scott's "sweet German accent" and "rich Governor Bigler in Fulton county he said he Irish brogue." At a mass meeting held by the was a member of the democratic party, and that Whigs at Harrisburg, in August, 1852, Mr. party had a right to demand whether he subscribed to the great democratic principle of self-government embodied in the Nebraska bill.— To that demand he was ready to respond. The present prices are sufficient to encourage sales, onsidering the chances of a decline as well as a rise. THE NEWARK RIOT .- Mr. Bailies, the officiat ing priest of the German Catholic Church at Newark, asserts that he was sitting, at the time the riot commenced, in his apartments, taking dinner; that the first he was aware of the riot was a stone coming through the window. He immediately got up and went into the church. But, upon entering, it was crowded with peo ple, and as they perceived him they ran after him. He immediately barred the door, and changed his clothing and made his escape out of the back window, with two other pricets from and Archbishop Hughes, such stuff has only to New York, and succeeded in making their es-be seen to be laughed at. He also says that there was no one in the building, as reported, and the only opposition made in the church to the mob was by an old German, woman, who was employed in washing, and who rushed in for the purpose o preventing them from demolishing the news.-One of the assailants presented a pistol at her breast, when she exclaimed, "Shoot, I'm only

THE MILLERITES .- A very comfortable cirstance has occurred to the Millerites in the recent fires in Maine. Among the questions now agitating the public mind, that clatting to the secret political organization commonly called Know-Nothings, is manifestly the most important, and is exciting to a remarkable degree, public attention. It is needless so say, that I do not belong to any such organization or society or Lodge, as my whole life and all my political opinions would contradict any such associations, but I deprecate their existence as one of the greatest calamities of the times, pregnant with many and numerous evils to the country government embodied in the Nebraska bill.—

To that demand he was ready to respond. The leading feature, the very essence of the adjustment of 1850, commonly called the compromise measures. That adjustment Gov. Bigler endorsed and defended before the people in the campaign of 1851, and the people rendered a verdict in its favor. The same principle precisely was incorporated in the Nebraska bill. He approved that principle in 1851, and he approved that principle in 1851, and he approved that principle of self-government.

The Famers' Marker.—The price of grain has been advancing for some weeks. The Pottstown Ledger says, this is doubtless owing to the slow movements in the disposal of the new crops: But little has yet come into the market, including the fact that there is a holding back for higher prices. The present rates are quite campets for holding back. Whether prices will range higher during the year generally, is considered improbable by commercial papers, who hase their calculations upon the "aboundant crops in Europe," and the general average in ourson country. There is a disposition, however, in Eastern Pennsylvania to turn crops into money at an early period, and the present prices are sufficient to enourage sales, considering the chances of a decline as well as the present prices are sufficient to enourage sales, considering the chances of a decline as well as the present prices are sufficient to enourage sales, considering the chances of a decline as well as the present prices are sufficient to enourage sales, considering the chances of a decline as well as the present prices are sufficient to enourage sales, considering the chances of a decline as well as the present prices are sufficient to enourage sales, considering the chances of a decline as well as the present prices are sufficient to enourage sal councils and traitorous machinations and blasphemous oaths, to the mass of the people, in whose good judgment and sound sense any public man may safely confide. The mass of the people of both the great parties are just and will not see a candidate stricken down, or persecuted by unfair and secret means, without, an opportunity of defence—meither can they be induced to become traitors to the constitution of their country. I know that the mass of the people are generous also, and where I shall have induced to become traitors to the constitution of their country. I know that the mass of the people are generous also, and where I shall have one secret foe, whose suffrage will be cast against me, I shall gain two open and manly friends. I appeal from the machinations of a band of conspirators against the public peace and the genius of our free institutions, to the people—I appeal directly to the people them selves. The people will blow away these organizations with the breath of their nostrils.

I may say in addition, that this is a question which rises aboye all party associations, and a question in which the masses are deeply interested to protect themselves—to preserve the constitution and the laws of the land—to keep the grand glory of our institutions, religious toleration, and the absence of all religious tests, from being obscured, and the symbols of its presence and power from being trampled under foot—to prevent a union of church and state, and to be free from elerical domination in political affairs—to preserve the noble generosity of our institutions towards the down trodden and oppressed people fleeing from the tyranny and exactions of despotic governments in the old world—in flué, to keep those institutions as they were left us by the great and good Washington and the Revolutionary fathers.
