The Agriculturist.

EARTH'S NOBLEMAN.

Tis of that band that till the land,
And draw from earth her store:
Right happy indeed is the life we lead,
While our days are passing o'er,
Many there in riches far
Surpassing the farmer's purse,
While other pursuits may yield more fruits,
Yet often produce much worse.

We envy not the statesman's lot,
still-clamoring for his class,
Nor his that fights for glory's rights,
At some redoubted pass,
No risk have we on boisterous sea,
No fears lest tempests whelm
All we possess without redress
While laboring at the helm.

The fruitful fields its bounties yields
A rich reward of toil;
Be ours the trade to ply the spade,
And deeply plough the soil;
We walk abroad o'er carpet sod,
And flowerets kiss our feet,
Whose odor rise to scent the skies—
A tribute pure and meet.

To all we give the means to live,
As brother shares with brother,
And thus fulfil the holy will
That bids us leave each other.
O, life secure from guile, and pure,
To thee my love cling ever:
With all its might and fond delight,
To change from thee, no never!

EFFECTS OF STATE FAIRS.

The Albany Knickerbocker says agriculture plays such an important part in this age of progress and piston rods that we must rejoice at every fresh means made use of to increase our productiveness. The farmers of the United States have a great deal to learn yet. To produce that learning there is nothing better than the stimulating effects produced by the competition engendered at our Agricultural fairs.—The productiveness of our farms and cattle could be doubled, and that, too, without adding ten per cent. to the expenses. In the way of scientific farming, we are far behind not only Belgium, but England and Scotland. Men crowded together upon a small area of land are compelled by stern necessity to make the most of their limited means; and where hunger is the schoolmaster the lessons taught are not apt to be soon forgotten. With us a condition of things just the reverse exists. The possession of too much land has hitherto induced a careless and slovenly system of husbandry, from the effects of which in many of the earliest settled parts of the country, we are but now beginning to recover. Some of the new practices introduced abroad are not applicable to the same extent, on account of the difference in soil and climate, and also in the price of labor. The great feature of modern improvements in England, which added immensely to the value of lands in that country, and destined in all probability to quadruple the products of the kingdom, is one which might be introduced into our country to a limited degree with great advantages; this consist in an extended system of drainage. In the moist climate of Great Britain this practice of under-draining, as it is there called, (for the drains are constructed of manufactured tiles and covered,) embraces all lands, both high and low and has been followed by astonishing results. The philosophy of draining consists in this; that it gives the cultivator command of the water by which his soil is affected; enabling him to use the redundancy in one case to supply the deficiency in another.

Too much water, whether it comes from excessive rain or permanent springs in the soil is pernicious to cultivation. True, under certain conditions, it may even cause a great luxuriance of vegetation; but as a general rule, the plants produced in a wet soil are not so nutritious and valuable. It is stated in some reports on English agriculture by the late Rev. Henry Colman, of Massachusetts, that the duke of Portland, as far back as 1846, had completed more than seven thousand miles of drainage on his estate. Another proprietor made two hundred and fifty miles yearly: and a third had completed the drainage of four hundred and sixty seven acres at the expense of more than one thousand five hundred pound, and had increased the rental of his land by these operations to the amount of four hundred and thirty-five pounds two shillings and four pence, or at the rate of twenty-nine per cent. upon the capital expended. To mention but one of the many instances of profit from this source adduced by Mr. Colman, a farmer made upon wet land two hundred bushels of potatoes per acre; the product of the same land after it had been drained was six hundred and ten bushels per acre. Judicious drainage not only enlarges your crops, but it is the only specific against drouth. Prof. Mapes, by means of buried drains, has grown as fine crops this year as was ever grown in New Jersey. His neighbors, who believed in the "good old way," have scarcely crops enough to pay for the seed. The world moves, however, and the time will yet come when the scientific farmers will be as numerous as scientific professors. To hurry forward that happy day, no institution plays a more important part than the fairs of our different Agricultural Societies.

To Preserve Nursery Pictures.

Pictures are an almost endless source of amusement to children, and as a great variety may now be had at a trifling cost, there are but few families where some are not to be found: there are, perhaps, as few families where vexation has not been experienced in finding how soon the mere paper pictures are torn. A simple plan by which children may use them for years, without tearing, is to paste them on to cheap calico—or the better part of worn-out calico garments will do just as well. Rub with a little smooth flour, paste the back of a picture and the calico on which it is to be put; lay the picture smooth upon the calico, and leave it to dry gradually; when quite dry, neatly cut round the edges, and the picture will bear all the treatment children are likely to give it without being torn. Parents who have not tried it, would be surpised what a fund of amusement they might inexpensively acquire for their children, if they would so serve every picture that comes in their way, and provide a portfolio or box for their reception. When, however, we say every picture, we must be understood of course, to mean every picture that has no impure or hurtful meaning. It is a pity that so many of an objectionable sort are published, and if a child should become possessed of such, it will be the part of wisdom in the parent to destroy them.—Godey's Lady Book.

PRUNING GRAPES.—Prof. Mapes—Prune grapes in November but never in the spring.—In summer, as soon as the grapes set, pinch off all the shoots, three eyes beyond the fruit.—These will sprout again, and must again be pinched off, three years beyond the junction.—Again they will sprout. Let these young shoots grow, and when the insects come they will eat those tender twigs and let the rest alone. Never cut off leaves to let the sun in to ripen the fruit: it will ripen faster with than without the leaves. In Summer, grape vines stop growing. Feed them with weak guano water, and two days after with weak potash water. This will give more fruit and better flavor. Grape vines are rank feeders; so are raspberries and blackberries.

PLANTING POTATOES IN THE FALL.—A writer in the Maine Farmer says, "I left my potatoes in the ground last fall, and found in July they were more than as large again as the others planted in the spring. I have seen this season, others planted last fall, and they were excellent, very large, sound and handsome, and indeed better than I ever saw. To plant them, plow deep, and then furrow; drop in the potatoe whole; cover with strong manure, and then the whole with rich earth. By doing so, you may have handsome, large and early potatoes. If this is the result in Maine, it will certainly do in Pennsylvania. Try it.

THE MARRIAGE STATE.

Shall Happiness and Health, or Misery and Sickness, attend it?

MOST STARTLING CONSIDERATIONS!

Reflections for the Thoughtful.

STRANGE that countless human beings exist and drag through life as do the beasts of the field, or the insects of the earth, evincing no more thought or reflection than though the noble faculties of mind were only conferred to them.

Many such are husbands and fathers, upon whom are dependent the health, the well-being, and the happiness of a confiding and affectionate wife, with perhaps a family of children.

HOW OFTEN IT HAPPENS THAT THE

in that pitiable condition as not even for one day to feel the happy and exhilerating influence incident to the enjoyment of health.

She may not be an invalid confined to her bed or even to her room; as her pride, ambition and energy induce and nerve her to take personal charge of her household, even when her health will not admit of it; but she is nevertheless perceptibly sinking from day to day, and always ailing.

Thus day after day, and month after month transpire. Her health daily sinks, till finally even the ope of recovery no longer remains. And thus but a few years ago in the flush of health and youth, and buoyancy of spirits, rapidly, and apparently inexplicably, becomes a, feeble, sickly, debilitated wife, with frame emaciated, nerves unstrung, spirits depressed, countenance bearing the impress of suffering, and an utter physical and mental prostration.

Sometimes this deplorable change may and does arise from organic or constitutional causes. But oftener, by far oftener, to gross and inexcusable ignorance of the simplest and plainest rules of health as connected with the marriage state, the violation of which entails disease, suffering and misery, not only to the wife, but often transmitting CONSUMPTION, SCROFULA, HYPOCHONDRIA, INSANITY, GOUT, KING'S EVIL, and other diseases, as a

from the Parents.

And must this continue? Shall we be wise in all that concerns the cattle of our fields, our horses, our sheep, our cows, our oxen, the nature and character of the soil we possess, the texture and quality of our goods and merchandise; but in all that concerns ourselves as human beings, with human functions and passions, subject to great derangement, involving our future peace and happiness—in all that concerns the mental and physical well being of those children, we should be im-

BENIGHTED IGNORANCE,

AS CULPABLE AS INEXCUSABLE!

How long shall this ignorance prevail so productive of its bitter fruits? How long shall the wife and mother be ignorant of the nature, character and causes of the various womb and sexual complaints, embittering her days by suffering—suffering often prolonged to years, eventuating in a complication of diseases wholly incurable? Shall we for ever close our eyes to the results of physiological science by which we may arrive at an understanding of ourselves as men and women, subject to serious life-long enduring diseases, and perpetuating them to our children.

LET EVERY WIFE AND HUSBAND PONDER

"Man, Know Thyself."

An Invaluable Book for 25 cents,—"Every family should have a copy."

100,000 Copies sold in less than a year. A new edition, revised and improved, just issued.

DR. HUNTER'S Medical Manuel and Hand Book for the Afflicted—containing an outline of the origin, progress, treatment and cure of every form of disease contracted by promiscuous sexual intercourse, by self-abuse or by sexual excess, with advice for their prevention. Written in a familiar style, avoiding all medical technicalities, and everything that would offend the ear of decency; with an outline of complaints incident to Females, from the result of some twenty years' successful practice, exclusively devoted to the cure of diseases of a delicate or private nature.

To which is added receipts for the cure of the above diseases, and a treatise on the causes, symptoms and cure of the Fever and Ague.

Testimony of The Professor of Obstetrics in Penn. College, Philadelphia.—"DR. HUNTER'S MEDICAL MANUEL."—The author of this work, unlike the majority of those who advertise to cure the diseases of which it treats is a graduate of one of the best Colleges in the United States. It affords me pleasure to recommend him to the unfortunate, or to the victim of malpractice, as a successful and experienced practitioner, in whose honor and integrity they may place the greatest confidence.

Jos. S. LONGSHORE, M. D.

From A. Woodward, M. D., of Penn. University, Philadelphia.—It gives me pleasure to add my testimony to the professional ability of the Author of the "MEDICAL MANUAL."—Numerous cases of disease of the Genital Organs, some of them of long standing, have come under my notice, in which his skill has been manifest in restoring to perfect health, in some cases where the patient has been considered beyond medical aid. In the treatment of Seminal weakness, or disarrangement of the functions produced by self-abuse or Excess of venery, I do not know his superior in the profession.—I have been acquainted with the Author some thirty years, and deem it no more than justice to him as well as kindness to the unfortunate victim of early indiscretion, to recommend him as one in whose professional skill and integrity they may safely confide themselves.—ALFRED WOODWARD, M. D.

"This is, without exception, the most comprehensive and intelligible work on the class of diseases on which it treats. Avoiding all technical terms, it addresses itself to the reason of its readers. It is free from all objectionable matter, and no parent, however fastidious, can object to placing it in the hands of his sons.—The author has devoted many years to the treatment of the various complaints treated of, and, with too little breath to puff, and too little presumption to impose, he has offered to the world, at the merely nominal price of 25 cents, the fruit of some twenty years' most successful practice."—Herald.

"No teacher or parent should be without the knowledge imparted in this valuable work. It would save years of pain, mortification and sorraw to the youth under their charge."—People's Advocate.

A Presbyterian clergyman in Ohio, writing of "Hunter's Medical Manuel" says:—"Thousands upon thousands of our youth, by evil example and influence of the passions, have been led into the habit of self-pollution, without realizing the sin and fearful consequences upon themselves and their posterity. The constitutions of thousands who are raising families have been enfeebled, if not broken down, and they do not know the cause or the cure. Anything that can be done so to enlighten and influence the public mind as to check, and ultimately to remove this wide-spread source of human wretchedness, would confer the greatest blessing next to the religion of Jesus Christ, on the present and coming generation. Intemperance (or the use of intoxicating drinks) though it has slain thousands upon thousands, is not a greater scourge to the human race. Accept my thanks, on behalf of the afflicted, and, believe me, your coworker in the good work you are so actively engaged in."

One copy (securely enveloped) will be forwarded, free of postage, to any part of the United States for 25 cents, or six copies for $1. Address (post paid) COSDEN & CO., Publishers or Box 190, Philadelphia.

☞ Booksellers, Canvassers and Book Agents supplied on the most liberal terms.

Attention Dyspeptics!

THOSE of you who have been afflicted for years, with this loathsome disease, and who have been using almost every nostrum before the public without relief. We say to you try "Beecher's Anti-dyspeptic," and you will soon be convinced of its great superiority over every other preparation. We could give you many certificates corroborating our assertion, but a single trial is worth more than all. This remedy is prepared and sold at the Drug store of

EAGLE HOTEL.

No. 331, Market Street, Philadelphia.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform his friends and the public in general, that he has taken this well known stand, and hopes, by strict attention to business, to gain a share of the public patronage heretofore so liberally extended to him while in the above business in Lancaster county, and recently in Cumberland county, Pa. The HOUSE has been neatly furnished throughout, and the rooms are large and airy; and for comfort are unsurpassed in the city. The TABLE is always supplied with the best the market can afford, and his BAR can compete for choice liquors with the best bars in the City. The STABLES are large and newly fitted up for drovers and the public in general.

My charges are as reasonable as any other in Market street. Give me a call.
