From the Repository and Whig. THE SABBATH BELL,

BY DI VERNON. Hushi tis the Sabbath bell—
I know its deep tones well.
Tis evening's hour—I hear no other sound—
The air is calm—deep stillness reigns around;
Yet, there is music stealing on mine ear,
That brings me peace and hope and faith sincere.
Sweet is the Sabbath bell—
Sweet is the sabbath bell— I love its deep tones well!

When in the early day
It calls us forth to pray,
I feel it thou—but sweeter far to me
This melancholy hour, its melody.
List to its music swelling on the air!
Come! do not linger—tis the hour of prayer.
Dear is the Sabbath bel!—
I love its deep tones well!

(AMBLING TO THE TEETH.—The San Antonio (Texas) Ledger relates the following incident as having recently occurred in that city:
We are told that an individual in our city a few hights ago, being put to it for stake, took from his mouth a finely polished set of teeth on a gold plate, and pawned it for a few dollars to continue the game with. We have heard of "ighting to the teeth," but never before of gumbling to the teeth."

17 It appears from the Census, that the people of Great Britain are the youngest people in the world. We are not surprised at this result, and indeed, we only wonder that there is any women in England above the age of thirty, which we are convinced would have been impossible, had the ladies been left to make their own returns. We have had a striking proof of the numerical strength of the Young England Party, to which it seems that nearly the whole of the fair sex belongs. There is such a tendency to youth in our female population, that we them ranging themselves under the different heads of "children," "girla," "infants," "matdens," and "young women," as if juvenility were a luxury to be enjoyed under as many different denominations as possible. We verify believe that if the women had their own way, they would never adopt the epithet "cold," should they even live to be a hundred, and that they would class themselves in the category of "second childhood" rather than admit their arrival at the stage of anlity. Such is the female borrent of the vale of verse, that a women would. ond childhood" rather than admit their arrival at the stage of anility. Such is the female horror of the vale of years, that a woman would sooner declare herself to be in her dotage, than to have reached that "certain age" which any figure above thirty is supposed to indicate.

Bur Fon Castt.—A cotemporary says if we would get rich we must not carry pass-books.—Credit is the tempter in a new shape. Buy dry goods on trust, and you will purchase a thousand articles that Cash would never have dreamed of. A dollar in the hand looks larger than ten dollars through the perspective of a sixty day due bill. Cash is practical; while Credit takes horribly to taste and romance. Let cash buy a dinner, and you will have beefsteak flanked with onions. Send credit to market, and he will return with eight pairs of woodcooks. ked with onions. Send credit to market, and he will return with eight pairs of woodcooks and a peck of mushrooms. Credit believes to double breasted pies and champagne suppers.—

Cash is more easily satisfied. Give him three meals a day, and he don't care much if two of them are made with potatoes and a little salt.—

Cash is a good advisor, while Credit is the best fellow to be on visiting terms with. If you want double chims and contentment, do business with Cash.

FAILURE OF GEN. LARIBOR.—We have no hesitancy in saying that we beheve Gen. LARI-MER to be a gentleman, every way worthy of public confidence. That his present difficulties are the result of a liberal disposition topublic confidence. That his present difficulties are the result of a liberal disposition to wards public improvements of every character, no one will doubt. We cannot believe that there was a want of honesty or good faith on his part. Very few bankers in the United States contemplated the present stringency of the money market, and of course but very few were able to resist the pressure. Gen. Leuture is among the unfortunate, but he has, notwith standing, the consolation to know that those who know him will never attribute aught to him, in this transaction, hishonorable.

There is, in the United States, a kind of mania on the subject of railroads. Gen. Lauture, with that spirit of enterprise which sou't to open up every possible avenue of trade for the city of Pittsburg, embarked too largely mimprovements, and used his means with a too profuse hand. For this he has failed, and we are heartily sorry it is so. We hope he may yet be able to relieve hinself from his present embarrassuents.—Harrisburg Union.

BENIGHTED IGNORANCE,
AS CULPABLE AS INEXCUSABLE!
How long shall this ignorance prevail so productive of its bitter fruits? How long shall the wife and mother be ignorant of the nature, character and causes of the various womb and sexual complaints, embittering liver days by suffering—suffering often prolonged to years, eventuating in a complication of diseases utterly and hopelessly insurable? Shall we for ever close our eyes to the results of physicological science by which we may arrive as an andorstanding of ourselves as men and women, subject to serious life-long endaring diseases, such perpetuating them to our children.
