A HANDSONE PARADE .- On Thursday evening last, the four companies of U. S. Infantry, stationed at our Barracks, turned out in their strength, (armed with that formidable weapon, the Minnie Rifle) and paraded our streets, presenting a truly imposing appearance. They rimbered some 400 men, and were accompaunder the command of Mai. Ges. HITCHCOCK. the officer at the post. We have never witnessed a finer parade. The men are all able bodied, and are fine specimens of the American soldier. After parading several of the principal streets, they halted at the corner of the public square, and went through a number of evolutions, in a fled' at this grand military display.
