The Earth That We Walk On.

It may surprise some readers to learn that all the earths—clay, flint, chalk, &c., are nothing more than the rust of metals; that at one time, during the age of this world, they were all shining brilliant metals. Geologists speak of the earth as being hundreds of thousands of years old. All their philosophy is based upon mechanical science; the formation of strata, the upheaving of mountains, the burying of forests, have been attributed to some "great convulsion—that is, to some shaking together of the earth's crust. Whether this great age of the world be true or not, it is very certain that before any of these events could have taken place, the formation of each of the earths must have been the work of ages; otherwise the metals of which their base consists could not have been so completely rusted as to assume an earthly texture. To understand this we must leave the mechanical, i. e., the geological theory, and enter upon the primary or chemical theory. It cannot be disputed that the first changes of the earth's surface were of purely a chemical nature. Combinations took place then as now; the metallic bases, by mere contact with the atmosphere or water passed into oxyds, as the chemist calls them, or earths, as expressed in daily conversation. Chemists thus recognize something like forty different kinds of these oxyds or earthly bodies, some being very scarce, and others as plentiful. By the merest touch of air some of the metallic bases of these earths instantly pass into the rusty or earthly state; some by contact with water are so energetic that they burst into flame. By this process of reasoning we come to the conclusion that the world is one mass or globe of mixed metals, of which the more crust has become rusted, or of earthy form; the outer rind, as it were, preventing any rapid combination taking place with the metallic surface, five or six miles below the face of the dry land. Eruptions from volcanoes are probably produced by the sea getting down to the metallic surface through some fissure in the earth's crust; decomposition of the water then takes place; fire, flame, and steam causing an eruption. It would be an instructive lesson to man to quarry into the earth's crust the depth of ten or twelve miles.—Septimus Piesse.

Something for Children.

There are a great many good children; yet once in a while we meet those who, we are sorry to say, do not belong to the class of those we love. Such a boy was Matthew.

You would not have given a fig to play with him. He had carpenters' tools, and books, and checkers, and chess, and drawing materials, and balls, and kites, and ships, and skates, and snow shovels, and sleds—oh, I could not tell you all he had.

Well, if you went on a Saturday afternoon to play with him, he would watch all these things as closely as a cat would a mouse; and if you were within reach of them, he would sing out, "D-o-n-'t; t-h-a-t-'s m-i-n-e."

Of course it was not much fun to go and see him. You had to play everything he wanted, or he would pout and say he would not play at all.

Then Matthew was such a baby! I love a brave boy. He would go screaming to his mother if he got a scratch, as if a wild tiger were after him; and if you said anything to him about it, he would pout and stick out his lips.

It was like drawing teeth to get him to go across the room to hand you a newspaper. He ought to have had a little world all to himself, he was so selfish.

When his mother was told of his faults, she would say, "Oh, he will outgrow them by-and-by."

I knew that his selfishness would grow as fast as he did; and that when he came to be a man he would be unfeeling to the poor, and make hard bargains with them, and bring the last penny out of their threadbare pockets.

Oh, dear children, be generous. If you have but half an apple give somebody a bite of it.—Perhaps some child will say, "But I have not anything to give." That is a mistake; that boy or girl is not living who has nothing to give.—Give your sympathy; give pleasant words and beaming smiles to the sad and weary-hearted.

If a child goes to your school who is poorly clad, patched, darned, nay, even ragged; if the tears start to his eyes when your schoolmates laugh, and shun, and refuse to play with him, just go right up and put your hands around his neck, and ask him to play with you. Love him; love sometimes is meat and drink and clothing. You can all love the sad and sorrowful. Then never say you have "nothing to give."

Hints To Young Ladies.

Never read newspapers. A newspaper is a miracle with which you have nothing to do.—Study fashion plates—their contemplation can never injure or improve your mind.

If you are so fortunate as to attract the attention of a male gosling of your own capacity, get another beau—make them both jealous—alternately swear to each that he is the darling of your heart. Competition is the life of love as of trade. It will end by their both despising you.

Never entertain, for a moment, a real honest, sterling feeling. It will do you no good. Set it down for a fixed fact, that unless a man is rich he is "horrid."

If a handsome young girl, pure, innocent and happy, without money, attract more attention than yourself, mention to some male friend of yours, who never tells anything, that you have heard something about her. Accompany the remark with a toss of the head, a curl of the lip, and an up turning of the eye-lids as though the heavens should fall on some dreadful depravity.

How Mrs. Stowe became an Author.

In a letter to a friend in England, in answer to some inquiries respecting her personal history, Mrs. H. B. Stowe gives the following interesting passage in her life—

During long years of struggling with poverty, sickness, and a hot, debilitating climate, my children grew up around me. The nursery and the kitchen were my principal fields of labor. Some of my friends, pitying my toils, sent some of my sketches to certain liberally-paying annuals, with my name. With the first money I earned this way I bought a feather bed! For, as I had married into, and without a dowery, and as my husband had only a large library of books and a great deal of learning, this bed and pillows were thought on the whole the most profitable investment.

I now thought I had discovered the philosopher's stone, and when a new carpet or mattress was needed, or when at the close of the year it began to be evident that my family accounts, like Dora's 'wouldn't add up,' then I used to say to my faithful friend and factotum Anna, who shared all my joys and sorrows, 'Now, if you'll keep the babies quiet, and attend to all the things in the house for one day, I'll write a piece, and then we shall be out of the scrape.' And so I became an authoress!—Very modest at first, I do assure you, and remonstrating very seriously with the friends who had thought it best to put my name to my productions, by way of flatting up a reputation.

A Good 'un.—Hugh Hastings, of the Albany Knickerbocker, when letting off a joke, always does that thing capitally, as follows:

"There are three papers in this State which are particularly down on the 'd——d furriners' of all kinds—the Albany State Register, the Rochester American, and the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser—and yet, strange to say, the leading men of these papers are of foreign extraction. Lacy, one of the proprietors of the Register, was born in England. Mann, of the Rochester American, was born in Scotland, and, until he was fourteen years of age, peddled itch ointment around Edinburg. Parmelee, of the Buffalo Commercial—the man of the "twenty-five dollar character,"—was an English soldier, and left the army one day under the escort of one drummer and two rope ends. These are the men who are now "rallying round the Constitution," and who insist that foreign influence will yet undermine the liberties of the nation. Queer people, those Hindoos. That's so."

☞ The man who thought he could coax a lawyer to take "a dollar less," is now trying to set fire to an iceberg with a cigar.

☞ A sharp idea—Sooner than marry a woman of fifty, I'd take two at five-and-twenty.

☞ Why are green peas like Sebastopol?—Because they must be shelled before taken.

$5000 Reward—Great Race.

THE great race between the Clothing Stores of Carlisle, resulted in the complete triumph of the new store of ARNOLD & SON, in the store room lately occupied by Wise & Campbell, corner of North Hanover and Louther sts. It is now conceded by all and every one that they stand pre-eminent among the clothing dealers in Carlisle, having succeeded in convincing their friends, that they can sell Clothing made and got up according to the latest styles, from 20 to 25 per cent. cheaper than any other house in possibly able to furnish them. They have now on hand a large and splendid assortment of

Ready-made Clothing,

Furnishing Goods, Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings. Also, Hats and Caps, and every thing in their line for Men and Boys. Their materials were selected with the greatest care, purchased at the lowest cash prices, and at such houses only, who never deal in anything like auction trash. Their friends may therefore rest assured that articles purchased of them will and must give satisfaction. Clothing made at the shortest notice in the most fashionable style, having for that purpose secured the services of an experienced Cutter, and laid in a splendid assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, &c., which for beauty and durability cannot be surpassed. To the citizens of the surrounding country we would say, give us a fair trial. All we ask is a fair look at our stock and we will not fail to convince you that our Clothing is better made, of better materials, better trimmed, cut with more taste, and last though not least, cheaper than you have ever bought elsewhere. Also, a large lot of Trunks, Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, &c.

All hail creation far and near,
Of ARNOLD's Store you shall hear;
Let pealing drums and cannon's roar
Proclaim the news from shore to shore;
Great bargains sure, are on the wing,
Rare wonders then we now will sing:
At first we'll speak of CLOTHING rare,
Such trophies, sure will make you stare,
Of broad and narrow cloth so cheap
We'll take a moment's time to speak.
Delighted too you can't but be
With prices and their quality;
Dress and Sack Coats—aye, Vestings too,
What bargains now for all of you!
The Gents will our compliments receive,
And call they must the wonders to believe.
In Pants we have all kinds of styles,
One dollar and upwards, piles on piles.
In Summer Goods—for soon 'twill come—
We'll give you bargains all for 'em.
Frocks and Over-coats so very fine,
Great wonders you shall see in every line,
Hosiery, Suspenders, Under-shirts for all,
All kinds of Gloves to please all who call.
But we cannot stop to enumerate,
We have bargains both good and great.
Our stock too in the Furnishing line
Is plentiful, cheap and fine.

"Man, Know Thyself."

An Invaluable Book for 25 cents.—"Every family should have a copy."

100,000 Copies sold in less than a year. A new edition, revised and improved, just issued.

DR. HUNTER'S Medical Manuel and Hand Book for the Afflicted—containing an outline of the origin, progress, treatment and cure of every form of disease contracted by promiscuous sexual intercourse, by self-abuse or by sexual excess, with advice for their prevention. Written in a familiar style, avoiding all medical technicalities, and everything that would offend the ear of decency; with an outline of complaints incident to Females, from the result of some twenty years' successful practice, exclusively devoted to the cure of diseases of a delicate or private nature.

To which is added receipts for the cure of the above diseases, and a treatise on the causes, symptoms and cure of the Fever and Ague.

Testimony of The Professor of Obstetrics in Penn. College, Philadelphia— "DR. HUNTER'S MEDICAL MANUEL."—"The author of this work, unlike the majority of those who advertise to cure the diseases of which it treats is a graduate of one of the best Colleges in the United States. It affords me pleasure to recommend him to the unfortunate, or to the victim of malpractice, as a successful and experienced practitioner, in whose honor and integrity they may place the greatest confidence.

JOS. S. LONGSHORE, M. D.

From A. Woodward, M. D., of Penn. University, Philadelphia.—It gives me pleasure to add my testimony to the professional ability of the Author of the "MEDICAL MANUAL."—Numerous cases of disease of the Genital Organs, some of them of long standing, have come under my notice, in which his skill has been manifest in restoring to perfect health, in some cases where the patient has been considered beyond medical aid. In the treatment of Seminal weakness, or disarrangement of the functions produced by self-abuse or Excess of venery, I do not know his superior in the profession.—I have been acquainted with the Author some thirty years, and deem it no more than justice to him as well as kindness to the unfortunate victim of early indiscretion, to recommend him as one in whose professional skill and integrity they may safely confide themselves.—ALFRED WOODWARD, M. D.

"This is, without exception, the most comprehensive and intelligible work on the class of diseases on which it treats. Avoiding all technical terms, it addresses itself to the reason of its readers. It is free from all objectionable matter, and no parent, however fastidious, can object to placing it in the hands of his sons.—The author has devoted many years to the treatment of the various complaints treated of, and, with too little breath to puff, and too little presumption to impose, he has offered to the world, at the merely nominal price of 25 cents, the fruit of some twenty years' most successful practice."—Herald.

"No teacher or parent should be without the knowledge imparted in this valuable work. It would save years of pain, mortification and sorrow to the youth under their charge."—People's Advocate.

A Presbyterian clergyman in Ohio, writing of "Hunter's Medical Manuel" says:—"Thousands upon thousands of our youth, by evil example and influence of the passions, have been led into the habit of self-pollution, without realizing the sin and fearful consequences upon themselves and their posterity. The constitutions of thousands who are raising families have been enfeebled, if not broken down, and they do not know the cause or the cure. Anything that can be done so to enlighten and influence the public mind as to check, and ultimately to remove this wide-spread source of human wretchedness, would confer the greatest blessing next to the religion of Jesus Christ, on the present and coming generation. Intemperance (or the use of intoxicating drinks) though it has slain thousands upon thousands, is not a greater scourge to the human race. Accept my thanks on behalf of the afflicted, and, believe me, your co-worker in the good work you are so actively engaged in."

One copy (securely enveloped) will be forwarded, free of postage, to any part of the United States for 25 cents, or six copies for $1. Address (post paid) COSDEN & CO., Publishers, or Box 196, Philadelphia.

☞ Booksellers, Canvassers and Book Agents supplied on the most liberal terms.

First-rate Limestone Land for Sale.

I OFFER for sale a tract of Land lying in Jefferson county, Va., containing 256 Acres, 156 cleared and under good fencing, and the balance in Timber. This land is as productive as any in the county of Jefferson, and well watered. It is within two miles of the Shenandoah river, and the A. L. H. Railroad will run within one mile of it. A more particular description is deemed unnecessary as persons wishing to purchase will view the premises before purchasing. The farm will be shown and terms made known by F. A. Lewis, living near Kabletown, in Jefferson co., or on application, postage paid, to the undersigned at Mobile, Alabama. If the above property is not sold privately before the 16th of July, 1855, it will then be offered at public sale on that day, before the Court House, in Charlestown.

Attention Dyspeptics!

THOSE of you who have been afflicted for years, with this loathsome disease, and who have been using almost every nostrum before the public without relief. We say to you try "Keiffer's Anti-dyspeptic," and you will soon be convinced of its great superiority over every other preparation. We could give you many certificates corroborating our assertion, but a single trial is worth more than all. This remedy is prepared and sold at the Drug store of
