preceding confinement1 How many have diff-out; if not dangerous deliveries, and slow and uncertain recoveries! "To the question, how are these to be preven-ted? what shall be done? the nawer is simple. "Let every woman ascertain for herself, with-out violence to her delicacy, the nature and character of the ailmeat (to which she as a fo-male is subject) the causes from which it nay arise, and the proper remedies for its cure and future prevention. This she can do by possessing a little volume (already possessed by thousands) which tells hor what is the matter, and tells her what to do for it; in simple but chaste words, and such as she can anduistand. This little volume is enti-ited the Martici Woman's PRIVATE MEDI-CAL COMPANION, by Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women. One hun-theath edition (500,000) 'Bino. pp. 250. [On fine paper, estra binding, $1,00.] "A standard work of established reputation, found classed in the catalogues of the great Trado Sales in New York, Philadelphia, and other elites, and sold by the principal booksel-lors in the United States. It was first published age have been sold, of which there were up-wards of one hunder dhousand sent by mail, attesting the bigh estimation in which it is held as a reliable popular medical book for every fe-male, the author having devoted his oxclusive attention to the treatment of complaints peculiar to faushes, in respect to which the is overlastre attention to the treatment of complaints peculiar to faushes, in respect to which he is yearly con-sulted by thousands, both in person and by let-ter.

suffed by thousands, both in porson and by let-ter. Hore every woman can discover, by compar-ing her own symptoms with those described, the nature, character, causes of, and the proper ro-modige for, her complaints. The wile about becoming a mother has often need of instruction and advice of the utmost importance to her future heath, will find such instruction and advice, and also explain many symptoms which otherwise would occasion an x-iety or alarm, as all the peculiarities incident to her situation are described. It is of course impracticable sto convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the maried or those contemplating marriage. The revelations con-tained in its pages have proved a blossing to thousands, as the immerable letters received by the author (which he is permitted by the writers to publish) will atteat.

DATTON, May 1, 1847.

DATTON, May 1, 1847. Dr. A. M. Mauriceau: "My wife has been perceptibly sitking for some three years or more, in consequence of her great anguish and sufforing some months before and during confinement; every successive one more and more doblitated and prostrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was on the last occasion despaired of. I suppo-sed that this state of things was inevitable, and may and the word to At this was on the hast occasion despired of . I suppo-sed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. At this time (now about two months) I heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some matters reaching my case. On its receipt and perusal, I cannot express to you the relief it afforded my distressed mind, and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, on hearning that the great discovery of M. M. Desomeaux provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little conceiv-ed was possible. No pocuniary consideration can ever repay the obligations I and under to you, for having been the means of imparting to us the matters contained in "The Married Wa-man's Private Medical Companion." But for this, ore another year would have passed over my head, in all human prohability up wite would have been in her grave and my children left mo-theries."
