and life-long.

Thus what it first could have been easily remedied, or perhaps better still, not incurred, becomes a complication of diseases, not only ruining the health of the mother, and embittering her days by sickness and suffering, but the trailing her days by sickness and suffering, but the trailing before the distressing the business and pecuniary prospects of the husband. Let every sensible woman dake warning in time, (as thousands have done) by the bitter experience and sufferings of others, of the dreadful consequences she entalls upon herself and those endeared to her, by her ignorance of the simplest and phinostrates of health as connected with the marriage state, the violation of which chialls disease, suffering and misery.

How many are suffering from obstructions or itragularities peculiar to the female system, which undermine the health, the effects of which they are ignorant, and for which their delicacy torbids socking medical advice! How many suffer from prolapsus uteri (falling of the womb), or from flour albus (weakness, debility, &c.)—How many are in constant agony for many months preceding confinement. How many have difficult in the day of the many in the simple. Let every woman ascertain for herself, without rollence to her delicacy, the nature and character of the allment (to which she as a fomale is subject) the causes from which it may arise, and the proper remedies for its cure and fature prevention.

This she cam do by possessing a little volume (already possessed by thousands) which tels

This she can do by possessing a little volume (already possessed by thousands) which tells her what is the matter, and tells her what to do for it, in simple but chaste words, and such as she can understand. This little volume is central the Married Homan's PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION, by Dr. A. M. MACRIERAY, Professor of Disonses of Women. One hundredth edition (500,000 Heno., pp. 250. Here every woman can discover, by comparing her own symptoms with those described, the nature, character, causes of, and the proper remedies for, her complaints.

The wife about becoming a mother has often need of instruction and advice of the ntmost importance to her future health, will find such astruction and advice, and also explain many symptoms which otherwise would occasion anx. icty or alarm, as all the peculiarities incident to her situation are described.

It is of course impracticable to convey fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married or those nature screen intended for the married or those contemplating marriage. The revelations contained in its pages have proved a blessing to thousands, as the innumerable letters received by the author (which he is permitted by the writers to publish) will attest.

Extract of a Letter from a gentleman in Dayto

Dr. A. M. Maurican:

"My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of her great anguish and suffering some months before and during confinement; every successive one more and more debilitated and prostrated her, putting her life in immigent duringer, and which more and more debilitated and prostrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was on the last occasion despaired of. I supposed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned involved that the state of things was inevitable, and resigned involved the meet the worst. At this time (now about two months) I heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some matters raching my case. On its receipt and perusal, I cannot express to you the rolleft it afforded my distressed mind, and the Joy its pages imparted to my wife, on hearning that the great discovery of M. M. Desomeaux provided a remedy. It opplied a prospect to me which I little conceived that prospect to me which I little conceived that prospect to me which I am under to you, for having been the means of imparting to at the matters contained in "The Married Wo-

In consequence of the universal popularity of the work as evidenced by its extraordinary sale, lowest various impositions have been attempted, as well on bookselbers as on the public, by imitations of title page, spiritous editions, and surreptitious additional entry of the page.
