We knew Dr. Show prior to his going to Germany, in '41 and '42, and we believe he was honest in his convictions; but, like many other honest men, he died a victim to his delusion. Cold water is not adapted to all manifestations of disease, nor every variety of 'temperament and consilization. In the East Indies, children are rarely ever washed in water, but they are olded every day. 'A child's head can be kept' much cleaner with 'oil that without it; and many young persons with heetic cheeks would probably never know the last days of consumption, if their parents would insist on having the chest, back, and limbs anointed with the "Electric Oil" two of three times a week. The Hebrow Physicians soom to have considered oil as more efficacious than any other remedy. The sick were always anointed with oil, as the most powerful means that was known of checking disease.

We are not unsupported in our statements, that we have made the most important discovery of modern times; and that the generation now coming on the active stage of life, will most fully acknowledge and apply the principle of Hygiene we have introduced. "No. Useding, vomiting nor purgings," but a perfect, natural and healthful action of all the powers of life may be kept up without the aid of poisons or weakening appliances. Oil of liself, however, has no Electric principle. We claim its use as a necessary adjunct, and that the combination we have discovered, in which we have introduced an Electric power or principle, is capable of relieving pain instantly in most cases, always soon, and produces no possible had results.

The "art of healing," though of more importance than all other arts and discoveries, has not kept pace with other arts and sciences—so says an able writer, which he thinks is owing to the proneness of schools to adhere to old views and antiquated dogmas. But the people are beginning to open their eyes and to see these things in their true light, and hence the rise and progress of all the "isma" and theorets; female doctors and quacks flourish, because the people will not believe in the infallibility of a preferations of, inconsistent, and they are bound to try all and to hold fast that which is good, if it can be found: "It is said that Dr. McClintock was onco're-
