NO. 32.

A Powerful Appeal to Democrats.
At a late mass meeting held in Saline county, Arkansas, S. H. Hempstead, Esq., delivered an able speech against Know-Nothingism...

Poetical.

A LOVE SONG.

BY T. P. HEALEY.

Al! Mary will thou love me well,
This well, and love forever,
Nor let the alien world's false spell,
A love so sweet-linked never.

Miscellaneous.

THE WAY SHE WON HIM.

A young girl leaned from the window of a pleasant country parlor, chatting with a fine looking man, some ten years her senior...

Wager your diamond ring against mine, that I will declare to you before the least year—yes!
If you purpose to secure him by coquetry

HARP OF A THOUSAND STRINGS.
The Brandon (Miss.) Register reports the following curious sermon, preached at the town of Waterproof, not far from Brandon:

Be Kind.
A LITTLE word in kindness spoken,
A motion or a tear;
How oft hath soothed a heart that's broken,
And cured a friend sincere.

How Ben Got Cured.
A friend of ours, whom we call Ben, is one of the most enthusiastic individuals in regard to females we ever knew.

The Women of Peru.
Of all the Spanish customs of the olden times, devotion to women is preserved in perfect purity only in Peru.

The days passed by, Marion, like Godfrey, was simply a guest at her mother's pleasant table. She passed on to devote her whole time, if she choose to do so.

"I'm not a quine tell you, elenchy winer my text may be said; I suffered it, it is rather like the Herald's! Heigh ho! but I'd rather be a hard shell as no shell at all.

Lecture on "Stromony." Ethan Spikes, of Hornby, Maine, writes the following letter to the editor of the Portland Advertiser, in relation to a lecture on "Stromony" given at the country.

So often had he tried to see her face, and so often had he been balked, that his determination was renewed, and he resolved to see her there.

Shooting Stars.
Talking of shooting and bright puts me in mind of something I observed one shiny night in Broadway, said the Colonel.

Marion was puzzled. For the first time in her life she met him coldly, but he did not seem to notice it. She greeted him half-heartedly, he wore a sarcastic air that made her angry; and if, as was often the case, she tried to pique him by a desperate flirtation with another.

"My text, breathing, leads me to speak of spirits. Now that's a great many kinds of spirits in the world—in the first place, there's the speris as some folks call ghosts, and then there's the speris us turpen-tine, and then there's the speris as sum folks call liquor."

Color and Complexion—Study for Ladies.
Red Drapery—Rose red cannot be put in contact with the roughest complexion without causing them to lose some of their freshness.

Color and Complexion—Study for Ladies.
Yellow Drapery—Yellow imparts a violent to a fair skin, and is less favorable than the delicate green.

Execution of Frederick Miller, at Cumberland, Md.
The execution of Frederick Miller, at Cumberland, Md., was a subject of much interest to the public.

Marion was proud as well as beautiful and coquettish. Was she the gay city belle, for whose smiles a thousand laughing lovers had sued in vain, to waste her time in this lonely out-of-the-way place, simply because a perverse fellow had beset her with a preference to his look?

"Now, the different sorts us fire in the world may be likened unto the different persuasions of Christians in the world. In the first place, there's the speris as some folks call ghosts, and then there's the speris us turpen-tine, and then there's the speris as sum folks call liquor."

Color and Complexion—Study for Ladies.
Blue Drapery—Blue imparts orange, which is susceptible of allowing itself to be easily tinted with the lightest shades of yellow.

Color and Complexion—Study for Ladies.
Orange Drapery—Orange is too brilliant to be elegant; it makes fair complexions blue, and gives a greenish tinge to the complexion.

Wealth of Atlantic Cities.
The wealth concentrated at the great commercial points of the United States is truly astonishing.
For instance, one-eighth part of the population of this country is employed in the cities of New York and Boston.

Marion's eyes followed his as they looked down the orchard path, and a gentleman stood slowly towards the house, reading intently from a small volume in his hand.
Seeing the roses a little more homely in his curls, (for she was born a coquette,) she whispered:

Smart Children.
A child three years of age, with a book in its hand, was seen in the street. It is too often the death warrant, such as the condemned nuptial looks at—fatal, yet beyond his comprehension.

I'm Almost Home.
The traveler, weary and worn, covered with dust and suffering from many privations, sees in the distance the curling smoke ascending from his old homestead, and he feels that his heart is full of utterance, exclaims:

Color and Complexion—Study for Ladies.
Purple Drapery—Purple is a very rich color, and is very becoming to the complexion, but it is not so favorable to the complexion as the delicate green.

Rev. Mr. Clemm then addressed the spectators. When he had concluded, the Rev. Mr. Miller arose in answer to a question, and delivered a fervent prayer, in which he again protested his innocence, declaring that in meeting his victims in Heaven he would be acquitted by them.

"Miss (Cliff?) he said, 'I may not see you as I breathe, but I already take the meal, and am about to start on a hunting expedition. So I will say good-bye now.'
'Good-bye, Mr. Clinton,' she answered, calmly. 'I trust you will have a pleasant day.'
He took the coat, steady hand she offered, in one lot and trembling.

Blackwood's Magazine.
SOMETHING TO REMEMBER.—We should make it a principle to extend the help of friendship to every man who discharges his duties, and maintains good order—who manifests a deep interest in the welfare of general society—whose department is upright, and whose mind is intelligent—without stopping to ascertain whether he is a Quaker or a Methodist, or a Unitarian, or a Baptist, or a member of any other denomination.

How to Strong when you are weak.
Go it strong when you are weak, by contributing for charitable purposes. It will pay you to do so.

"What now, Louise?" asked Marion, as he stood silent, looking absent from the window.
"Not much, Marion, I was only wondering if you would win Godfrey's heart as you have won so many others."
"Most certainly—if I think it worth my while to try," she answered carelessly.
"Not if you flirt with him, Marion. Godfrey has never loved yet—nor will he, unless you quitly, and will never yield to a flirt. Be your brighter and better self and you will win him.
I hope so—from my heart."
"Phaw! Don't lecture, Coz. Will you stable fitch's time, Judge, only do con-
