An Overwholming Reply.

in the course of a long, able, and withering heply to the oft-refuted slanders in regard to federalism of Mr. Buchanan, the New

Now, the truth is, Mr. Buchanan never was a beleralism to true sense of that term. A federalist was an opposer of the war of 1812: Mr. Buchanan supported the war by his own for the first time in 1820, and as a supported the war by his own for the first time in 1820, and as a supported by the first time in 1820, and as a supported by the fedder, their Clintonians, and democrats, it his enemies a chance to say that he was a final true way to determite what he was is to go to the record. Did he support federal or whig measures? Did he favor a still to be liberal construction of the constitutions; By their fruits ye shall know them.—Now almost the first speech (and a most able bagis, was) which Mr. Buchanan made on the floor of Congress was in opposition to a bank. York Day Book says :

Now almost the first speech (and a most able back), was which Mr. Buchanan made on the Boor of Congress was in opposition to a banking taken. It this speech he showed its injusticate the laboring classes, and its wrong in graviting special privileges to the few.

Then other questions his record is equally democratic. Party lines then were not drawn. The old federal party had forsaken its principles, and made pretensions to the 'era of good realing,' as it was called. When, however, Mr. Monroe drew the lines in his celebrated nessage upon internal improvement, and in the manuclation of the Monroe doctrine, the good of the manuclation of the Monroe doctrine, the good of the speech of the Monroe doctrine, the continual life speech of the properties of the properties of the properties of the present day! REAPER AND MOWER,

WILL be for sale in Carlisle, by Henry L.

Burkholder, at the following rates: Reaper, cash, $165; Reaper and Mower, cash, $190; Reaper and Mower, on time, $210; Renper, $180; $75 on delivery; $75 first of September; and the balance first of December, with freight from the Factory at Harrisburg. The Atkin's Reaper is built of the best material that can be found, and put up in the best workmanlike in manner, warranted to cut grain as well as can be done with the Gradle. Parmers getting Atkin's Reaper do not run the risk they would in buying a Reaper about one thousand miles a way from home; if there should anything break they can get the castings at the Factory at Harrisburg, at any time. Persons buying this Reaper have the benefit of all improvements free, hereafter, by applying to J. S. Wright, at the Factory.

The change from Reaper to Mower is very simple and unade in a few minutes; and a wheel is attached to the outer end of the moving bar, to regulate the height of cutting, to facilitate backing, and move from field to field.

Points to Consider in Baying a Reaper. Every farmer, by himself or with a neighbor, should have a Reaper. If you have none, or even if you have an old-fashioned back-breaker, you will look for one—being laid so evenly and straight as to be bou securely, preventing scattering in the after handling, and protecting the heads well when stacked.

OF Upon the Sixth, Eighth and Ninth points

We Upon the Sixth, Eighth and Ninth points, we unhesitatingly claim superiority over all other Reapers ever invented. The saving or wasting grain in harvesting with machines, is a point not proponly appreciated. Even botween those considered good and the Atkin's there is a difference, at present prices, of ten to twenty dollars per day, and over.

10th Convertable into a Mower, with little trouble and small cost.

12 Some old fashioned back-breaking Reapers can be used for mowing, but no other Solf-Raker; and no convertable machine claiming to be a good Reaper is superior to ours in grass.

11th—Knife never chokes. By Murray's back sickle edge, for which we own the exclusive patent, the great trouble in Mowing Machines—the choking—is effectually obviated.

stvo patent, the great from in in stowing Anchines—the choking—is effectually obviated.

Carlier, Pa., Sept. 6, 1866.

J. S. Wright, Esq.—Doer Sir—Having purchased in July last, Atkin's Self-Raking Reaper and Mower from your agent, H. L. Burkholder, Esq., I take pleasure in recommending it as the most economical Reaper for the farmer to buy. I am sure I never before cut and put up the same amount of grain with so little expense, so little help, and so well. I believe I have saved the one-third of the price of the Reaper this year. Not only that, but it runs light on the horses. The Raker saves a good man. The oven and regular depository of the gravels will save one man in four in binding. We have had from twenty to thirty farmers looking at it when going, many of whom had other Reapers but not the Raker, and the most of them said it was the best, and it performed well. I know of no machine equal to it. The Mower, after we had it started, cut 6\hat acres from 6 o'clock to 10 o'clock. It was timothy. If these lines can be of any avail to you, you may use them as you think bust.

Yours Respectfully.

the most complete, economical labor-saving machine of the kind yet introduced into this part of the country; although my farm is hilly, it performed its work to my entire satisfaction, and to the admiration of a great number of farmers who were present on the occasion of its trial. Besides making the cleanest work of any Reaper I have over seen, it requires but half the power to move it that Reapers do generally. Two horses or nules can draw it with ease, though I used four on account of the land being hough I used four on account of the land being Reaper and Mower," I had both in use on my farm and each performed its work to my entire satisfaction, and to the admiration of many farmers who witnessed them in operation. I recommend this machine, as one of the most important inventions for the farmer, and a great economical labor-saving machine.

You, as the agent for Mr. J. S. Wright, have done a lasting benefit to our terming community by the introduction of the Reaper into this county.

J. S. Whighter Dear Sire Your agent, H. G. Bennet, called on us this summer, to see if we would accept the agency of the Arkin's Solfraking Reaper. We had midden of our unitide not to accept the agency of an a Reaper or Mowor, until we could get one that we could have confidence in to recommend to our customers, as we are manificaturing agricultural impliements at Trenton. Now, Sir, we would be glad to accept the agency of Arkin's Reaper here, as we have implicit confidence to recommend it to the Farmers of New Jersey and Pennsylvania.
