Mrs. Kelly is Asked for Her Name.

Among the arrests made recently, was that of Mrs. Kelly, for intoxication. Mrs. Kelly is a talkative little body, and shockingly given to one idea. We give her examination:

"What is your name?"

"As dacint a woman as ever the sun shone upon. I've lived in Albany twelve years coming next michelmas—I know it by the token, that the Sunday before, we waked O'Neil."

"What is your name?"

"Me character is as good as any woman's in the State. If you think I'm lying call on Mrs. Manning—a divil a nicer woman then Mrs. Manning iver flirted a house cloth or peeled a pratie."

"Stop that rigmarole and give me your name."

"Stop what! my rigmarole? And what my rigmarole done that you should throw slurs on a dacint woman? Would ye take advantage of my weakness, ye gray headed ould coon ye?"

"Will you give me your name?"

"Me what?"

"Your name."

"And perhaps you think I've not got one Bedad, I've as good a name as iver came till Ameriky, and I'm not ashamed of it."

"Will you give it to me?"

"I'd see you to the divil first! I'd not be-mean the Kelly's to that degees as to ten yees I'm one of 'em."

"Then your name is Kelly?"

"And who slathered the out? Show me the blackguard and I'll dust his coat with a poker."

"Never mind all that, Mrs. Kelly, you were found intoxicated."

"And who paid for the rum? Not you, you ould vilyan"

"It matters not who paid for the rum.—You drank it, and then committed a breach of the peace, for doing which I sentence you to jail for ten days"

"And dare you send a Kelly to jail for taking a little wake gin to get the wind from her heart?"

"Certainly, a Kelly or any other person, if they violate the laws, Clinton take her off"

Clinton undertook to do so, but got so entangled with Mrs. Kelly's legs, that the pair fell down stairs, breaking officer Clinton's watch, knee pan and suspenders. Mrs. Kelly is now in jail, but threatens to take it out of the ould vilyan's skin, the first time she meets him with a mop handle"

What did the Clock Say?

The clock upon the tower of a neighboring church tolled forth slowly and solemnly, the knell of the departed hour.

As the last sound died away, Willie, who was sitting on the carpet at his mother's feet, lifted his head, and looking earnestly in her face asked,

"Mother! what did the clock say?"

"To me," said his mother sadly, "it seemed to say, gone—gone—gone"

"What, mother! what has gone?"

"Another hour my son"

"What is an hour, mother?"

"A white-winged messenger from our Father in Heaven, sent by him to inquire of you—of me—what we are doing? what we are saying, what we are thinking and feeling?"

"Where has it gone, mother?"

"Back to Him who sent it, bearing on its wings, that were so pure and white when it came, a record of all our thoughts words and deeds, while it was with us."

"Were they all such as our Father could receive with a smile of approbation?"

Reader! what record are the hours as they come and go, bearing up on high for you?

☞ A gentleman who resides in North Pearl street went a fishing the other day and among other things that he hauled in was a large sized turtle. To enjoy the surprise of his servant girl, he placed it in her bedroom. The next morning the first thing that bounded into the breakfast-room was Biddy, with the exclamation:

"Be jabers, I've got the devil"

"What devil?" exclaimed he, feigning surprise.

"The bull beebug that has been actin the children for the last month"

As this is a good name for the domestic assin, we thought we would let it out Bull bed bug is good.

☞ Two gentlemen were lately examining the breast of a plow on a stall in the market place.

"I'll bet you a dollar," said one, "you do not know what it's for"

"Done, said the other—"it's for sale"

The bet was paued.

☞ Two lawyers having a dispute, one said to the other, who was a dwarf

"If you are not more civil I'll put you in my pocket"

"In that case," replied the little one, "you will have more law in your pocket, than you ever had in your head."

☞ "You look rather flat," said the tea-kettle to the 'pan cake' "I would take that as an insult,' said the pan cake, 'but I am aware that you have been steaming it"

☞ A western editor puts up on the door of his sanctum—"Lady visitors are requested to go to the devil when they wish to obtain an interview with the editor"

☞ He who marries for beauty only, is like a buyer of cheap furniture—the varnish that caught the eye will not endure the fire-side blaze.

PRECARIOUS.—"How is your husband this afternoon, Mrs Squiggs?" "Why the doctor says as how as if he lives till mornin', he shall have some hopes of him, but if he don't, he must give up"

Sweet Kate was heard one day to sigh,
"With beauty lost, I'd wish to die"
"Oh no, said Tom, with humor quaint,
"Not wish to dye, but merely paint."

☞ "What is the meaning of the work perseverence?" asked one negro of another, while conversing about a sermon they had just heard. "It means take hold fast and never let go," replied the other

☞ The less a man does the more fuss he makes. A hen with one chicken does more scratching than if she were blessed with a family of fifteen.

☞ Sincerity does not consist of speaking your mind on all occasions, but in doing so when silence would be censurable and falsehood inexcusable.

☞ A restlessness in Men's minds to be something they are not, and have something they have not, is the root of all immorality.

☞ The gentleman so often spoken of in novels, who riveted people with his gaze, has now obtained permanent employment in a boiler manufactory.

☞ "You are writing my bill on very rough paper," said a client to his attorney "Never mind," said the lawyer, "it has to be filed before it comes into court."

☞ To some men it is indispensable to be worth money, for without it they would be worth nothing.

☞ Man creates more discontent to himself than ever is occasioned by others.

☞ Receive your thoughts as thoughts, and treat your desires like children.

☞ The man who is without an idea, generally has the greatest idea of himself.

☞ Better be upright with poverty, than crooked with plenty.

THE great race between the Clothing Stores of Carlisle, resulted in the complete triumph of the new store of ARNOLD & SON, in the store room lately occupied by Wise & Campbell, corner of North Hanover and Louther sts. It is now conceded by all and every one that they stand pre-eminent among the clothing dealers in Carlisle, having succeeded in convincing their friends, that they can sell Clothing made and got up, according to the latest styles, from 20 to 25 per cent. cheaper than any other house is possibly able to furnish them. They have now on hand a large and splendid assortment of

Ready-made Clothing,

Furnishing Goods, Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings. Also, Hats and Caps, and every thing in their line for Men and Boys. Their materials were selected with the greatest care, purchased at the lowest cash prices, and at such houses only, who never deal in anything like auction trash. Their friends may therefore rest assured that articles purchased of them will and must give satisfaction. Clothing made at the shortest notice in the most fashionable style, having for that purpose secured the services of an experienced Cutter, and laid in a splendid assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, &c., which for beauty and durability cannot be surpassed To the citizens of the surrounding country we would say, give us a fair trial. All hail creation far and near,
Of ARNOLD'S Store you shall hear;
Let pealing drums and cannon's roar
Proclaim the news from shore to shore;
Great bargains sure, are on the wing,
Rare wonders then we now will sing:
At first we'll speak of CLOTHING rare,
Such trophies sure will make you stare,
Of broad and narrow cloth so cheap
We'll take a moment's time to speak.
Delighted too you can't but be
With prices and their qualities;
Dress and Sack Coats—aye, Vestings too,
What bargains now for all of you!
The Gents will our compliments receive,
And call they must the wonders to believe.
In Pants we have all kinds of styles,
One dollar and upwards, piles on piles.
In Summer Goods—for soon 'twill come—
We'll give you bargains all for fun.
Frocks and Over-coats so very fine,
Great wonders you shall see in every line.
Hosiery, Suspenders, Under-shirts for all,
All kinds of Gloves to please all who call.
But we cannot stop to enumerate.
