Farmers, Gardeners and Amateurs!

Do you hear the notes of the blue-bird in Spring has come. Be ready to sow and plant with the first impulse of nature. Early sowing and planting has a double advantage over that which is delayed until the eleventh hour. All such who wish to possess themselves of good articles, and to grow their own produce, and have the choice of the best of the season, will find in this Catalogue all the most approved varieties, as well as Greenhouse Plants, such as Cucumbers, Peas, Potatoes, Beans, etc., and a large assortment of all kinds of seeds, and a variety of plants, together with many other plants such as are usually cultivated in the Greenhouse, may call at the Old Whitehall Nursery, east of the Railroad Bridge, Carlisle, where they will be accommodated on reasonable terms. We can supply from five to ten thousand Asparagus Plants, two years old from the seed, to such who wish to make new beds, and to those who have been deprived of the enjoyment of one of the greatest luxuries of the season. As a wholesome dish coming early in the season, when vegetables are much needed, we think it very desirable that Asparagus should have place in every garden. N. B.—Many of our Apple Trees are of large size, suitable for filling vacancies in old orchards. W. LINE, Carlisle, March 18, 1857.—if

Cumberland County Normal School,

NEWVILLE, PA.
FACULTY:
D. SHELLY, Principal, and Professor of the Art and Theory of Teaching.
D. E. KAST, Professor of Education and Grammar.
S. B. HEIGES, Professor of Mathematics.
F. M. L. GILLEN, Professor of Natural Sciences.
G. H. HAY, Principal of Model Schools.
J. H. HOSSETTER, Teacher of Intermediate Department of Model Schools.
MISS M. SHELLY, Teacher in Primary Department in Model Schools.
This Institution will be opened for the reception of pupils on Wednesday, the 8th of April, 1857.
BUILDINGS AND LOCATION.
This school will occupy the convenient and tasteful building of the "Big Spring Literary Institute," in the borough of Newville, by whom donated to this Institution. It has been donated for the use of the School.
The building is a spacious brick edifice, seventy by forty feet, three stories in height, and affords ample room for hall, recitation rooms, &c.
The town of Newville affords unequalled advantages for the location of this school. Easy of access, healthy, and situated in a highly intelligent country, it offers every facility for the teacher and student to vigorously prosecute their studies.
DESIGN.
The Board of Teachers, composed of one Director from each school district in Cumberland county, have established the school with the design that teachers may be properly trained and qualified in their duties.
The school offers a course of study which is a proper preparation for their professional duties, and to furnish as far as possible, a model of a well organized and efficiently conducted school to all who may desire to attend, and prepare themselves for other positions in life.
COURSE OF STUDIES.
The courses of study are arranged in departments, without regard to the order in which the various branches will be pursued, or to the length of time which may be devoted to them.
CLASSICAL.—The Elementary parts, Spelling and Definitions of words, Reading, Elocution, English Grammar, Composition including Rhetoric, the Art of Debate.
MATHEMATICS.—Oral or Mental Arithmetic, Written Arithmetic, Algebra, Trigonometry, Mensuration, Algebra, Geometry, Surveying, and Geographical Geography, including the use of Globes.
NATURAL SCIENCES.—Descriptive and Physical Geography, and the use of the Globes, Astronomy, with Illustrations by Magic Lantern, and a course of Lectures on "Human and Comparative Physiology," and "Human and Comparative Anatomy." The study of School Systems, Lectures on Education and the details of Teaching, Practice in Model Schools. Vocal music through the year.
Students who do not desire to become teachers can select their studies from the above list, and will be classified according to attainments.
LECTURES.—Lectures on Education and Teaching, and on the application of instruction and discipline in schools. Although not relied upon as the chief basis of instruction, yet, in connection with a right study of books, they are of great utility, and will be discarded.
The student will be expected to master his subjects, and recite them in clear, and well-chosen language of his own.
MODEL SCHOOLS.—There will be three Model Schools connected with the Normal School, which will be of great utility to teachers in practice. The Normal student will be frequently called upon by the Principal to take part in the management, and to adapt a proper text and method in his attempts to teach the young.
DISCIPLINE.—No school can prosper without good discipline. The government of the Normal and Model Schools, and of the public schools. It will be rigid and impartial, yet relying much upon the self-respect of the pupil. Misconduct will fall immediately and ungenerously upon the offender.
TERMS OF TUITION.
Sessions will continue three months. The tuition will be $5 per month, including the use of a Manual, and a right study of books, except walking. The pupils will frequently be visited by the members of the Faculty, and a care exercised over them at all times.
ADMISSION.
Male pupils must be sixteen years of age, and female pupils fifteen. Satisfactory evidence of good moral character must be furnished, and the pupils must have healthy constitutions.
EXAMINATIONS.
There will be public examinations at the close of each term, both in Normal and Model schools, which the public is invited to attend. A certificate will be awarded to those who give satisfactory evidence of accurate attainments combined with ability to teach.
TEXT BOOKS.
Webster's Dictionary, Saunders' Series of Readers, Pelton's Outline Maps, Greenleaf's Arithmetic, Bonycastle's Monstrations, Davies' Legends, Gunmore's and Gillip's Surveyors, Parry's Philosophy, Burdett's Astronomy, Cutter's Physiology, Quackenbush's Rhetoric and Composition, Sumner's Elocutionary Chart, Stillman's Chemistry, Gove's Digest of English Grammar.
VISITATIONS.
The Normal and Model schools will be open to visitors during the term through all regular sessions of the Board of Directors. The directors and strangers are cordially invited to visit them at their convenience.
