How the New Costle Bank Bursted. The Pittsburg papers noticing the explosio tle Bank, leaving $100,000 of its worthless bills in the hands of individuals who took them because "they are as good as gold," says:

The New Castle Bank has been in operation about eighteen months. When organized a Wall Street operator, named Sherman, obtained control, and put in a German named Neiler, as Cashier. Within a few months it was assertained that Neiler had loaned its notes to Sherman to the amount of fifty or sixty thought of the street where we are recentive, was a second to the street where we are recentive, was a second to the street where the second to Sherman to the amount of fifty or sixty thousand dollars, whereupon a prosecution was instituted against Sherman, who disgorged ten thousand dollars, and subsequently, all they could ascertain he had received, except four order thousand dollars. Of the amount returned, sixteen thousand dollars, it is alleged, was retuned by a Pittsburg broker, for his services in forcing the Wall street man to disgorge. Neiler was summarily dismissed, and one Wagonseller, of Luzerne county, (who gave General Charter and Hon. II. M. Fuller as bail, in $30,000,) was chosen cashier. The direct tors commenced withdrawing heavy issues of the bank, and in two months past had redeemed nearly two hundred thousand dollars, when, in $30,000.) was chosen cashier. The directors commenced withdrawing heavy issues of the bank, and in two months past had redeemed nearly two hundred thousand dollars, when, on Wednesday of last week, the cashier was missing, and with him whatever small sum in cash that might previously have been in the "gaalts" of safe of the institution.

Intrifig the day the bank remained closed, on Thursday notice was posted up that "the cashier and teller had gone East on business"—and the bank has not since been opened, although some of the directors redeemed consuderable amounts of its notes on Thursday and Friday, and pledged their property for the redemption of more. On Wednesday Wagonseller was in the city, and gave a man five thousand dollars in notes of the bank, on his promise to return him four thousand in other money on Saturday, in Philadelphia. The flue thousand have been returned to the bank.

The runaway cashier appears to be a defaulter m $53.000—according to the statement of the directors—but it may be much more.—They think the notes out do not exceed $0,000 but, as the President cannot tell how many he has signed, or to what extent Wagonseller has over-issued, we have no doubt it is much for the directors—but it may be much more. The assets are nominally two hundred thousand, but may prove not worth one fourth that amount. As the ascertained losses amount fellout for the same in the control of the directors—the transport of the directors—but it may be much more. has over-issued, we have no doubt it is much more. The assets are nominally two hundred thousand, but may prove not worth one fourth that amount. As the ascertained losses amount to but seventy or eighty thousand dollars, and the stockholders are individually liable for every note out, we have little doubt its circulation will be eventually redeemed at par. The directors should at once offer such a reward as will secure the arrest and punishment of the secondard who has defrauded them.
