Tribute to the Late Miss Faller.

Tribute to the tate Miss Fuller. It has pleased God in his wise providence to remove from our midst, Miss Joszwuke B, FAL-LER, and our kearts are wrung with bitter sor-row. In the garting a gloom is cast over the circle of her acquaintance, for a beloved and valued friend has departed from among them. The classification for the present is grievousin. The classification for the present is grievousin-deed, but we trust it will bring a message of mercy which will not be sent in vain. Miss F. was hundle, meck and gentle, toving and most warmly beloved in all relations as danghter, sis-ter, friend and christian; earnest, zealous and useful, an example at hane and an example in the Church.

"None knew her but to love her, None named her but to praise." Her illness was lingering and often painful, bu was easy and tranquil. "God gave sweet rapture to the saint at last,

As on its plumes of glory upward darting, The joyous spirit know all grief was past."
