HOLLDAYSDUNG; Aug. 21.—David S. M'Kim, convicted of Killing Mr. Noircross, as Alloona, in this State, several months since, was executed at 20 minutes before one o'clock this afternoon. He made a long speech on the scatfold, occupying nearly two hours, in which he gave a ketch of his career through life, and alluded to the murder, and attempted to show that it was not probable that he did it. For some time past he lost the usual cheerfulness that he manifested in conversation and became rather melancholy.

This morning, a stream of humanity commenced pouring into the town at a very early hour, and nothing was talked about or thought of but the condemned and his approaching end.

The shortiff was beset, yesterday and this morning, by porsons who were anxious to get within the prison walls to witness the last dread scene; but a very few out of the immense throng were gratified in their wish to be allowed to onter the enclosure, and the disappointed multituda, and to rest contented with grazing at the prison walls or in picking up such scraps of information from within doors as were retailed outside.

Graat calculations were made on the manuscript statement which the condemned had prepared for the purpose of reading under the gallows, and many thought that in it would be found an admission of his guilt, but this expectation was disappointed this morning when it was monoticed that McKim had destroyed the paper he high prepared. It seems that, in a fit of rage, he fore the "statement" to pieces.

This report of the attempted suicide of the murdierer, and of hits having torn the much talked of paper to pieces, created an immense sensation out of doors, and the excitement went up to fever heat.

The prisoner slept during the greater portion of the night. In the morning he opened a vein in his wrist, but was timely discovered. He then ate a hearty breakfast. In a fit of passion he destroyed the manuscript speech he intended making on the scaffold.

At 8 o'clock he commenced devotional sorvices, which were continued until he was brought out of the jail.

Rev. Messrs. Jankin and McLean and the officers, accompanied him to the scaffold.

On this packfold he spoke for an hour and seven minutes, the prisoner protesting his imnocence to the last. His closing words were, "I leave my poor mother, wife and child to the care heavin?" And their turning to the Sheniff, directed him to go ahead as soon as he pleased. He spoke very loud and distinct, and classed many of the witnesses at the trial as liars. RESOLUTION

PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE COM-

RESOLVED by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met. That the following amendments are proposed to the constitution of the commonwealth in accordance with the provisions of the tenth article thereof. FIRST AMENDMENT.

There shall be an additional article to said constitution to be designated as article cleven, as follows:

ARTICLE XI. OF PUBLIC DEBTS.

OF PUBLIC DEBTS.

SECTION 1. The state may contract debts, to supply casual deficits or failures in revenues, or to meet expenses not otherwise provided for; but the aggregate amount of such debts direct and contingent; whether contracted by virtue of one or more acts of the general assembly, or at different periods of time, shall never exceed seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and themoney arising from the creation of such debts, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was obtained, or to repay the debts so contracted, and to no other purpose whatever.

Section 2. In addition to the above limited power the state may contract debts to renel in SECTION 2. In addition to the above. Jimited power the state may contract debts to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the state in war, or to redeem the present outstanding indebtedness of the state; but the money arising from the contracting of such debts, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was raised, or to repay such debts, and to no other purpose whatever.

whatever shall be created by, or on behalf of the state.

SECTION 4. To provide for the payment of the present debt, and any additional debt contracted as aforesaid, the legislature shall, at its first session, after the adoption of this amendment, create a sinking fund, which shall be sufficient to pay the accruing interest on such debt, and annually to reduce the principal thereof by a sum not less than two hundred and flify thousand dollars: which sinking fund shall consist of the net annual income of the public works, from time to time owned by the state, or the proceeds of the sale of the same, or any part thereof, and of the income or proceeds of sale of stocks owned by the state, together with other funds. or resources, that may be designated by law. The said sinking fund may be increased, from time to time, by assigning to it any part of the taxes, or other revenues of the state, not required for the ordinary and current expenses of government, and unless in case of war, invasion or insurrection, no part of the said sinking fund shall be used or applied otherwise than in whatever shall be created by, or on behalf of the sion or insurrection, no part of the said sinking fund shall be used or applied otherwise than in extinguishment of the public debt, until the amount of such debt is reduced below the sum of five millions of dollars.

Section 5. The credit of the commonwealth SECTION 5. The credit of the commonwealth shall not in any manner, or event, be pledged, or loaned to, any individual, company, corporation, or association; nor shall the commonwealth hereafter become a joint owner, or stockholder, in any company, association, or corposition.
