Poetical. SOME THINGS LOVE ME. BY THOMAS MICHAMER REED. All within and all without me, Yell and hurrah! Oh, how still! To my feet, the river glideth Through the woods and meadows dark; On the stream the white moon ripples Like a bark— And the hidden leaves above me, Till I think some things there be In this dreary world that love me— Even me!

Miscellaneous. THE FEARFUL SHIPWRECK. NARRATIVE OF THE SURVIVORS. BY STEPHEN GALDWELL'S STATEMENT. We left Havanna on the 8th. Out about twenty hours before we got in the breeze. The steamer did her duty well, and rode through the storm very steadily. The belief among the crew was that she would be wrecked on the coast of Florida, and that she would be wrecked on the coast of Florida...

General Packer. It is gratifying to observe the manner in which our candidate for Governor is received, and his visit to the various portions of the State. It is a very natural and ordinary thing that politicians should be enthusiastic in the immediate presence of their leader. In Gen. Packer's case, however, there is a degree of respect, perhaps we should say, affection, for the person of the man, very rarely displayed. This is not surprising to those who know him most intimately...

Skeleton of a Fashionable Roman. The following from the Knickerbocker, is a well merited burlesque on the style of discourse so common in these days of dandy-jack gad-aboutism. It is a specimen of the dandy-jack gad-aboutism, and is a specimen of the dandy-jack gad-aboutism...

Stephens' Pocket Piece. In the pocket book of the Hon. Stephen Allen, who was drowned on board the Henry Clay, was found a printed slip apparently cut from a newspaper, of which the following is a copy: "Keep good company, or none. Never be idle. If your hands can't be usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind. Always speak the truth. Make your professions. Live up to your engagements. Keep your own secrets, if you have any. When you speak to a person, look him in the face. Good company and good conversation are the truest friends of a man. Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts. If any one speaks evil of you, let your life be so that you will believe him. Drink no kind of intoxicating liquors. Ever live (misfortune excepted) within your income. When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day. Make no haste to be rich. If you would prosper, Small and steady gain is the true way to success with tranquillity of mind. Never play at any game of chance. Avoid temptations; through fear you may not withstand it. Earn money before you spend it. Never run into debts unless you see a way to get them paid. Never borrow if you can possibly avoid it. Do not marry until you are able to support a wife. Never marry for any one. Be just before you are generous. Keep yourself innocent, you will be happy. Save when you are young, spend when you are old. Read over the above maxims at least once a week.
