I am not Old.

I am not old, though years have cast
Their shadows on my way;
I am not old though youth has passed
On rapid wings away;
For in my heart a fountain flows,
And round it pleasant thoughts repose;
And sympathies and feelings high
Spring like the stars on evening's sky.

I am not old; time may have set
"A signet on my brow,"
And some faint furrows there have met
Which care may deepen now;
Yet love, fond love, a chaplet weaves,
Of fresh young buds and verdant leaves;
And still in fancy I can twine
Thoughts sweet as flowers that once were mine.

"Off Mit His Head."

A breathlessly-excited individual, says a late number of the San Francisco Morning Call, rushed into the police office yesterday, and enquired for the chief.

"What do you want with him?" inquired an impassive officer.

"I vants," said he with a Teutonic accent, "I vants ein paper to kill a tam tog vot bites me in to leg."

"Ah, you wish an order of execution issued against a vicious canine," said the officer.

"No, I tussant vant no such ting. I vants a paper to tell me to kill te tam bup. He pites my leg so pad, I have got te hydrophope, und will kill him, or goes mit, too."

"Ah, now I see," said the impassive temperament; "you require authority to proceed with force of arms against the dangerous animal."

"Mein Got, no—dat ish not vat I vants. I vants te jeaf to give me license to kill te tog. I vants him to make me baper so ven I kills te tog he can night go inter de bolice court and swear against me."

"The dog?"

"Nein—not te dog—te man vat owns te dog. You see if I kills him—"

"What, the man?"

"Nein—te tog. Und te man sues me for de brice of te dog, den I vants ter law on mein side, d'yer see?"

"Oh, yes!" said the officer, who was quietly chuckling at the caution evinced by the German, and intent on exhausting his patience, "then you want to get a warrant to arrest the man who owns the dog, so the animal may not again attack you."

"No, no! Got for tam, you gets everything by the tail," cried lager beer, who began to think the officer was quizzing him. "I tink you vant to makes chokes of me. Tunder and blitzen! I vants to cut te tam tog's head off, and if shustice will not give me a baper, I cuts his head off any how."

And the lover of sourkrout started to leave the hall; but meeting the "jeaf of bolice" at the door, he conversed with him in German dialect, made known his wants, and received an order to execute the vicious animal.

As he was going out he met the impassive officer.

"All right?" he inquired.

"Yah, all right. I goes straight off to te owner of te dog und kills him."

"What, the owner?"

"No, te tog. You make tam fool of yourself by saying tog ven I means man, und when I means man you say tog. Now you go to ter dyrvel!" and the German incontinently hurried away to mete out vengeance to the animal who had crossed him in his "glorious path."

A Famished Wanderer.—"I should very much like to hear a story," said a fickle and thoughtless youth to his teacher. "I hate serious instruction, I can't bear preaching."

"Listen then," said the teacher; "a wanderer filled his travelling pouch with savory meats and fruits, as his way would lead him across a wide desert. During the first few days he journeyed through the smiling, fertile fields. But instead of plucking the fruits which nature here offered for the refreshment of the traveller, he found it more convenient to eat of the provisions which he carried with him. He soon reached the desert. After journeying on for a few days, his whole store of food was exhausted. He now began to wail and lament, for nowhere sprouted a blade of grass; everything was covered with burning sand. After suffering for two long days in torments of hunger and thirst he expired.

"It was foolish in him," said the youth, "to forget that he had to cross the desert."

"Do you act more wisely?" asked the teacher in an earnest tone. "You are setting forth in the journey of life—a journey that leads to eternity. Now is the time that you should seek after knowledge, and collect the treasures of wisdom; but the labor affrights you, and you prefer to trifle away the spring time of your years amid useless and childish pleasures. Continue to act thus, and you will yet upon the journey of life, when wisdom and virtue fail you, fare like that hapless wanderer."—Student and Schoolmatic.

☞ The trotting match between the Taylor and Dalton horses, Doctor and Broker, at Bridgeport, Conn., on Friday last, was won by the Dalton horse, in one hour, thirty-two minutes and thirty six seconds. The Taylor horse broke badly during the race, and on the last homestretch ran by the other, coming in a neck ahead. His running, however, disqualified him from taking the purse, and the judges decided in favor of Broker. The two kept very near together during the whole race, and divided the half miles about equally. Their first half mile was made in 1:45; their last in 1:43; while the least time was 1:39, and the longest 2:1. Mr Dalton stopped his horse three minutes for rest, but the other kept on the track from the start to the close.

☞ Last Thursday was to have been the day for the celebration of the nuptials of Miss Hannah C——, a lady of superior refinement and ability, of the vicinity of Baltimore, and Mr. V——B——, of New York, a gentlemen of reputed ability as a scholar and poet. The invitations had been gotten up in fine gilt, and sent to the several friends inviting them to the marriage. On the Tuesday preceding the appointed day, the bride to be remarked to her intended that something seemed to tell her that she would never become the bride of her choice, that she would soon wed the realities of eternity. The groom replied to her with levity, to dispel her gloom; but on the following day, Wednesday, she felt so indisposed as to take to her bed, from which time her strength and faculties began seemingly to wane till Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock—the hour appointed for the nuptials—when she breathed her last, without having evinced the slightest bodily pain from the first hour of her illness.

☞ The Fredericksburg (Va.) News gives us the adventures of a hundred-dollar bill, and the good it accomplished. A merchant of that city went to Caroline Court on a certain occasion with a $100 note of a certain denomination. Shortly after he got on the green he paid it over to a farmer. The farmer soon discharged an indebtedness to some one else, and thus the note kept on its mission of liquidation until near the heel of the evening, when it was again paid back to the same merchant who took it there, and he brought it back to Fredericksburg! Having the curiosity to trace its workings, he found that $1,000 worth of debts had been paid by that $100 note on a single day!

☞ Dr. Hall, of the Journal of Health, gives a great deal of excellent, common-sense advice to all kinds of people: the invalid, the healthy, those suffering under an accumulation of disorders, those sinking under a great weight of doctors, &c., &c. To his "consumptive friends," he says—"you want air, not physic: you want pure air, not medicated air; you want nutrition, such as plenty of meat and bread will give, and they alone; physic has no nutriment, gaspings for air cannot cure you; monkey capers in a gymnasium cannot cure you, and stimulants cannot cure you. If you want to get well, go in for beef and out door air, and do not be deluded into the grave by advertisements and unreliable certifiers."

Hover's Liquid Hair Dye.

THIS Hair Dye needs only a trial to satisfy all of its perfection as a Dye, and the following testimonial from that eminent Analytic Chemist, Professor Booth, of the U. S. Mint, will only confirm what thousands have previously borne testimony to.

Laboratory for Practical Chemistry,
St. Stephen's Place,
Phila. Feb. 17, 1857.

"Being well acquainted with the substances composing Hover's Liquid Hair Dye, I am satisfied that by following the simple direction given for its use, it will not injure the hair or skin, but will give a natural and durable color to the hair.

JAMES C. BOOTH, Analytic Chemist."

☞ Hover's Writing Inks, including Hover's Fluid, and Hover's Indelible Inks, are too well known and introduced to require any additional testimony of their character. The sales have been increasing since their first introduction, giving evidence that the articles truly possess that intrinsic merit claimed at first for them by the manufacturer.

Orders addressed to the manufactory, No. 416 Race street above Fourth, (old No. 144,) Philadelphia, will receive prompt attention by

Hardware Hardware

JOHN P. LYNE & SON, have just received their Fall stock of Hardware, which is unusually large, and in connection with their former heavy stock makes it one of the largest and most varied assortments ever offered to the public. They have everything that the Farmer, the Builder, the Mechanic, or the public may want in their line, and which they are selling at the very lowest prices. They solicit a call from the public before making their purchases, as they are confident they can offer such inducements to the buyer that will fully reward him for his trouble.

Feeling thankful to the generous public for their former very liberal patronage, a continuation of the same is solicited, at our old stand in North Hanover street, Carlisle.

$5000 Reward--Great Race.

THE great race between the Clothing Stores of Carlisle, resulted in the complete triumph of the new store of ARNOLD & SON, in the store room lately occupied by Wise & Campbell, corner of North Hanover and Louther sts. It is now conceded by all and every one that they stand pre-eminent among the clothing dealers in Carlisle, having succeeded in convincing their friends, that they can sell Clothing made and got up, according to the latest styles, from 20 to 25 per cent. cheaper than any other house is possibly able to furnish them. They have now on hand a large and splendid assortment of

Ready-made Clothing,

Furnishing Goods, Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings. Also, Hats and Caps, and every thing in their line for Men and Boys. Their materials were selected with the greatest care, purchased at the lowest cash prices, and at such houses only, who never deal in anything like auction trash. Their friends may therefore rest assured that articles purchased of them will and must give satisfaction. Clothing made at the shortest notice in the most fashionable style, having for that purpose secured the services of an experienced Cutter, and laid in a splendid assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, &c., which for beauty and durability cannot be surpassed. To the citizens of the surrounding country we would say, give us a fair trial. All we ask is a fair look at our stock and we will not fail to convince you that our Clothing is better made, of better materials, better trimmed, cut with more taste, and last though not least, cheaper than you have ever bought elsewhere. Also, a large lot of Trunks, Carpet Bags, Umbrellas, &c.

All hail creation far and near,
Of ARNOLD'S Store you shall hear;
Let pealing drums and cannon's roar
Proclaim the news from shore to shore;
Great bargains sure, are on the wing,
Rare wonders then we now will sing:
At first we'll speak of CLOTHING rare,
Such trophies, sure will make you stare,
Of broad and narrow cloth so cheap
We'll take a moment's time to speak.
Delighted too you can't but be
With prices and their quality;
Dress and Sack Coats—aye, Vestings too,
What bargains now for all of you!
The Gents will our compliments receive,
And call they must the wonders to believe.
In Pants we have all kinds of styles,
One dollar and upwards, piles on piles.
In Summer Goods—for soon 'twill come—
We'll give you bargains all for tun.
Frocks and Over-coats so very fine,
Great wonders you shall see in every line,
Hosiery, Suspenders, Under-shirts for all,
All kinds of Gloves to please all who call.
But we cannot stop to enumerate,
We have bargains both good and great.
Our stock too in the Furnishing line
Is plentiful, cheap and fine.
