vernment and laws, and intended by the vertice of them duct to refuse a recognition of them.

Yet over nine thousand names were registered, and in falthough many who were registered, and in falthough many who were registered, and in falthough many, if not most, of the districts there as in many, if not most, of the districts there as in many, if not most in the candidates was no serious opposition to the candidates manned. But the case is even yet stronger than hamed. But the case is even yet stronger than those facts make it. A part of the intetent counties, so often spoken of, were wholly without inhabitants, they were counties upon paper, established in expectation of future settlement.

Resides these, most of the counties composing Besides these, most of the counties composing the nineteen had an inconsiderable population; very ones where the Topcka party were strong, interposed resistance to the law, and neither desired nor attempted to qualify themselves for vo-It is not necessary to go into minute details, nor to explore the causes remote or immediate, which induced opposition to that as well as other territorial laws, although such inquiry would strengthen the general conclusions already stated. As far as the objection to the powers and proceedings of the convention, on the ground of narrowness of suffrage in the election of mem-bers is concerned, that man who would remain an objector, after the foregoing statement, would remain unconvinced by the production of any femani discovered by the production of the final of the f of persons, a majority are in fact opposed to the

The answer to this, if its truth be admitted, it two-fold. First, that such opposition, in point of law, must express itself hereafter in a regular and legal mode in amending the constitution that such majority, if it exist, cannot nullify and that such majority, if it exist, cannot nutify and hold for naught a constitution regularly formed; fin short, that majorities equally with minorities are bound by existing constitutions and laws.—The other reply is furnished by the late masterly and conclusive message of the President, transmitting the constitution to Congress. It is there shown by the most satisfactory evidence, that the great portion of this alleged majority is made up of insurgent and revolutionary elements.

The official dispatches, even of Gov. Walker himself, stamp upon the Topeka party, both designs and overt acts to subvert and nullify the Territorial laws, as well as to resist any constitation, however unexceptionable, to be made by a convention convened under them. In fact, a convenient convenied under them. In fact, armed bands, organized in open hostility to the authority of the laws, to resist their execution, and to uphold the authority of the illegal and and to upnoid the authorny of the negatiana revolutionary Topeka constitution and government, have openly traversed the Territory in the accomplishment of their designs, and yet exist, under the lead and countenance of the leaders of faction, turbulence and disorder.

No proposition can be clearer than that revothe proposition can be eighter than that revo-letionists, and these who openly aid and consort with them, waive for the time being their polit-ical rights under the government against which they robel, and can have no legal chim to be consulted in those political proceedings which are conducted under the regular authority of the laws. And for them to demand that their voices shall be counted to destroy the powers and work of a convention which they regulated from the outset, and in the election of the members of which they neither desired nor attempted to parameters.

If there be fault upon the part of the Government with reference to this insurgent and misguided population, it is that they have been treated with extreme loniency and forbearance, illy requitted by continued turbulence and re-sistance to authority upon their part. And that the appeal should now be gravely made, in their behalf, for the rejection of a legal constitution and the continuance of excitement and disorder and the continuance of excitement and disorder in the Territory until they shall be pleased to subside into order and regularity, may be classed among the curiosities of faction. With equal propriety might the appeal he made in behalf of the insurgents of Utah against the attempt to force upon them the jurisdiction and authority of the United States. of the United States.

Sound and conclusive reasons existing for the positions assumed, every consideration demand that speedy and fluid action be taken for the settlement of this question that has so long har-rassed the public mind and worked an alienation of that feeling of confidence, respect and friendof that feeling of confidence, respect and treat-ship that should reign supreme pmong the citi-zons of all parts of the Union. A postponement of the recognition of the legal position now maintained by this Territory for admission may fearfully increase that which already exists—revolution, faction and discord.

No good citizen can longer desire the continuance of an agitation that only engenders a spirit of hostility and bitter animosity between different sections of the confederacy, and it prolonged, must ultimately lead to consequences of the most disastrous nature. The admission of Kansas into the Union under an organic instrument, complying in every respect with the Federal Constitution, would signally vindicate the convergency of law, being order out of confusion. supremacy of law, bring order out of confusion, establish the reign of peace where lawless action now holds its sway, calm the turbulent elements of party feeling, no longer sustained by the hope of power, and leave the new State free pursue her progress in an uninterrupted career of prosperity.

EXPLOSION OF a GAS PIPE AT CINCINNATI. The Cincinnati Gazette, of the 19th ult., gives an account of the explosion of a Gas Pipe in the Methodist Church, in that city on the evening Earnest Miss of the 18th. It says:

About one-fourth of the flooring had been torn up and scattered about, and full one fourth of the seats had been removed from their places, and either smashed or greatly damaged. The cushions of the seats were scattered in every direction, and nearly every window in the room, and most of the inside blinds were blown to pieces. Most of the sashes of the windows were thrust out as though some heavy body, filling the entire window, had passed through.

The pulpit and the platform were apparently uninjured: The Bible, hymn book and water pitcher, standing upon the desk, were thrown in a heap together upon the floor. The chairs in the desk were overturned, but the pulpit globes, over the gas lights, were uninjured. Flooring, plaster, seats, cushions, doors, all lay in one confused mass about the room.

When the explosion occurred, there were some eight or ten persons only in the church, but all of these were more or less injured, and some of them we think fatally so. As far as we could ascertain, where all was confusion and excitement, thousands of persons crowding around to look for friends, we gather the following particulars of the wounded, which we believe to be nearly accurate: At the moment of the explosion, Rev'd Danicl Kinney, President of the Ohio Conference, accompanied by Rev'd Mr. White, the pastor of the church, had reached within fire or six feet of the door, and in an instant they were blown nearly across Sixth street. Mr. White, it seems, struck upon his face and left knee, i the street, but fortunately received no other injuries than a severe bruise on the nose, from which the blood flowed profusely, and a bruise on the knee.

President Kinney had arrived frrm his home on the evening train, and was proceeding to the evening train, and was proceeding to the bursh to aid in the couries of the co church to aid in the services of the evening .-He was blown about half way across the street, his face badly cut, and his head bruised. At the time of the explosion they were in the lecture room, and the mother and son were most seriously injured. mother and son were most seriously injured.—
The dau ther escaped with a slight cut upon the left cheek. Mrs. Hook was taken from the ruips in a perfectly helpless and painfol condition. Her face and person were bruised, the right leg broken above the knee, the bones of which protruded through the flesh, the left leg broken below the knee, and the bones of both crushed in a sickening and painful manner—

When taken out, it was found that the bones of the right foot had been crushed as though cut through and through by some heavy iron instrument. Win. Hamill, a son of the last named, a small lad, was badly cut, and bruised about the head. For several weeks a revival has been going on the nineteen had an inconsiderable population, settlements in them having just begun. It is said that four only of the whole number had any considerable population, and that these were the very ones where the Topeka party were strong, have been fearful indeed. The church building had just been repaired at an expense of some $10,000, and the body of it was open divine service on Sunday last, for the first time since the repairs commenced.

It may be well enough to remind those who

For drove pasture,

For use of P. Quamony, use gas in their buildings, that when a leak does occur, and the gas escapes so as to become offensive, they should at once open the windows of the house, and leave them open till the leak is remedied and under no circumstances standard is remeded, and under no circumstances should a light be taken into a room filed with escaped gas. An experienced gas fitter should then be sent for, and the difficulty may be remedied without danger. A fit to attention to these suggestions will save us from calamities like that of Friday comping. like that of Friday evening.
