Duelling in Europe.

A letter from Konigsburg of the 16th ult.

When on the 11th, Gen. de Plehwe present "When on the 11th, Gen. de Plehwe presented himself at Trutemau, and Counsellor Jachmann refused to receive him, he asked to speak to Lieut. Jackmann, who conducted him to his room and made him sit down. The General asked whether it was by order of his parents that he had refused admission to the house to his (the General's) son, and the Lieutenant replied in the affirmative. The General then asked whether he (the Lieutenant) shared in sthe opinion of his parents in the matter to the opinion of his parents in the matter, to which the Lieutenant replied that his opinion had nothing to do with the affair, but that as he was interrogated on the subject, he was bound was interrogated on the sadest, he was notine to declare that his views on the subject perfect-ly coincided with those of his family. If that is the case, said the General, you are an infa-mous wretch, and you shall fight me to the death, and he then retired. The Lieutenant laid the affair before the Council of Honor of his regiment, who for three days made vain efforts to bring about an amicable arrangement. Gen: de Plehwe admitted the correctness of the facts advanced by the Lieutenant, but refused o come to any understanding with the Council of Honor, saying that, as a General, he knew what he had to do. A duel with pistols at eight paces, distance took place on the 15th, in presence of Capt. de Schlichting, second of the General; Lieut. de Lehwaldt, second of M. Isakinan, and a council de heave composed of Jackmann, and a council of honor, composed of five officers. The General advanced to within two paces of the barrier and armed. Sceing that his adversery did not move, he called out in a long voice, Lieutenant Jackmann, what does his mean? I do not understand it; you must fire. The Lieutenant shock his head, but did not move. 'Gentlemen,' said the General, 'I beg you to advise the Lieutenant to fire. As Jackman still remained motionless, the seconds observed that the General might fire first if he chose, and he did so. The ball entered his adchose, and he did so. The ball entered his adversary's mouth, broke his Jaw, and passed out at the neck. After staggering for a moment, Jackmann advanced a few paces and fired. His ball entered the heart of the General who fell dead on the spot. Every one who had been engaged in this unfortunate affair rendered homage to the moderation and conciliatory spirit evinced by Lieut, Jackmann," 143 patients have been admitted into the insi-250 under care, at the close of the year. Of those remaining in the Institution, 150 are supparted by the public authorities and 100 by their friends. Of all discharged, 25 were cured, 32 unproved, 44 stationary, and 25 died. It our readers feel as much interested in the subject as we have, we shall have done a satisfac-

vious that but a very short period can elapse before it will be necessary to make an additional provision for that portion of our Insane residing in the western portion of the State, and to many of whom the journey to Harris-burg is not only injurious, but the expense is much greater than if they could be accommodated near their own homes.

We are pleased to learn that the Institution is in the most complete order throughout, and added. The report contains very handsome compliments for the different officers of the hospital - Dr. John Curwin, Superintendent, Joel Hinckley, Steward, Dr. Wm. R. Dewitt, jr., and Dr. S. S. Schultz, Assistant Physicians, and Mrs. Mary Ann Wilt, Matron. It must be a matter of congratulation to every Pennsylvanian. that our State has in her midst an Insti tutum like this, in which she can feel so much pride. — Harrisburg Herald.

The stern colonel, compelled to be an unwilling witness, turned, and leaning on the arm of e equally affected major, covered his face with his handkerchief, while deep sighs agitated his manly bosom, and plainly showed the struggle that was going on within. The surgeon, a most humane man, was obliged to be supported by his hospitable sergeant, who, from time to time, administered to him restoratives as well as to the suffering soldier. Man after man fell from the ranks, carried away fainting; tears dewed the faces of nearly all the officers, and bedewed the faces of nearly all the officers, and at length the poor sufferer was released from his bethe same more or less, bounded on the west toring to linger in the hospital when the same more or less, bounded on the west toring. torture, to linger in the hospital, where he now lies, the whole of his spine being laid bare, and gangrene has ensued, leaving the tortured and lacerated wretch in such a state that every Christian can only hone that death at the property of the Incorporation of the Big Christian can only hope that death, as it must do, will soon release him from his sufferings.

TOBACCO AND SEGARS.

On hand the best lot of Segars and Tobacco thrt has ever been brought to this town. His Segars will convince the smoker on trial of the purity of the material of which they consist the has on hand those only which are imported and which he can recommend as such. We need not speak of the true German Segar as they have already gained for themselves a representation. tney have already gained for themselves a reputation that they so richly deserve. He also keeps the common article of Segara to suit the trade; Tobacco such as Eldorado, Plain Con-gress, Twist Plain, Fig Leaf, Cavendish, Con-gress, and Fine Cut Tobacco and Snuff; the best gress, and rine out Todacco and Snun, the dest material.

Feeling thankful to the generous public for their liberal patronage, a continuation of the same is solicited, at our permanent location in South Hanover street, directly opposite Han-non's Hotel, and next door to Mr. C. Inhoff's Grocery.
