She stood within the portal,
And I gazed upon her charms,
And, oh! I longed that moment
To clasp her in my arms.

She spoke about the moon and stars, ciear and bright they shone; I said I thought the crops would fail, e had rain soon

Then I edged a little closer, Put my arms around her waist, And gazed upon those rosy lips, I longed so much to taste

Said I, my dearest Susy,
I'll never rest contented—
If I leave to-night without a kiss, "il surely grow demented.

Then up she turned her rosy mouth, And everything was handy; Quick from her lips I seized a kiss-Oh, Yankee Doodle Dandy!

Then off for home I started, I could no longer stay;
With a light heart and breeches thin,
I whistled all the way.

Hence learn this truth, ye bashful youth, Who seek for wedded bliss, No lass will love until you move Her feelings with a kiss.

General Havelock upon Family Discipline.

The following, from one who enjoyed mucl personal communion with the deceased General vill be regarded as an illustration of the man' character, not without significance. During his stay in England the narrator of this anecdote went one evening to the house of the Colo nel, in compliance with an invitation. In the course of conversation Mrs. Hayelock turned suddenly to her husband and said, "By the way, my dear, where is Harry?" referring to her son, whom she had not seen during the whole afternoon. The Colonel started to his feet—" Well, poor fellow, he's standing on London bridge, and in this cold, too. I told him to wait for me there at twelve o'clock today, and in the pressure of business at—I quite forgot the appointment." The father and son were to have met at twelve o'clock at noon, and it was now after seven in the evening. Yet the father seemed to have no doubt that Harry would not move from his post until he appear ed. The Colonel at once rose, ordered a cab to be called, and as he went forth to deliver his son from his weary watch on London bridge he by the cold watch, and glad to see the fire in the comfortable parlour at home, seemed to have passed through the little afternoon's ce with the greatest good humour and the feelling that all was right.

Cures for Cancers.

Our attention has been recently called to a cure for cancers, which is of so much importance, that we wish to make it known as widely as possible. Some eight months ago, Mr. T. B. Mason—who keeps a music store on Wiscon-sin street—ascertained that he had a cancer on his face, of the size of a pea. It was cut out by Dr. Walcott and the wound partially healed.—Subsequently it grew again, and while he was in Clucinnati on business, it attained the size of a hickory nut. He has remained there since Christmas under treatment, and has came back perfectly cured. The process is this:

A piece of sticking-plaster was put over the cancer, with a circular piece cut out of the centre a little larger than the cancer, so that the cancer and a small circular rim of healthy skin next to it were exposed. Then a plaster made of chloride of zinc, blood-root and wheat flour was spread on a piece of muslin of the size of this circular opening, and applied to the cancer for twenty-four hours. On removing it the cancer will be found to be burnt into and appear of the color and hardness of an old shoe sole, and the color and hardness of an old shoe sole, and of every variety. Gold Pens and Pencils, fancy the cancer so that it sloughs out like dead flesh, and never grows again. This remedy was disdon, but has not till recently, been used in this country, and many of the faculty, with their proverbial opposition to innovations, look upon it with distrust. We saw Mr. Mason and have conversed with him and took particular notice cicatrized wound, and we can only say, that if the cure is permanent—and from the evi dence of six or eight years experience in other cases, we have no doubt it is—the remedy ought to be universally known. The experiment excited much interest in Cincinnati. If it is what is claimed for it, this terrible disease will be shorn of most of its terrors. The application is painful, but the pain is of comparatively brief duration, which any one so afflicted would cheerfully endure.—Milwaukee Free Democrat.

A good story is told of a Michigan man who recently drove down to Indiana to buy a drove of horses. He was longer absent than he intended, and failed to meet a business engagement. On being reproached for not being home, he made this explicit apology.

"I'll tell you how it is-squire," said he, "at

Governor Gilmer, of Georgia," says a Georgian contributor, " had a passion for buying old iron truck, broken down wagons, and such rubbish, which he had piled up in the yard, under the impression that it would come into use some time or other. It annoyed his wife excessive, and one day, when the govern-or was away from home, she had the whole pile carted off to auction. It so happened that just as the auctioneer had put up the lot, the governor was riding by, and buy he would, for, as he looked at it, he declared that he had a lot at home in which there was several things to match. He bid ten dollars, and the whole concern wa knocked down to him. A few days afterwards he was admiring Mrs. Gilmer's new bonnet and asking her its cost, she said, "ten dollars hus band; the same ten you paid for your old iron. and if you don't clear it out of the yard, I shall soll it again!" The Governor shortly after that retired from the iron business.

Hover's Liquid Hair Dye. THE testimony of Prof. Booth and Dr. Brin-

HE testimony of Prof. Booth and Dr. Brin-ckic having previously been published, the following is now added: From Prof. McCloskey, formerly Professor of Theory and Practice of Medicine in the Fo-male Medical College of Pennsylvania, and late Professor of Surgery in the American College of Medicine, &c.
Phila., Nov. 27, 1856.

Mr. Joseph E. Hoover—A trial of your Liquid Hair Dye will convince the most skeptical, that t is a safe, elegant, and efficacious preparation. Unlike many others, it has in several instances proved serviceable in the cure of some cutane ous cruptions on the head, and I have no hesitation in commending it to those requiring such an application. Very respectfully,

J. F. X. McCLOSKEY, M. D.

Hover's Writing Inks, including Hover's and in Mriting Fluid, and Hover's Indelible Inks, still maintain their high character, which has always distinguished them, and the extensive demand first created, has continued uninterrupted unti the present.
