men felt after constructing this new negative constitutional tinkering has been rebuked in a platform adapted to the times, and intended to way that will not be forgotten during the presnclose every shade of opposition within one fold, as it they had discharged a solemn and responsible duty to the coun ry in general, including Africans and themselves in particular.— Nothing but the highest degree of self-satisfac-tion could have penned this call. We have been particular in quoting its exact words, because we regard it as a model and an illustration of the class of pseudo statesmen, of which Mr. Tood is a worthy specimen. And the first representative feature in this call, is the glaring deliberation of its falsehood, wherein it asserts Administration is pursuing this forcing process in subversion of the great right of self-government." We have no doubt Mr. Todd has a memory, and we can imagine the amusing leer with which he penned this beautiful fragment. That memory must have carried him back to people of the territories, absolutely and without reservation, to settle all their domestic institutions in their own way. Mr. Todd denounced the Kansas-Nebraska act in 1854 and 1856, because it conferred the right of self government upon the people, contending for the despotic principle of congressional prohibition, which did not leave the people perfectly free; and now in 1858 we find him and his conditions taking the back track, mounting the platform which they so often spit upon, and for the paltry consideration of the mere hope of a tempory reward, step to the front of the platform, expose their bra

And what is the platform of principles upon which this convention is called? what the qualification to its fellowship? Nothing but opposition. Each individual and party can obtain admission, provided only they are animated by a spirit of hatred towards the Democracy.—
This is the one single bond of union. They are not required to love each other, but only to agree in swearing eternal hatred to the Demo-cratic party. The very attempt to construct a platform of principles embracing all the great political questions of the day, would scatter the clans thus summoned to council into half a dozen fragments. Without love for each other they are expected to act as allies in an offensive war, and to divide the plunder after the victory.

Mr. Todd has given us an idea of the weapons to be used and the allies expected to enlist in the contest. If "victory perches upon their banner"—to use the venerable spread-engle phrase—we hope Mr. Todd will not be forgotten. The sacrifices of conscience and consistency he is required to make in the cause is certainly equivalent to any reward.

The Democrats express surprise that promiity to the assumptions of the British, and will ardly believe them in carnest, but there is no doubt that they are; and thus all parties concur in taking the most decisive measures.

The President himself wishes to be invested with the powers, conferred by Wilson's or Douglas' proposition, in the event that the Derby Ministry adopt the conduct of the British offi-cers in the Gulf, in which case there is every reason to believe that he would exercise the powers, and order the Stux and her coadjutors With this view the President has intimated his preference that Congress should remain in session until the arrival of the next the lands for the Milwaukie and La Crosse railthe policy to be adopted by the British Gov-

The National Spirit Aroused!

It must be gratifying to every American, who possesses the true spirit of patriotism, to see the national spirit so thoroughly aroused in regard to the violation of our flag by the British cruisers in the Gulf. Why even at this very time we are daily assured by the Republican presses that the cople of Kansas will spura indignantly the ordinance submitted by the English bill, and thus defeat the Lecomptof Constitution. How then can the Administration force upon the people a Constitution which no power on earth but their own freechoice can compel them to accept?
