of the 1st.] Morrible Tragedy! Murder and Saicide! The citizens of our usually peaceful town Train curzens of our usually peaceful town who startled and shocked about six o'clock have evening by the occurrence of the most influence of the most influence of the most influence of the most influence of the cord. A wife was murble of the land blood, without a moment's warn-dered in cold blood, without a moment's warn-dered in cold blood, without a moment's warn-dered by her burband, who immediately account to the land of the land ing, by her husband, who immediately after cit his own throat, and sent his guilty soul into dermity. The particulars of this sad event, as near as we have been able to ascertain, are as follows:

About eighteen months ago, Mr. Ambrose S les and his family left Cedar Rapids, having d there a few years, for the East, where we his relations reside, and while absent ties occurred which led to a separation m his wife—he leaving her and coming to chigan, and she, with the children, three in mber, returning to Cedar Rapids. About arce weeks ago, Skeeles, having ascertained the whereabouts of his wife, came to this city r the purpose of effecting a reconciliation. Being unable to bring about an understanding, wen by the assistance of friends and relatives, keeles became desperate, and, we understand, breatened her life it she took steps to procure a ivorce—a course she had determined to take the grounds of ill-treatment. On Tuesday, CLOVERSEED.—Late sale at $4.50 a $4.60. Mrs. Skeeles went to Marion for the purpose of taking the necessary initiatory steps for a diforce suit, and that probably led to the consummation of the tragedy of last night, which has resulted in the death of both parties by the hand of the husband.

The knife which Skeeles used is a very large few pocket-knife, which he found in the road, about a mile from town, a week or two ago. It is thought that he sharpened the knife during and went to the house where his wife and children were living, on Daniel street, between Adams and Jesserson, with the determinntion of killing his wife, and taking his own

When he reached the house, Mrs. Skeeles was at the next-door neighbor's. One of the children went over and told her that her father young lady present to go with her to the house after the other children. They passed over a stile between the gardens, where the young lady remained; while Mrs. Skeeles passed on to the other children of the passed on to the other children of the passed on to the children of the passed on to the passed on the an outside cellar door, about ten feet, and discovered Skeeles in the cellar. Passing down a few steps, she asked him what he was doing, and said to him that she told him times enough not to come there. He made some reply, but is not known what, and came out of the celar. Mrs. Skeeles then shut the cellar door, and vas in the act of fastening it with a padlocks when Skeeles seized her, threw her upon the round and held her down with his knee across er body, wnile he deliberately took the knife from his pocket; and opening it, cut the poor woman's throat in a horrible manner, nearly severing the head from the body, and causing them to be sent to his father's, in Lockport, When we reached the seene of the tragedy, the bodies had been carried in, and were lying side by side upon the floor of the back room Such a horrid scene of blood as this room and the yard near the door presented we never before witnessed, and we hope never to see again. The poor woman in her struggles had wrenched the padlock of the cellar door from its fastenings, and she still clung to it in death. From the appearance of her countenance, we should judge that death was instantaneous; but Skeeles evidently died hard, as the distorted features and glaring eyes seemed to indicate—a striking contrast to the calm, almost unruffled features, of his murdered wife. Skeeles, we understand, came from Lockport, N. Y., and although not an intemperate man, had an ungovernable temper. Mrs. Skeeles, we believe, has relatives in this vicinity; of her previous history we have not been informed. Her maiden name was Bulah C. Vinton. She Her maiden maine was Bulain or Tribons as a kind, amiable, intelligent, and good natured woman, and her violent death by the hands of her husband has justly caused much sympathy for the four orphans thus left destitute. The eldest child, a girl, is about fourteen years, the youngest two years of age. They were kindly taken in charge by the neighbors.

Mr. Skeeles was thirty-five years of age, and Mrs. Skeeles thirty-two. They were married fifteen years ago, and separated three years after, but again lived together until about seven Bitten by a Snake. $\mathring{\Lambda}$ man attached to Ball & Co's Amphitheatre, was bitten by a snake, yesterday forenoon.

The snake was that exhibited by the cold Snake woman," so familiar to our people and which has attracted so many curious eyes at a cent a peep. The showman was desirous of purchasing the snake—a rattle snake, with purchasing the snake—a rattle snake, with some half dozen rattles; and for the purpose of driving a profitable trade, the old lady seized it by the neck, holding it up to his admiring gaze, with the assurance that she had charmed it in to perfect docility. The would be purchaser attempted to take his snakeship in the sake. manner; but seizing him too low on the neck, was bitten in the thumb. Dr. Rutherford, being immediately called upon, administered over a quart of fourth proof brandy, making him al-most instantaneously drunk and insensible.— This proved a successful antidote to the poison, and the man is now doing well, having escaped all the dreaded effects of the bite. We have not heard whether negotiations were resumed for the transfer of the snake, but should rather think the man had enough of that kind of crit-

Since the above was in type we have learned, from Dr. Rutherford, that the effects of the poison is, he thinks, killed, but that there is still danger of the effects of the bite. The man's name is John Madole. He has been a resident of Marathon, Courtland county, N. Y., where his relatives reside. His friends there have en written to, and the man himself taken to the Poor House—the Circus company having left without making any provision for his comfort—He was formerly a raftsman.—Harrisburg

Fourth of July,... The Signers.

On looking over the Diagram of the Signers On looking over the Diagram of the Signers of Independence, (executed by Powers, the blacksmith from Illinois,) we have been struck with the comparative longovity of these men, hold as sagacious, who on July 4, 1776, in this God city of ours, executed the solemn compact which raised the "Colonies" into a confederated Commonwealth. The following summary, which we have compiled from the data supplied by Mr. Powers, will show, in a few sentences, how long lived the Signers were:

Out of the whole fifty-six, four lived beyond

Out of the whole inty-six, four lives beyond the age of 90—Charles Carroll of Carrollton, reaching the advanced age of 95 years, 1 month, and 24 days. Ten exceeded the age of 80; ten lived beyond 70 years; fifteen exceeded the age of 60; ten passed their 50th year; six died past 40; and one is supposed to have perished at sea,
