Names of Post Office Towns.

We recommend the following article from the Philadelphia Dollar Newspaper, to the attention of every reader. It is plain common sense-are thing these days: It is getting to be a matter of importance to than sitting in the country, especially in the est, to know what is the name of the post of or if he be the first settler, what he shall village or town on which he confers a Many an honest fellow, in the excessive of his patriotism, will not be blest by comgenerations for calling his little ashington, in honor of the great General. He not aware, perhaps, that this is the name alendy of territories, counties, towns, post offices to the number of nearly, if not quite, two dred. There are nearly one hundred Jefferus: only twenty or thirty Adamses. All the Presidents and candidates have at least a dozen laces named after them. Popular generals one next. Jackson, in the double capacity of leneral and President, leading off; next to Vashington, Lafavette has quite a number of places named after him, and all the revolution ary Generals a fair share, except, of course, Ar-

All this may seem very amusing and possipilices, it puzzles many a poor clerk. Every than living in one of these places, yearly loses about half his papers, 'sent to the wrong office,' to be returned six months old. His letters, too. are sent to the wrong office, and perhaps opened by mistake. He sends for a piano, by express, and it is sent to Jackson, Mo., instead of Jackson, Me., and before the express office can correct the error, the piano is broken. Let no one who dwells in a small town of an ambitious name, blame the post-office clerks of the larger offices if his letters and papers get not only into the wrong box, but into the wrong letter bag. You mail a letter, perhaps, to a friend in New York, in the State of Mississsippi, a small post office. Of course you abreviate Miss., and the post-office clerk in the town where you live will e almost certain to take you at your word, and miss it sure enough, so far as to send it to New York city, or to New York in Tenn., or New York in Washington Territory, on Admiralty Inlet, or to New York in Ala., for there are New all probability it will get into some man's box in Louisburgh, Va., a single capital being the only mark of difference, and a very slight flourish in the V making quite as much like a P, or else it goes to Lewis in Northumberland county, or to Lewistown in Miffiin county, or to Louisville, in Chester county, in this State he name of your town Rochester, because som of the folks are from that city, half their letters and papers will go back to where they came from, or else be distributed evenly among the dozen little post offices of that name, all thro' the West, including another town of the same name in Racine county, of that State.

Some names suggest odd ideas of antiquity. In Maine a man makes nothing of talking of lriving over from Palmyra to Antioch, or to China, or to Athens for dinner. There are in-China, or to Athens for dinner. There are indeed twenty-two modern representatives, in north by land of Jacob Clippinger, on the south name at least, of the ancient capital of Greek by land of Haldeman's heirs, on the east by learning. Bangor, Maine, and Bangor, Wales. land of John Cressler, and on the west by lands bave sometimes been ludicrously mistaken for of Marshall Means and Michael Cressler, coneach other. All this grew out of the attachment of an old Deacon for the tune called Bangor He had forgotten the Indian name, which inhabitants had desired, as that by which the young city should be called when he went as their delegate to the Legislature, and put in this name which has answered quite as well, out of regard for his favorite tune.

Let the names of the new towns and places be kept distinct from all others, ancient and modern. That is the first essential of a name. Many have suggested the propriety of adopting the Indian names. This does very well when they are pronounceable and spellable. But most of them have at least a dozen distinct ways of being spelled, creating all kinds of confusion. The postmaster in Tuscaloosa, Ala., won a water a few years since that he would go into the

"The Democrats did not poll their strength in Louisville. The first Ward gave only eight undred votes. There are at least fourteen ndred in the Ward, and the unpolled vote is ot Know Nothing. We must yet look to the lature for a free election in this city. There was an improvement Monday; but still there is reat room for it. and we hope better things in duture. It is not even good policy in any party to tolerate the conduct of gangs of rowdies at the polls acting in their behalf. It is atal. sooner or later, to any party, and it has been, as much as anything else, the death of Know Nothingism in this State. Indeed, its lease on Nothingism in time state this city is nearly out; and its friends may set this city is nearly out; and its friends may set down the peculiar way of managing elections are one of the causes of its speedy dissolution. Facts can't be hid from the public eye, and the people are getting tired of such facts. The people are getting tired of such facts. The area on Monday show it. If the election on Monday show it. If the election on Monday show it. If the election on Monday show it. This delicious article combines so many meriorious qualities, that it has now become a stan-lard favorite with the citizens of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. Dentists prescribe Philadelphia and Baltimore. Dentists preserved it in their practice most successfully, and from every source the most flattering laudations are awarded it. Inflamed and bleeding gums are immediately benefitted by its use; its action upon them is mild and soothing and effective.—It cleanses the teeth so thoroughly that they are to rivel nearly in whiteness, and diffuses. Thankful for past favors, he respectfully somade to rival pearl in whiteness, and diffuses through the mouth such a delightful freshness that the breath is rendered exquisitely sweet.— It disinfects all those impurities which tend to BANK BARN, CORN-CRIB, Hog produce decay; and as a consequence, who these are removed the teeth must always remain
