Democratic State Nominations.

Supreme Judge: WM. A. PORTER, of Philadelphia. Canal Commissioner, WESTLEY FROST, of Fayette Co. Democratic County Ticket. For Congress, HENRY L. FISHER, of York County. Assembly, HUGH STUART, of South Middleton. JOHN HARTZELL, of Perry County. Sheriff, ROBERT ALLISON, of Carlisle. Commissioner, NATHANIEL H. ECKLES, of Hampden. Director of the Poor, ABRAHAM BOSLER, of South Middleton. Auditor, GEORGE SCOBY, of Carlisle.

Rally, Democrats, Rally! A DEMOCRATIC MEETING will be held in the Court House in Carlisle, on Tuesday Evening next, which will be addressed by HENRY L. FISHER, Esq., the Democratic candidate for Congress. Turn out, Democrats! Organize for the campaign.

Awake! Organize! The Burnt District Again on Fire!

A meeting of the Democrats of the "Burnt District" and vicinity, will be held at the usual place, on Saturday, October 2. A number of good speakers will be present. All are invited to attend. Turn out, Democrats, and put the ball in motion. Judge WOODBURN will be present.

Attend the Assessments! Every Democrat in the county should see that he is assessed. Friday, the 1st of October, is the last day upon which assessments can legally be made.

LOOK OUT DEMOCRATS!—We learn that quite a large number of Democratic tickets are being printed at Mr. ZINN's office, with the name of Robert McCartney inserted, instead of the Democratic candidate. This is no doubt, to deceive, and we now warn our friends to keep a look out for the tricks of our opponents.

TICKETS.—The Democratic tickets for this county are now printed and ready for distribution. Our friends are invited to call at this office and receive supplies.

THE OPPOSITION CANDIDATE.—The Opposition Congresses representing this Congressional District met at Bridgeport, on Saturday, and nominated BENJ. F. JUNKS, Esq., of Perry, for Congress. Mr. J. is a young attorney of Bloomfield, and, as we learn, a man of considerable ability. He was formerly a Democrat, and, for our opponents seldom nominate any other than recent Democrats these times. He will receive his assets on the day of the election.

THE CONTINENTAL.—We are glad to announce that Mr. Bates, the agent of this renowned troupe of vocalists is in town, making arrangements for the troupe, to give us one of their characteristic musical entertainments at Education Hall, on Saturday evening next. Since their last visit to Carlisle, there has been one change made (for the better) in the members, and Mr. B. assures us that now they are prepared to "out do themselves." Their route from here, we understand, is through to the Far West, via the northern route. Success to them wherever they may go, for they are "true and tried."

PIRSON SHOOTING.—Wild Pigeons have been very plenty in this county for the last two or three weeks, and our sportsmen have been doing their best to secure as many as possible. The most successful ones that we have heard of are our friend PARSONS of the "Mansion House," and Mr. LEMMON of Newville. In one day they shot seventy-five, fine, fat and plump.

ROCKET PICKER.—The Harrisburg Daily Patriot, says: A Cumberland county farmer had his pocket picked last week, at the Fair grounds, of a port moneau containing about $20. He put his hand in his pocket at the ticket window to make money to pay for a ticket, and as he was replacing the book heard some one say "picket-pockets." He thought no more of the matter until he missed his money. Had he been wide-awake, he would have known that it is a "trick of the trade" to cry pickpocket over a man's shoulder, while the hand belonging to the voice is busy in his pocket.

VALUABLE TOWN PROPERTY SOLD.—On Saturday last, the valuable property belonging to the Estate, situated on the south-west corner of Main street and Centre square, in this borough, was sold at public sale. Purchaser JACOB BISHOP, Esq.—price $6,855. The property is 60 feet in front on Main street, and runs back to Church alley, and is considered a most eligible position for a first-class hotel. Mr. R. we learn, is anxious that it shall be used for this purpose, and if some of our enterprising citizens will assist in its erection, he will offer every inducement. We do hope a move will at once be made, for it is a disgrace to our town that we have not a single first-class hotel.

GET UP MEETINGS! We would suggest to our friends of the different boroughs and townships the propriety of holding meetings, and organizing for the contest before us. Next Tuesday-week is the day of the election! But little has yet been done to organize the party, and it is high time this imperative duty should be attended to. Get up meetings, then, at once, and have them addressed by able speakers. The time is short, and it is absolutely necessary our forces should be organized, and arrangements made for getting out a full vote on the 12th day of October. Action, Democrats, action, and the victory is yours.

12th CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.—In this District the Democrats had about as much trouble in making a nomination for Congress as we had in our District. PAUL LEIDY is the present member, and was a candidate for re-nomination. The Conference had three or four meetings, and balloted over 200 times. Finally JOHN McREYNOLDS was nominated, and his nomination we doubt not, will be ratified at the polls.

THE COMET.—Still in sight is that remarkable comet, and still does it form the theme of admiration of star-gazers, astronomists and men of science.

THE LONG CONTENT ENDED.

In another column will be found the proceedings of the last meeting of the Congressional Conference representing this district. This protracted contest had been pending for nearly a month. By day and night did the Conferees labor in the tireless struggle. It fell to our lot to be one of the Conferees from this county, and we trust, and hope we may be saved from ever again serving in this capacity, with the same wearisome labors to perform. Being instructed for Dr. ANL, the Conferees from this county considered it their duty to stand by him and work for him to the last; and it was only when the Conference was on the point of a final adjournment—an adjournment never to meet again—that we yielded up our gallant candidate a sacrifice to the welfare of the Democratic party. We felt that the hour and the minutes had arrived when duty compelled us to yield our opinions. The question presented itself whether we would permit our political opponents to elect their Congressman without opposition, or whether we would save the District from this disgrace, by casting our votes for a gentleman and true Democrat who was our first choice. We had but a few minutes for reflection and consultation. But, short as was the time, it was ample to decide a question at once so momentous. We preferred the candidate of our second choice to a defeat, and one of our colleagues, Col. HOUSER, coincided with us in this opinion. As a last resort, therefore, and after all argument and the most persevering labor had been exhausted in behalf of our candidate and the rights of our county, we were called upon to decide the question whether the next Congressman from this District should be a Democrat or a Republican. Hard as it was to yield our own opinions and give up our own candidate, we could not hesitate a moment. To have returned home without having made a nomination, would have been disastrous to the hopes of the Democracy of this District for years to come, and would have created a breach in the party of the three counties, which, in all probability, never could have been healed. Had we been guilty of this act, we would have deserved the execrations of the Democrats of Cumberland, and never again could we have asked them to sacrifice their private opinions to the welfare and peace of their party. We made the sacrifice we have so often counseled our brethren to make, and we made it the more cheerfully, because we felt that we were performing a simple duty—a duty to the Democracy and to the administration of Mr. Buchanan. With this conviction, Col. HOUSER and myself voted for the nomination of HENRY L. FISHER, Esq., of York, and by our votes he was nominated.

It may be asked by some, why it was, after we discovered that we could not succeed with our own candidate, we did not go to Perry county? We confess, our sympathies were with "daughter Perry," but, Perry county presented two candidates, Messrs. M'INTYRE and FETTER. The feeling between the friends of these rival candidates was bitter and vindictive, and from the first meeting of the Conferees to their final adjournment, they were threatening what they said would do if one or the other should be made the nominee. It was most unfortunate for our friends in Perry that they failed to harmonize their own difficulties. Gen. FETTER and Mr. M'INTYRE—either of whom we could support most cheerfully—were both upon the ground, with their backers. The friends of Gen. FETTER were there to urge his claims, and to oppose Mr. M'INTYRE. The friends of Mr. M'INTYRE were there to urge him, and to oppose Gen. FETTER. The Conferees from Cumberland were asked to decide between the claims of the rival candidates presented by Perry, but we felt that we could not, in safety, assume this dangerous responsibility. Our sympathies, as we have said, were naturally with Perry, for, on the score of rotation that county had claims over York, and we were satisfied, too, that the Democracy of Cumberland felt a deep interest in Perry. We hope the day is not far distant, however, when the Democrats of Perry will be convinced that Cumberland still their firm fast friend, ready to yield to any reasonable demand they may make upon her. It was not the fault of the Conferees from Cumberland that the candidate was not taken from Perry—it was Perry's own fault. It would have been worse than folly had the Conferees from this county attempted to reconcile the difficulties in Perry by making choice of one of her candidates. For us to have done so, would have been deemed an impudent interference on our part. We wish it distinctly understood, then, that after the Conferees from this county were convinced that they could not succeed with their own candidate, they did not go to York from choice, but from necessity. We could not interfere, nor could we settle the difficulties existing in Perry, and we supported the York candidate, believing, under all the circumstances, that his nomination would tend to harmonize the conflicting interests in Perry, and be the means of gaining for us all a glorious victory. HENRY L. FISHER is a candidate we can all work for and vote for. He was the unanimous choice of old Democratic York, and in all sincerity we can say, a better man—a more zealous, hard-working Democrat—was never presented to the people of our District.

HENRY L. FISHER.

Important that we Organize!—Important that we elect our candidate for Congress—Let no Democrat stand idle! The result of the coming election in this State, may determine what party shall choose its next President. The Congressmen elected this fall, will hold their offices until 1861, and if the election of President should be thrown into the National House of Representatives, as it will be if the Opposition succeed in getting a majority in that body, those Congressmen will assist in choosing the President, and there is a possibility even that the member from this district may have the casting vote! How important, then, that we should organize! How important that we should have no honorable means untried to swell the ranks of the Democracy! How important that every Democrat vote should be polled on election day! Go to work, therefore! Let no Democrat stand idle! "Eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty!"

"The Sun" has risen again! In other words, the Philadelphia Sun, the old organ of the Native Americans, has been revived by its former publisher, Joshua S. Fletcher, Esq. It goes for "pure exclusive American principles," and repudiates all fellowship or fusion with any of the new parties which have lately sprung up. We notice that it holds a "straight" American ticket for County Officers, members of Congress, State Senator, and Representatives, in Philadelphia.

OUR CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

We place at our mast-head to-day, the name of HENRY L. FISHER, Esq., of York, as our candidate for Congress. Our acquaintance with Mr. FISHER has been short, but short as it has been, we know him well. He is a gentleman possessing superior talents—a fluent and powerful public speaker, and one of the first lawyers at the York bar. His moral character is unimpeached and unimpeachable. The first time we laid eyes on HENRY L. FISHER, we liked the man; his face is an index to his character—open, frank, honest. He is in the prime of life—being some thirty-eight years of age—and commenced the world a poor boy, without influential or wealthy friends to back him or to assist or encourage him in his aspirations. He is emphatically a self-made man—the architect of his own fortunes—and hence it is, we presume, that he is so highly popular where he is best known, and particularly with the masses. By his indomitable energy, sterling integrity, sagacity of manners, and firmness of character, he has gained troops of zealous friends in his own county, and it was not to be wondered at that the Conferees from York, who had been instructed for him, adhered to him with stubborn tenacity. He was worthy of their efforts—deserving of their friendship.

Mr. FISHER, we learn, studied law with Hon. WILSON REILLY, of Chambersburg, the present member of Congress from the Franklin district. After he had finished his studies, he passed a highly creditable examination, and was admitted to the bar as a practicing attorney. From Chambersburg he proceeded to Gettysburg, and after practicing his profession at the Adams county bar for several years, he removed to York (some eight years ago) where he soon acquired position and a lucrative practice. Mr. FISHER is, we believe, of German parentage; at least he speaks and writes the German with the same facility he does the English. During the excitement of a political contest in York county, Mr. FISHER is always sent into the German settlements to deliver speeches to the people in their own language. He is a speaker of great power, and enchains his hearers by the urgency and cogency of his argument. We shall never forget the powerful speech he delivered at the Mass Meeting in Dillstown, a short time before the last Presidential election. Our friends in York paid us the compliment of selecting us as the President of that most respectable assembly, and we therefore had a fine opportunity of hearing the speeches that were made. The people were addressed by Mr. FISHER, Messrs. HALDEMAN and SIEB, of Harrisburg, and our own eloquent BUNDE, of Carlisle. The speeches, we noticed, had a telling effect, but Mr. FISHER's remarks appeared to carry conviction to those who had determined they would not be convinced. We remember to have remarked then, to a friend, "that young man (Henry L. Fisher) is destined to rise high upon the pinnacle of fame."

CONFERENCE MEETING.

The Long Contest Ended.—Henry L. Fisher Nominated. BRIDGEPORT, Sept. 24. The Democratic Conferees of the 16th Congressional District, re-convened, in accordance with the resolution adopted at their last meeting—Mr. LEIDY, of York, in the chair, and J. B. BRATTON, of Carlisle, Secretary. Messrs. GROVE and MOSE appeared as substitutes for Messrs. Clemon and Houser. Mr. Rupp as substitute for Mr. Moser, and Mr. Spahr as substitute for Mr. Woodruff. Fifty-two unsuccessful ballots we then had, making in all 178. The name of Mr. M'INTYRE was then dropped, and on motion of Mr. Showalter, Gen. D. Fetter was placed in nomination for Congress. Eight more ballots were taken, each candidate receiving three votes. The Perry conferees then withdrew the name of Gen. Fetter, and again placed Mr. M'INTYRE in nomination. The balloting continued up to 2 o'clock, of Saturday morning, without a change of result. After 207 ballots had been had on motion, the Conference adjourned, to meet again after breakfast.

BRIDGEPORT, Sept. 25.

At about 9 o'clock the Conference re-assembled. Mr. Houser of Cumberland, re-appeared, resumed his seat as a member of the body. A resolution was then adopted that the Conference would adjourn sine die at noon. The balloting was again resumed. After 222 votes had been taken, and the hour agreed upon for the final adjournment having expired, a majority of the Conferees were on their feet, and on the point of taking their final leave. Mr. Bratton then moved that one more ballot be taken, which was agreed to. The two hundred and twenty-third ballot was then taken, and resulted as follows: Messrs. Bratton, Houser, Ford, Small, and Rupp—5, voted for HENRY L. FISHER. Messrs. Lindsey, Showalter and Spahr—3, voted for C. J. T. M'INTYRE. Mr. Grose—1, voted for John A. Ahl. HENRY L. FISHER, of York, having received a majority of the votes, on motion of Mr. Rupp, seconded by Messrs. Bratton and Showalter, the nomination of Mr. FISHER was declared unanimous.

The following resolution was then unanimously adopted: Resolved, That this Conference, representing the 16th Congressional District, heartily approves of the course of the Hon. John A. Ahl in Congress, and regard him as a true and faithful public servant; and that the protracted struggle for the nomination was not occasioned by any difference of opinion upon the Lecompion policy of the National Administration, which is endorsed by this conference; and that the nomination of Henry L. Fisher of York is hereby declared unanimous by the conferees representing the counties of York, Cumberland and Perry.

JOHN Q. LINDSEY, President J. B. BRATTON, Secretary.

THE AUTUMN DAYS.—We have now fairly entered upon the delightful season of the "sere and yellow leaf." One of the celebrated poets—Byron, we believe—celebrating in song the advent of Autumn, wrote "The melancholy days are come, The saddest of the year." But the poet was wrong—there are neither melancholy nor sad. Like rich mellow fruit comes the Autumn. Not the gay bloom of childhood—not the ever-restless, cheering leaf of green youth—but the calm, mature quiet of ripened manhood. Manhood with its steady purposes, its benevolent, large charity, and its broad, genial views of men and things. Welcome the Autumn-time—its lengthened evenings, with their social parties, when around the bright and genial firelight, the girls look so bright and cosy, and tend their pleasant cheer.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The fall meeting and exhibition of the Cumberland County Agricultural Society, will commence on the grounds of the Society at this place, on Wednesday, the 13th of October, to last three days. We hope to see our farmers and others give the enterprise the attention and encouragement it deserves. Every farmer in the county should at least attend the Exhibition. If he is too stingy to become a member, let him at least come in with his "quarter," and attend the Exhibition, and witness the hundreds of articles, stock, grains, implements, &c., that will be exhibited by his more enterprising and more liberal agricultural brethren. The Agricultural Society of this county should, and we hope will be, ere long, one of the most prosperous in the State. Our valley is celebrated for the fertility of its soil and the intelligence of its farmers. Why, then, with the advantages we have over most other counties, should we not have one of the most prosperous Agricultural Societies in the State? There are, we believe, but six counties in the State that pay a greater amount of tax into the State Treasury than Cumberland. Let us also be able to say that there are not more than six Agricultural Societies that can boast over us in general prosperity. Of course we cannot make this boast now, for the Society is yet in its infancy, and this is its 4th Exhibition; but by this time next year we hope to see the Society established upon a firm basis, and ready to compete with all other County Societies, in wealth and the number of its members. Preparations have been, and are being made commensurate with the largest expectations. A beautiful spot of ground has been selected, laid out in walks, enclosed by fences, and improved in every way, that will add to the general effect, and promote the comfort of all who will be present. There will be accommodation (as the Tavern signs read) for Man and Beast. We doubt not, we shall behold a display of mechanical ingenuity, agricultural wealth, and well directed industry, such as never before made proud the heart of Farmer, Mechanic, or Citizen. While Dynasties are crumbling in the old world, and weak-kneed Monarchies are wrestling with each other for supremacy, and that "prestige" of power which they prize as "the Divine Rights of Kings," and immobility upon the altar of their selfishness Hecla towers of victims; we, in peace, have been prosperously pursuing the arts of industry, and developing from the fertility of our unsurpassed soil, wealth, home, comfort, and happiness. Every Sebastopol or other bone of contention in Europe, brings to its subjects only taxation, deprivation, and misery. Every County Fair, or Exposition of peaceful and productive Art, brings to us the Past, causes a glow of pride and satisfaction in the Present, and gives us glimpses of the vast future, our country will realize. All honor then to those great National virtues which are comprehended in these four words: Freedom! Union! Industry! Peace!

Let the People Remember, That fifty-one Black Republicans in the House of Representatives, which elected Speaker Banks, being a majority of Republicans in that body, voted in 1857 TO REDUCE THE DUTY ON IRON FROM THIRTY TO TWENTY-FOUR PER CENT! Let the people likewise remember, that this SAME PARTY, which reduced that duty, is now making great professions of attachment to the IRON INTERESTS of Pennsylvania! Let the people likewise remember, that, although the old Whig party was once the advocate of "protection for the sake of protection," yet it abandoned the doctrine, and in 1852 occupied precisely the same ground on the Tariff question which the Democratic party did then and which it does now.

The Hobby of the Mill. We noticed yesterday, says the Pittsburgh Chronicle, of Sept. 18, the fact that a man, named James Moore, alias Thompson, had been arrested in this city, charged with robbing the United States Mint, in Philadelphia, of several signs of gold, a number of gold coins, and a lot of medals. Officer Patterson, of the Mayor's police, started with his prisoner for Philadelphia last night, but ere he had got three miles from the city, he made an attempt to escape, by jumping out of the car window. Mr. Patterson promptly gave the alarm, and Conductor Keller as promptly stopped the train. It was backed to the spot at which it was thought the fellow had jumped off, but no traces of him were to be found. Patterson then told Keller that he would not detain him any longer, and he proceeded on his way, leaving the officer to look after the runaway.

Mr. Patterson walked down the track some one hundred and fifty yards, and found the hat of the prisoner. Pursuing his search still further, he discovered the prisoner himself, lying on the track, and almost insensible. He took him up at once, and as soon as he was sufficiently restored to walk, brought him to the city, where he had his wounds dressed, and was otherwise provided for. He states that he was induced to make the attempt from the fact that one of his associates had turned State's evidence, and that sooner than undergo a lengthened imprisonment, he was willing to risk his life any day. He had risked it, he remarked, and failed, though had he not been so precipitate in his action, it is probable he would have been able to make good his escape.

On the back of his head, which appears to have struck the ground first, is a deep cut. From the effects of the concussion which produced the wound, he states that he rendered wholly insensible, and that but for this, he might easily have got away. The speed at which the train was going at the time, he says, was terrific, and that he escaped with his life is a marvel. Officer Patterson will try another way of the city, but has its way over the whole city—till sufficiently their own tale to our friends abroad of the severe trial we are undergoing. The fever knows no abatement—Despite the large number of deaths in a number of persons open to its attacks, the fall destroyer counts up his victims without diminution of numbers, and it is impossible to fix any turning point for the calamity. The many indications of fall and cool weather give us hope of a speedy relief, which cannot come too soon.

One of the noticeable and melancholy features of the mortality of the season has been the large number of deaths among infants and children. Parents, poor and rich, will long remember this summer with painful reminiscences. The food of confidence begins to bear its weight, we are around our counting-rooms and depots, our love and watch, and our own purse trade centered here cannot await the departure of the epidemic, to allow it full scope and set its mighty arm in motion. Cotton is king, even over death itself.

THE NEGRO ISSUES.—Let all men of all parties who desire to rid the country of the pending Negro issues, rally to the election and vote the entire Democratic ticket. Nearly every body has a perfect surfeit of this abolition niggerism, and the way to get rid of it, and get up something respectable in place of it, is to crush it by voting for the Democratic candidates.

BE WARNED.—We warn our friends that the opposition are now secretly and steadily at work, and notwithstanding the seeming indifference of many of them as to the result of the contest, every man will be found at his post when his services are wanted.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR CONGRESS.—Jacob Weidel, Esq., of Lebanon county, has been nominated as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Tenth District. He is a gentleman of irreproachable character, and deserves to be elected.

Gen. Winfield Scott met with quite a serious accident at West Point, a few days since. In descending the stairs of his hotel, he had a severe fall, causing bodily injuries that will confine him to his room for some time.

Late From Europe.

Arrival of the Prince Albert—Appalling Calamity.—The Steamer Austria Burned at Sea.—Only Sixty-seven saved.—Statement of a Rescued Passenger.—Explosion of the Magazine.—Suffocation and Drowning of Passengers. HALIFAX, Sept. 27. The big Lotus arrived yesterday with twelve of the sixty-seven survivors of the destruction of the steamer Austria, burned at sea on the 13th. On the scaffold, Clark occupied forty-five minutes in reading his speech, which he affirmed his innocence. He declared that he was entirely ready and willing to die. He displayed the utmost coolness, throughout, except during the prayer on the scaffold, when he knelt and joined in its recital, exhibiting considerable emotion. He died with scarcely a struggle.

Execution of a Will-Poisoned.

DANVILLE, Sept. 24.—W. G. Clark, convicted of the murder of his wife by poison, was executed to day at noon.

Since his conviction the prisoner had manifested the most surprising indifference to his fate. Last night he slept about three hours. He was in the habit of talking freely, with an easy and untroubled mind, and with a number of the different Protestant churches were with him all the morning in his cell, endeavoring to prepare his mind for his future fate. They all attended him to the scaffold.

On the scaffold, Clark occupied forty-five minutes in reading his speech, which he affirmed his innocence. He declared that he was entirely ready and willing to die. He displayed the utmost coolness, throughout, except during the prayer on the scaffold, when he knelt and joined in its recital, exhibiting considerable emotion. He died with scarcely a struggle.
