

Young men who keep late hours, here! See Rest returned home from a ball at Cincinnati, about three A. M., and finding all the doors closed, climbed up on the portico to get in through a window. An effort had been made by the night watchman to discover the burglars, as he supposed, and he discovered to his horror that it was his own son. Fortunately for both, George was badly hurt as he thought. The first fall had missed him altogether, and the second lodged in his shoulder, making a painful, though not at all dangerous wound.

A most distressing death occurred in Rappahannock county, Virginia. A little son of Mr. John T. Carter, left the house to drive some cows out at 4 o'clock, and a few minutes the negro returned and stated that the little fellow, who was about nine years of age, had tied himself to a cow's tail and was hurt. The father proceeded to the spot, about a mile from the house, and found the little boy tied to the cow by a rope around the waist. He was dead, and his body shockingly mutilated.

Concerning the Italian burglar, who murdered a postman in New York, whilst attempting to arrest him, and convicted only of manslaughter, after having been convicted by three different juries before as guilty of murder in the first degree, was sentenced on Saturday week to imprisonment during his natural life.
