panions endured from the cold weather, on the plains and in the mountains:

Mr. G. left Salt Lake City, on the 27th of November, with the mail on packed animals, in company with G. A. Beardley, of New York.—
It had been snowing for seven or eight days before Mr. G. left the valley. The snow was from one to six feet deep in the Pig Mountains, and they had to tramp the snow to pass with their animals. Second day out the snow was so deep that the company got lost and lay out all night. that the company got lost and lay out all night, and the men in charge of the mail had their feet and hands frozen, and the boots had to be cut off their feet the next morning.

The third day they made Bridger at sunset and after traveling about twenty miles got lost again, and were compelled again to lay down in the show till morning. Fourth day they made Big Sandy Station, and left there about 2 o'clock in the evening and traveled twenty miles wind blowing from the east. The storm increased so as to prevent them from seeing five feet ahead, and compelled them again to lay up. They camped in a hollow, and during the night, snow drifted on them to the depth of 3 feet. Here, the whole company almost froze.—

Mr. G. states that his feet and legs were so numb as to be almost unable to stand up. The mail men having no bedding were compelled to walk around all night to keep from freezing.

Fifth day—left early in the morning—traveled eight miles—one of the mail men's face and hands froze, and the other was so far froze as to be almost asleep. Mr. G. here finding that the men would freeze, took them off and made them walk. They then turned and went back 28 miles to Big Sandy. The next day the wind cassed, and they started in company with Mr. Ashton, the mail agent. They reached the South Pass at dark. Here the wind raised again; the snow being drifted from five to ten feet deep, and they again became lost—for three or four hours they wandered around in hopes to find the read and they read and they again became lost—for three or four hours they wandered around in hopes to wind blowing from the east. The storm in or four hours they wandered around in hopes to find the road, and their only hope was to face the wind, in order to reach Sweet Water, which they did. They then attempted to travel down this stream, but the drifted snow was so deep as to be impassible. They escaped, and Mr. Ashton froze one of his feet while in the bed. In the morning they left mules, mail and all, and took it afoot down Sweet Water, on the ice. Mr. Ashton begged to be left in the bed, as they had to cut the boots off his feet. Mr. G pulled off his buffalo moccasins and put then on Mr. Ashton—leaving his own feet with only a deerskin moccasin on. The whole company concluded their time was growing short, but like heroes, made a desperate effort, part of the time carrying Mr. Ashton. They reached a station house about ten miles distant. They then had some hopes of making the trip, although the thermometer stood 27 degrees be-

The mechanism, however, is so simple, and the arrangement so easy, that no difficulty need occur. Many ladies have the machine sent to their residences after having received a half hour's instruction. Any future difficulties are readily surmounted, and then practice alone makes perfect in the use of this as anything else. Domestics and children of twelve years of age readily become proficient in its use I shall deliver the machines I sell, either in Carlisle, Newville, Shippensburg, or Chambers ourg.
