THE DISORGANIZER'S "STATE CONVENTION."

The long talked-of bogus "Democratic State Convention'' assembled at Harrisburg on Wednesday of last week. It was made up of officeholders under the State administration, disappointed office-seekers, defeated candidates for Congress, and grumblers of all shades and opinions. It was a meeting of "sore-heads," and spayined politicians. After the stronuous efforts that had been made to get up this Convention, we had reason to believe that a respectable number at least would be in attendance. The different rail-roads (being under the control of men of the Opposition,) reduced the fare to half-price to all who desired to attend; and the strongest appeals were made to those who had the least cause-real or imaginary-to feel cool FROST:-The severe frosts we have had of toward the National administration. But all would not do-Democrats would not attend this meeting of corrupt disorganizers, and the Convention was a failure—a contemptible fizzle, numbering about 100 all told! We never yet knew a man to forsake the Democratic party, who did not immediately thereaffelt so warm an interest in his "colored brethren ?" Oh, the hypocrits !--we venture to say there were not ten men in that Convention, who, if they lived in Georgia, would not buy and sell slaves, provided they could make money by the operation. And this remark will apply with equal force to nine-tenths of those who call themselves Republicans, and effect so much love for Sambo. Their preaching is nothing but deception, and their profession of principles a lie. All they expect, and all they pray for, is to gain power, and when they gain it, to and died of hydrophobia nine days after. No abuse it. The Wheeling, (Va.,) Intelligencer, of April 13th, gives the following particulars of a desperate fight in a railroad car, which, but for the respectability of the source from whence it comes, we would suspect to be another Arowsmith story: "We learn from the passengers who arrived yesterday morning from the Cleveland and Pittsburg Railroad, that a desperate and bloody recontre took place on the night train, a short distance above Wellsville, in which one man was shot in the leg and another beaten so badly that he had to be carried out and medical aid called. It seems that Captain Moore, of this city, was occupying a seat by himself, when a farmer, living in the y eight hours, and then died a terrible death.
