> Gen. Houston's Political Position. General Houston, of Texas, in his great speech of the campaign, made at Nacogdoches, n that State, on the 20th of July last, said: You larrupped me most unmercifully, but yet I felt that the pledges made to you during the canvass of 1857 were none the less faithfulto be fulfilled. Texas had endorsed Mr. Buchanan by the largest majority in proportion to her vote of any State in the Union. I told you I would support his Administration. I did so. He had not received my vote, but it was not ecause I did not have confidence in his ability

I am now denounced for supporting an Adtion. Is it not an evidence of my Democracyof my regard for the will of the people ? if Mr. Buchanan did say, as is charged : "Gen. Houston, you have given my Adminstration as cordial a support as any Democrat in Congress, and I am thankful for it." Is it a sin for a De mocratic President to appreciate the support of man, even though his name be Sam Houston ? It is rather amusing to see the Republicans rejoicing over the election of a Governer who

A dreadful series of outrages were perpetra ed on Saturday night a week, on board of the steamer Express, which left the city on that evening with a large company for the Camp Meeting on the Choptank River. After the boat had got some distance from the city, a party of rowdies, rallying under the cry (f "Enbolts," "Ranters," and "Rip Raps." made ing; we had a conversation about her health ; an indiscriminate assault upon the white aid colored passengers; knocking them down in every direction. Many of them were horribly beaten, and several stabbed. Many of the white men were robbed of their money and watches, the assailants blowing out the lights to prevent their being recognized. One colored man was stabbed, and his wife outraged in his presence. On Sunday morning, the boat stopped at Cambridge, where the Sheriff of Dorchester county arrested four of the ringleaders showed no symptoms of being in a family way ; and committed them to jail. It is reported that one colored man has died of his wounds.

Again, on Monday afternoon, at the "Amer ican" primary, "election in the Third Ward, May when she called again; John Beidler was sick; he rubbed a inchcine on his side; he seriously injured, but none killed.

The health, if not the reason, of thousands of children is annually destroyed in our country from excessive application. Parents and teachers are equally criminal in forcing, when they should repress, the too early developed passion for study. It is, too, a question of serious moment, whether the confinement of very young children, for six or eight hours a day, in overheated and illy-ventilated school-rooms, is not a fruitful source of merital and physical evil. As it is better to prevent crime than to punish it, so is it easier to preserve health than to regain

I said. Adaline the people don't something severely, it foll into the water in the bucket; the mother said "hold on until you get those lumps all from you." Then the pain left reflect upon you as much as upon your mother from what they have heard. The old lady seemed considerably agitated and effected. I told them that I did not think the people disposed e felt easy; then she talked of going asleep and her mother said "Adaline, now you know what it is to be a married woman, it is the same labor." Aduline said "if that was so she ger, some one might do it. Her sister Agnes did not want to be married." Then she wanted asked them if, her father was present when Dr. to sleep there; I caught her by the arm and Zitzer was there. They said he was there, Adwanted to help her to bed; then the mother took aline was crying while I was there, the old lahold of me and said "don't you hear, she wants dy was affected considerably from my remarks. to go to sleep here, come let us go down."... When I left she said "don't tell what happened Cross-examined .-- It was a conversation generally about the child; Dr. Zitzer told me first and Mrs. Albert next, and Mrs. Davidson; Mr. Smith and McNulty; I dont know that either I
