THREE OF THE COMMITTEE.

To all whom it may Concern.

We intend sending bills, in a few days, to all those indebted to us for subscription, advertising, &c., and hope they will be paid promptly. It is our intelligent, honest and worthy, and if the neointention to buy new type for our paper and improve it, and in order to do this it is absolutely necessary for those in arrears to pay up. So be ready for our Collector when he calls on you.

MARSHAL YOST .- The United States Marshal for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, Hon. JACOB S. Yost, arrived in our town in the afternoon train on Monday, and remained here over night. During his stay he was called upon by quite a number of our citizens, who embraced the opportunity to pay their respects to him. Mr. Yost is a gentleman of fine address, and is universally regarded a most faithful and energetic officer. It has been our fortune to know Mr. Yosr long and well, and we have always found him the same high-minded generous gen-

TAKEN BELOW .- PETER KEFAUVRE, who was arrested last week by Special Mail Agent MOORE, on the charge of embezzling letters containing money, from the mail at the Dickinson Post-office, in this county, was taken to Philadelphia by United States Marshal Yost, on Tuesday morning. He has been in our jail since his arrest, and has been taken to Philadelphia for the purpose of being bound over or committed for trial at the November session of the U. S. Court. KEFAUVRE had been employed during the sickness of the late Post-Mas ter at Dickinson, (Squire AULD.) to attend to the duties of the office. He continued in the office for some two weeks after the death of the Post-Master, and it was during this time that the supposed embezzlement took place .-Whether the prisoner is guilty or not, of course we cannot tell. We hope he may establish his innocence, for if found guilty, he will (and justly too.) be sentenced to an imprisonment of some ten years in the penitentiary. The evidence that will be offered against him, we believe, is altogether circumstantial. KEFAUVRE is a son-in-law of the late Source Auld, and is a man of family. IN A FIX. -Our Republican opponents in this District are at a dead lock on the subject of Senator. The Conferees representing the four counties met at Newport last week, and after have been nominated, and worthy your united balloting for two days, adjourned without ma king a nomination. On Tuesday they re-assembled at the same place, to make another ef fort. At the time of this writing we had heard nothing in regard to what was done. At the first meeting the voting, from first to last, stood, for Irvin 6; for Patterson 3; for Butler 3.

CAMP MEETING .- There was an immense turn out, on Sunday, to the camp meeting in Dunlap's woods, near Shepherdstown. The rural districts of old Cumberland were largely represented, as was also Harrisburg. We have heard the number of people on the ground variously estimated at from four to seven thousand. A few individuals, who took supplies of liquor the exercises passed off quietly.

TOOK FRENCH LEAVE .- A young man named JAMES JENNETT, who has been employed for the last six months as a driver at Mr. Hilton's liv. ery stable, took French leave of Carlisle, some two weeks since, after collecting about $75 or $80 of his employer's money. He was also indebted to Mr. Hilton $20 or $30 of advanced principles. wages. JENNETT is a good driver and horse trainer, and was quite popular with the patrons of Mr. Hilton's establishment. OUR TICKET COMPLETE.

The nomination of Dr. CRAWFORD for State enator in this District completes the Democratic ticket, and we therefore deem the present he proper time to refer to our candidates, and to impress upon our readers the importance of yielding them a hearty and energetic support. They were placed in nomination by a full County Convention, and are entitled to the support of the Democratic party. That we can elect the ticket by a handsome majority, no one will gainsay. All that is wanted is union and harmony, and a determination not to permit jealousies and bickerings to distract our counsels. Of course, in the formation of a ticket all cannot strange that some Democrats feel chagrined and mortified. This is natural, and not to be con lemned. But, let no one permit this feeling of the enemy-let him not seek revenge by making opposition to the candidates of his own party It sometimes happens that men who are candidates for nominations in the Democratic party. as well as in other parties, and are defeated, will immediately ally themselves with an opposing party, and lay schemes and plots to defeat a degree that absorbs every good trait of charof an opponent. Every candidate who goes he- | Fairs, on one occasion, said : fore a Convention for nomination, expects, in case he is nominated, the support of his party. If all who are not nominated are to gratify their spleen by opposing the one who succeeds, what becomes of the party? The inference is plain hat defeat must follow; and it is equally clear that men who will thus act, are members of an organization only because they hope to gain position and profit by it. Let Democrats, then, one and all, determine to yie'd a cordial support to the entire ticket, and thus elect it by an old fashioned majority. For State Senator we have Dr. E D. CRAW ORD, of Juniata county. He is most admirably qualified for this position, and, as a member of the Senate-for he will be e'ected-will occupy a prominent position. His fitness to represent the people of Cumberland, Perry, Juniata, and Mifflin, with integrity and ability, is not doubted by any one, and against his reputation no breath of slander dare be uttered. He is above reproach, and the people of this county will be proud of their Senator in the person of Suffice it to say, he is an able and highly honorable man, and universally respected by nen of all parties. His election is a fixed fact. The selection of the remaining officers, John W. COCKLIN for Auditor, ABRAHAM LAMBER-TON for County Surveyor, and DAVID SMITH for Coroner, must give general satisfaction, for f honor and integrity are of any weight in the ommunity, they will be elected triumphantly.

Such, fellow-citizens, are the nominces; they are all good and true men, competent to dis charge the duties of the places for which they and zealous support. OUR NEXT AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

The Fair of the Cumberland County Agriculural Society, to be held on the grounds of the 14th of next month, will, we trust, be an exhiinterests of Cumberland county. We regret, observed during the Fair, and the list of the premiums to be offered. Ours is the only Agricultural Society in the State that neglects to give publicity to this almost necessary informationand this on the miserable plea of economy. This is "the penny wise and pound foolish" mode of doing business. So far as we are concerned, i be gratified, and this being the case, it is not the Society is too poor or parsimonious to publish to the farmers of our county the necessar, information relative to the Fair, we will agre to insert it a few times gratis. This will remedy disappointment to carry him into the camp of the neglect so much complained of, and will not interfere with the funds of the Society.

But, to the subject of the next Pair. As this has been a season of plenty, we hope to see our agricultural friends vie with each other in placing on exhibition the products of their labor. The managers of our Society are now having the grounds, stalls, sheds, &c., put in complete order for exhibiting the various articles that their successful rivals. Such men are selfish to may be presented, and we have no doubt the coming exhibition will be the best, in all its acter, and they are so narrow-minded as to parts, we have yet had. "The principle of association-the practic of bringing men together bent on the same general object, pursuing the same general end uniting, their intellectual and their physical ef forts to that purpose, is a great improvement i the present age. And it has become essentia to the best interests of the farmers of the Commonwealth, that these annual fairs should l established, and that they should be universally attended. It is in this point of view in this greatly practical point of view-that these annual fairs are of importance.

Why, gentlemen, every man obtains a very great portion of all that he knows in this world, by conversation. Conversation-intercours with other minds—is the general source of mos of our knowledge. Books do something, but every man has not the opportunity to read. It is conversation that improves. If any one of us, learned or unlearned, deduct what he has learned by conversation from what he knows he would find but very little left, and that little not of the most valuable kind. It is conversation—it is the meeting of men, face to face, and talking over what they have common in interest -it is this intercourse that makes men sharp intelligent, ready to communicate to others, and ready to receive intimations from them, and eady to act upon those only which they receive by this communication. Therefore, if there were not a thing exhibited -if there were not a good pair of steers, nor a fine horse, nor likely cow in the whole countyif there be no society—if there be ladies, wive and daughters—if there be those connected with the tillage of land,-I say that these annual meetings are highly important to progess in the to receive from them any intimations their experience may have taught, and desirous only of suggesting something for their reflection which,

In many distinguished public positions with which the people of Western Pennsylvania have honored him, he has earned a State reputation; and his great popularity at home atre-opening of the African Slave Trade! Oh; tests those generous and noble qualities of heart for a whin in every honest hand to lash the rasfavorite. Believing him to be emphatically the man for the times, we hereby instruct our delegates, this day appointed to the Democratic State Convention, to present his name to the Democracy of Pennsylvania as our first choice for Governor, and to use al. honorable means to secure his nomination.

We consider it a little premature to discuss the subject of next Governor at present, but yet we are free to say that there is no man in the State we could more cheerfully support than a better man to be found in the State.
