

AMERICAN VOLUNTEER.

JOHN B. BRATTON, Editor & Proprietor. CARLISLE, PA., DEC. 15, 1859.

Standing Committee Meeting.

The members of the Democratic Standing Committee of Cumberland county, are requested to meet at Hizer's Hotel, in Carlisle, on Saturday, the 23rd day of December, 1859, at 1 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of fixing the time for the election of Delegates and the holding of a County Convention to appoint Delegates to the next Democratic State Convention.

E. CORNMAN, Chairman.

No SPEAKER YET.—The House of Representatives is still unorganized. The members continue to vote for Speaker daily, without effecting an election. Thus it is without the Opposition are in the majority—they generally expend one or two hundred thousand dollars in organizing the House. Would we not have a beautiful time of it if this party of flag-ends should elect the next President?

THE CARLISLE CORPS DRAMATIC, made their debut on last Saturday evening, and were greeted with an overflowing house. We were unable to attend, but learn that the entire performance was rendered with a degree of ability far surpassing the anticipations of the audience. After the holidays we are to have weekly performances, and we heartily wish success to the corps.

NARROW ESCAPE.—On last Saturday evening as Mr. FREDERICK RIDER and his wife, who were riding in a Carriage, attempted to cross the Railroad track at the east end of the town, the Carriage was struck by the westward train of cars and broken to pieces. The horse had one of his legs cut off and was afterwards shot. Mr. and Mrs. RIDER escaped without any serious injury, save a few scratches and bruises.

CUMBERLAND FAIR.—The Fair of the Cumberland Fire Company is now in full blast, and it is expected that our citizens will be interested in the Company liberally. The "Cumberland" has been, and still is, a good "institution," and well worthy of support from our citizens. The proceeds of the Fair is to be applied towards the building of an Engine house, which is very much needed by the Company.

THE CONTESTED ELECTION CASE.—On Monday last, Messrs. Quigley, Croft and A. A. Line, who had been appointed by the Court commissioners to investigate the right of Mr. GORGAS to hold the office of County Commissioner, made report to Judge GRAMM.

Pennsylvania is a peaceful and Constitution-loving State. But if the Governor of Virginia wishes to do mischief, and to promote danger to all the national relations of the States, how could he conceive of a more likely way to accomplish such an object than to proclaim his State in arms, to demand of Pennsylvania whether she means bona fide to adhere to the Constitution? Might she not reply by asking the same question, and in that case, before asking any more questions? It is deeply to be regretted that out of the lawless and treasonable acts of a few individuals there has arisen, in many sections of the North, and in many parts of the South, a feeling most dangerous to the continued observance of the Constitution on all sides that this alone can be done. It must be by not indirectly countenancing treason in the manner in which it has been in so many quarters, by making a hero of Brown, or applauding a course of conduct which would destroy any government—a course which nothing could justify, but one certain to give birth to the worst crimes. On the other hand, the course of Governor Wise will do much harm. So says the Public Ledger.

The Daily Patriot and Union, the official organ of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania, is one of the best daily papers published, containing all the latest foreign and domestic news, as well as a choice variety of miscellaneous matter. It will contain, during the session of the Legislature, full and authentic reports of the proceedings of that body. The paper is edited with marked ability, and characterized by a high moral and conservative political tone. The Weekly Patriot and Union, a large eight page paper, is also a valuable paper. The daily is furnished to subscribers at $4, and the weekly at $2 per year. Address O. Barrett & Co., Harrisburg, Pa.

THE PENNSYLVANIA DAILY TELEGRAPH.—This paper is the official organ of the Opposition party in this State. It is a neatly printed paper, edited with ability, and as a newspaper, will vie with the best. During the meeting of the Legislature, it will contain all the proceedings of that body. While we cannot advise our Democratic brethren to subscribe for it in preference to their own party paper, we commend it to the Opposition of Cumberland county, for with it they will not only have a good newspaper, but also a firm advocate and faithful exponent of their political predilections. The Daily is furnished at $4 per year, or $1 during the session of the Legislature; the Weekly at $2 per year. Address Geo. Bergner & Co., Harrisburg.

TO BE HUNG.—The negro Hulsinger, convicted of the murder of his wife in Harrisburg, will be executed on Friday, the 23d inst. He is said to be as much inclined to receive the visits of the ministers of religion, as he was formerly opposed to them.

WHY ARE YOUNG LADIES at the breaking up of a party like arrows? Because they can't go off without a beau; and are in a queer till they get one.

THE GRANDSON of Tecumseh is now living in Natchez, Miss. He is a well educated and accomplished gentleman, and a physician by profession. He has travelled extensively in Europe.

Governor Wise's Message.

Pennsylvania has not been of the number of those who, directly or indirectly, have sympathized with old John Brown's insurrectionary attack upon the peaceful village of Harper's Ferry, Virginia. Not only so, but we may refer with pleasure and with pride to the conduct of our citizens and of our State authorities, in reference to this matter. Of those who sought refuge in this State, not one, that we know of, has escaped. They were sought out and delivered up to Governor Wise, when he could not and cannot even now identify them. Up to and beyond the demands of the Constitution, has Virginia been aided in the rendition of these fugitives from justice. These men were not so much citizens of our State as of Virginia and of other States, nor were their plans laid in our State, nor their conspiracy hatched among us; but in Kansas, or Ohio, New York, or Canada, and most of all in Virginia, where their leader had domiciled himself. We make this statement with no disposition to screen offenders against law and order, or our State or any of its citizens from all constitutional obligations. But it was on the soil of Virginia itself that this treason was being matured and carried on for a year or more, and not our soil, a title part as much as that of Maryland and Virginia. If the Virginians could not find it out, how could others?

In view of all this, the complaints so freely made by Gov. Wise against the other States are unjust, and will prove quite injurious, so far, at least, as Pennsylvania is concerned. "We must rely upon ourselves, and fight for peace," says Governor Wise. "We must organize and arm. We must demand of each State what position she means to maintain in future, with respect to slavery and provisional constitutions, the laws of the United States, and the provisions of State laws for its protection in our federal relations, and be governed according to the manner in which the demand is answered." "We are in arms." Against whom? We would ask. If against persons domiciled in Virginia, well and good. But if, by force of arms, to make demands of other peaceful States, like our own, it is a violation of the Constitution, to begin with, that matter being all handed over to the United States authorities, and it is most unwise to begin with a threat and violation of the Constitution in demanding of other States a more full observance of that constitution. In fact, Gov. Wise is a very rash man, better fitted for a border chieftain than the Governor of a brave State, that stood foremost in the Revolutionary War, and has, thus far, done so in all national measures. Had he hung Brown up at once, by military law, none would have blamed him. But his military movements have had too much fuss. As to organized conspiracies against Virginia, we repeat it, so far as this State is concerned, they are all hoaxes on Governor Wise's credulity. Very wrong and mischievous hoaxes, we admit, and, if there is any law against them, let the authors be punished. The author of one, at least, of these mischievous, has written a letter to the paper published in the village from which it came, confessing that it was done by way of burlesque, and to try how far Governor Wise could be imposed upon. It was without any responsible name. Yet this absurd and mischievous joke was published gravely in the Richmond Enquirer, with the assurance that it and all the others were accompanied by names of the highest respectability.

Pennsylvania is a peaceful and Constitution-loving State. But if the Governor of Virginia wishes to do mischief, and to promote danger to all the national relations of the States, how could he conceive of a more likely way to accomplish such an object than to proclaim his State in arms, to demand of Pennsylvania whether she means bona fide to adhere to the Constitution? Might she not reply by asking the same question, and in that case, before asking any more questions? It is deeply to be regretted that out of the lawless and treasonable acts of a few individuals there has arisen, in many sections of the North, and in many parts of the South, a feeling most dangerous to the continued observance of the Constitution on all sides that this alone can be done. It must be by not indirectly countenancing treason in the manner in which it has been in so many quarters, by making a hero of Brown, or applauding a course of conduct which would destroy any government—a course which nothing could justify, but one certain to give birth to the worst crimes. On the other hand, the course of Governor Wise will do much harm. So says the Public Ledger.

THE BEAR GARDEN.—A member of Congress has expressed fears that the House of Representatives may become "a bear garden," is the phrase he used in the galleries. It is probable, however, that the spectators of the performances of that dignified body will behave quite as well as their servants in the paragon. It will be an easy matter to keep order up stairs if those below will not make bears of themselves.

MARRIAGE OF COUSINS.—Gov. Magoffin, of Kentucky, recommends the Legislature of that State to prohibit by law, under severe penalties, the marriage of cousins. He says that the imbeciles, insane, deaf mutes, and blind, in the different asylums of that State, who are the offspring of cousins, is from sixteen to twenty per cent. of the whole number; and he claims that it is the right and duty of the State to protect herself against the evil and expense, by forbidding such unions, which Nature plainly forbids by the natural penalty she uniformly inflicts.

A NEW HALF DOLLAR.—A new half dollar has been got up at the United States Mint in Philadelphia, to be submitted to the government for its approval. The new coin, in diameter of the same diameter as that now in circulation, is much thicker at the rim, in consequence of the deeper sinking of the die, and hence much more endurable. On one side is the medium portrait of Washington, with the head wreathed with laurel; the word Liberty upon a scroll over the bust; and at the bottom the United States of America, in plain well adapted raised letters. On the reverse side, a wreath of grain envelopes the word Half Dollar, in the same letters.

PRESUMPTIONS.—This fruit is brought to our town in considerable quantities by country lads. What it can be intended for by nature, we are, like Willis, little embarrassed to understand—possibly to close the gap after enough has entered—for, of all the contract agents, this one seems to us the most pucky and unreasoning. The mouth and lips are drawn so obstinately together by eating a persimmon, that it would be difficult to follow it, even with a "drink." Many persons, however, are fond of persimmons, and all such procure supplies of them very cheap in our market.

CHRISTMAS IS NEAR at hand, and 1859 will soon go down beneath the waves of time to make room for 1860. With the thoughts of the holidays of course come thoughts of the good things they bring—the delicacies of the good things of the delicacies for the tickling of the palate, etc., and in this item to awaken those who deal in Christmas and New Year presents—so remind them that they will soon have to prepare themselves for the holidays.

DEATH OF THE LAST SURVIVOR OF THE WYOMING MASSACRE.—Asa A. Gore, Esq., of Preston, Conn., died in that town, on the 1st inst., at the age of eighty-one years and five months. He was the last survivor of the Wyoming massacre, having been carried away, when a child, in his mother's arms. His father and all his relations but his mother were killed.

KENTUCKY SENATORIAL NOMINATION.—The Democratic members of the Legislature of Kentucky, on the 8th inst., by a unanimous vote nominated the Hon. John C. Breckinridge for the United States Senate.

The Policy of Napoleon.

The Florence correspondence of the London Times, discussing the affairs of Italy; expresses the following opinion as to the Italian war and the Napoleonic policy: "The whole scheme of the liberation of Italy ends in an almost complete subjection of this country to France. The Emperor, resting on the Etna and the Iberian peninsula, already finds himself master of those Greco-Latin races at whose head he fancies he can dictate laws to the world; but their mere subjugation is not the final aim of his ambition. They must be armed and disciplined; they must be deluded, bewildered, fascinated, galvanised into an excitement that may resemble life. Spain is already fighting the battles of France in Africa. Italy fought France's battles in Lombardy. When once they have put on sword these two Latin sisters will powerfully help their elder in a struggle for empire against her Teutonic rivals." It took the British journals a long time to perceive the real aim and comprehend the scope of the policy of Napoleon.

THE UNION MEETING—MANIFESTATION OF PUBLIC SENTIMENT.—The meeting last night, at Jayne's Hall, says the Philadelphia Ledger, is another evidence of the power and determination of the people when once aroused by action by events which come home to their feelings and their interests. It was an immense gathering of the wealth, the influence, the patriotism of Philadelphia—a general outpouring of the merchant, the manufacturer, the mechanic and the intelligent operatives, all of whom go to make up the real strength of society, and whose opinions constitute the public sentiment which controls all the movements of that society, and are the foundations of public order and public law. But one sentiment pervaded that immense throng of citizens, and that sentiment was the integrity of the Union and the faithful performance of all the obligations assumed under the Constitution, and which are necessary to preserve it. The resolutions are moderate in their tone, firm in their expressions of fidelity to obligations, deprecatory of acts and sentiments which carry alarm into neighboring communities, and approbatory of the public measures taken by Virginia to punish the lawless invaders of her territory. The speeches are in the same excellent spirit, acknowledging the rights of the several States, and the duty of each to respect those rights, and to avoid any acts which tend to impair the sense of security which every State should feel in the Union. The warm responses they were given to these expressions of opinion, showed that it was no manufactured sentiment, but the real feeling of an intelligent, patriotic and moral people, who feel how much they are indebted for their prosperity to that national Union and national Government.

UNION MASS MEETING AT PHILADELPHIA.—A grand Union Mass Meeting of citizens, in respect of party, was held on Wednesday night in Jayne's Hall, Philadelphia.—The object being to reaffirm allegiance to the Union and Constitution, and to condemn all fanaticisms. Hon. Joseph R. Ingersoll presided. A series of resolutions reported by Hon. Wm. B. Reed, were adopted, expressing earnest sympathy with their fellow citizens of Virginia, declaring that no laws were more obligatory on the citizens of the Republic than those prescribing the duty of restoring fugitives from labor, disavowing any wish or right to interfere with the domestic institutions of the sister States, and reprobating in the strongest terms all attempts to excite servile insurrection, or to arouse those who are lawfully held in servitude, to violence or bloodshed. Also approving of the recent administration of justice in Virginia, and the energy and fidelity of Governor Wise; and the conduct of the Governor of Pennsylvania in promptly surrendering the fugitives from justice. Finally they assure their brethren of the South that there exists among the people of Pennsylvania a determined spirit to assert and maintain the Constitution, and the rights of States under it, and asking in return their confidence, and that dignified moderation which confidence and patriotic sympathy inspire. The meeting was eloquently addressed by Messrs. Jos. R. Ingersoll, Edward King, Josiah Randall, Isaac Hazlehurst, Robert Tyler, B. H. Browster, Eli K. Price, Charles Ingersoll, James Page, Richard Vaux, Benj. Gerhard, and others.

MAKE THEM WORK.—In most of the western towns, persons sent to prison as vagrants are made to work, and the proceeds derived from their labor are found to be not only sufficient for their maintenance, but afford a handsome addition to the revenue of the counties. Why should not the regiment of vagrants who have so long basked in the sunshine of our municipal indulgence, be made to work also? Put them to cleaning the streets, or some other manual labor, and the days of vagrant felicity will soon be over.

BURIAL OF JOHN BROWN.—The remains of John Brown were finally interred on Thursday, at North Elba, New York. After the face was exposed to view some time in front of his late residence, the coffin was borne by six neighbors to the foot of a rock, where he had directed it to be buried, and then deposited in the earth. Before leaving the house, his favorite hymn, "Blow ye the trumpet—blow," &c., and an impressive prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Young, of Burlington, Vt., who, with Mr. Bigelow and two others of that city, had ridden all night to be present. Remarks were then made by J. McKim, of Philadelphia; and Wendell Phillips, of Boston. At the grave Mr. Young quoted Paul's words, "I have fought the good fight," &c., and pronounced a benediction.

A SPLIT IN THE CHURCH.—By-Law ESTABLISHED.—Late English papers speak of an important ecclesiastical movement about to take place in the established church—a secession of some sixty clergymen, who have already taken the preliminary steps, and propose to form what is called the Free Church of England. This movement will place the secessionists on precisely the same ground occupied by the Protestant Episcopal Church in this country. The seceders are said to comprise men of learning, much influence, and fervent piety, and they all leave the establishment on conscientious ground—opposition to a union of Church and State, and Puseyism in the Church being the principally assigned reason.

TO THE AFFLICTED.—MATRIMONIAL.—Kansas has become a formidable rival to Indiana, as the "land of refuge" to the unhappy matron. The divorce law is a wide open gate to single blessedness, and one judge has recently granted twenty-five petitions at one sitting. It requires only twenty days' residence. A gentleman living in Michigan was recently astonished to learn that his wife, while visiting a friend in Kansas, had obtained a divorce, and was passing herself off as a blooming "Miss" of sweet sixteen. Cold feet are sufficient ground for a divorce.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS will occur on Sunday this season. The festivities incident to the holidays will probably take place on the day following.

A WIDOW in Roslin, Canada, sixty-two years of age, died of voluntary starvation on the 27th of September. She lived thirty days without food under a superstitious belief that God required her to do so in order that she might be saved.
