1. Seven minutes are allowed to each intermediate office, when not otherwise specified, for assorting the mails; but on railroad and steamboat routes there is to be no more delay than is sufficient for an exchange of the mail bags.

2. On railroad and steamboat lines, and other routes where the mode of conveyance admits of it, the special agents of the Post Office Department, also post office blanks, mail bags, locks, and keys, are to be conveyed without extra charge.

3. On railroad and steamboat lines the route agents of the department are to be conveyed without charge, and for their exclusive use, while traveling with the mails, a commodious car, or apartment in the centre of a car, properly lighted, warmed and furnished, and adapted to the convenient separation and due security of the mails, is to be provided by the conductor, under the direction of the department. separation and due security of the mails, is to be provided by the conductor, under the direction of the department.

Railroad and steambeat companies are required to take the mail from and deliver it into the post offices at the commencement and coul of their routes, and to and from all offices not more than eighty rods from a station or landing. Proposals may be submitted for the performance of all other side service—that is, for offices over eighty rods from a station or landing.

Receipts will be required for mail bags rabusing clarics. There—" in charge of persons employed by railroad compa-nics. There will also be "way bills" prepared by postmasters, or other agents of the department, to accompany the mails, specifying the number and destination of the several bags. On the principal stage routes, likewise, receipts will be required and way bills forwarded; the latter to be examined by ie several postmusters, to insure regularity in the delivery of mail bags.

4. No pay will be made for trips not performed and for each of such omissions not satisfactorily ex plained three times the pay of the trip may be de-ducted. For arrivals so far behind time at to break connexion with depending mails, and not sufficient-ly excused, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subjected to foreiture. Deduction will also
