WHEREAS, George W. Brandt & Co., and their agents have given notice that SEIDLE, EBERLY & Co., are making and selling Grain Rakes, with Pratt's Cleatert patented, Juntary 8th, 1856, attached to them, and warning all persons against buying or using them under a penalty of $10,00. This is to notify all persons that the notice of George W. Brandt & Co., is wholly untrue in every particular; and to prove what we say, we have in quote the patent claimed by Randal Pratt, as found in Patent Office Report, of 1856, Vol. I. pags 329. It reads as follows: "Claum.—Hanging the prongs or cleaners F F, so that they can vibrate, and connecting them to the device which operate the teeth, so that they will vibrate in an opposite direction, simultaneously with the teeth, to clear them of the crop gathered, and press it together on the ground, as set 'so:th." This is the whole claim of Randal Pratt, and his patent covers nothing more. The combination is the only thing metantal. Any accounting the control of the combination is the only thing metantal. Any whole claim of Randal Pratt, in I his patent covers nothing more. The combination is the only thing patential. Any one examining our machine will instantly see there is no such combination. To avoid all difficulty and to allay all fears, we hereby agree to indemnify all and every person or persons who may purchase our fake against the penalty threatened; and that the firm, consisting of Friedmith Santter Edult, and John Bodh, is perfectly responsible, we take the liberty of referring persons to the following named gentleman: Hon. Hats and Caps. 1800, we have the best grounds for believing that it is the machine wanted by the Farmers of Pennsylvania, and all other agricultural States.

The advantages that we claim in this machine are theses! It has no side draft, nor is there any weight on the horses' necks, as the machine is perfectly balanced. It has also an Iron Cutter Bar. The Hake we claim is the best over invented; it has a revolving motion, and is composed of two separate rakes. It will lay the grain in sheaves of any size, by altering the Rakes, which can be done in few minutes) keep the butt ends of the sheaves perfectly straight, more so than it can be done by hand or any other Reaper in use.

The New Jorsey Reaper and Mower is no longer an experiment; it has been tested with the mest popular machines now before the public, and invariably sustained itself or proved more than a match for the best of them. We are at all times ready, and challenge any and every other machine in heavy tangled grass or grain.
