J. R. GIDDINGS. To the editor of the 'Ashtabula Sentinel.'

And now, fellow countrymen of every pe litical erced, we ask you to pause and consid er the consequences that must certainly follow the wide dissemination of such treasonable doctrines as those we have just quoted ; and especially so, since they are endorsed by the leading men of a large and influential party. How greatly at variance are such sontiments with those of our venerated Washington, as given in his Farewell Address : "One of the expedients of party to acquire influence, within particular districts, is to misrepresent the opinions and nims of other districts. You cannot shield yourselves too much against the jealousies and heartburnings, which spring from these misrepresentations. They tend to render alien to each other those who ought to be bound together by fraternal affection." Let us, then, as true patriots, band together ad most elegant assortment of NEW GOODS over be bound together by fraternal affection,"ost decisive and overwhelming manner." for the sake of driving back the focs of our glorious country (whether they be the Fanatics of the North, or the Extremists of the
