THE PENNSYLVANIA OIL TRADE .- The importance of the oil wells in the interior of our State, is probably not yet estimated. The yield of some of these springs is enormous.-At a well recently opened at Tideout, Erie county, the flow is said to be one barrel per minute. The oil is worth, at the lowest estimate, $14 per barrel, which would make the yield of this single well worth over $20,000 submit to the laws under which he lives, or per day. There are multitudes of these oily fountains now running, and the amount of internal resources of apy in the Union, and this new source of profit is adding much and late writer says that a wide, deep chest in all animals, is an indication of robust constitution, and is, no doubt, the point of slippe to which breeders should look when selecting either males or females. It is not enough that a bull or cow should show a wide, full breast in front, but the width should extend back along the brisket, and show itself just under and between the elbows. Fullness through the region of the heart is indispensable in eith-

A NEW STEAM PLOW .- At the St. Louis Agricultural Fair a steam plow was on exhibition The Democrat of the 28 ult. says of it:

This steam plow was made at Hunnibal. Mo., and has been brought thence to our great fair. It was built last spring, by Messrs. Stean & Roberts, upon which is claimed as a new principle, that of applying the locomo-tive power near the periphery of the wheels. Mr. Robert L. stean, the first above named, is the inventor, and has filed an application for a patent in the case. The machine weighs seven tons, and is twenty feet long by ten-wide, while the forward wheels are twenty in inches width. It is guaranteed to plow thirty acres of land in a day-and the sanguine managers believe it capable of plowing forty. The steam plow left Hannibal at 11 o'clock, a. m., Monday last, on a barge, rigged with paddles, which the steam wagon was made to movel This is a c rious combination, in which a barge carries a wagon, and the wagon propels the barge. The old hermaphro-craft excited much suspicious augaring among the boatmen on the river, despite which it arrived duly at 5 o'clock, Monday evening. The waga being at last eliminated from the barge,
