It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The freside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more entertaining friend, than Harper's Magazine. Methodist Protestant (Baltimore.) Twenty-five cents buys it—the chegiest, richest, and most lasting luxury for the hioriey first we know. Three dollars secures it for one year, and what three dollars secures it for one year, and now the substantial thing is obtained? If ideas, facts, and sentiments have a monetary value --above all, if the humor that refreshes, the pleas-antrics that bring a gentle smile, and brighton the passage of a truth to your brain, and the happy combination of the real and the imaginative, with-out which no one can live a life above the animal, are to be put into the scale opposite to dollars and cents, then you may be certain, that if Härper were three or four times as dear, it would amply repay its price.
